ANOTHER BANK DEAL CLOSED

Federal National Secures Control of the First National of Allegheny.

BANK IS AGGRESSIVE

By Its Latest Coup It Obtains a Clearing House Privilege of Value.

MAKE-UP OF TWO CONCERNS

Another important bank deal was closed yesterday, whereby the control of the First National bank of Allegheny passes to interests closely identified with the Federal National bank of Pittsburgh. The progress of negotiations was kept very quiet, but was yesterday hastened by the sharp advance which occurred in the stock of the First National of Allegheny. It had been nominally quoted around $150 a share, but this week a demand was suddenly developed, and yesterday the bidding carried the price up to $170, the highest ever quoted. This gave the cue to managers of several financial institutions that control of the bank was being sought, and there was a scurry among them to be first to get the refusal of the option.

It has been understood for some time that R. J. Stoney, Jr., vice president of

J. A. LANGFITT,
President of the Federal National Bank.

the First National of Allegheny, held options on a controlling interest in the stock; that the option price was $175 a share, and that one Allegheny institution and two Pittsburgh banks were anxious to acquire control.

Federal National Is Aggressive.

Mr. Stoney last night declined to affirm or deny the report that he had disposed of his option, but from another source it was learned that the deal had been closed and that the Federal National interests were the successful bidder.

The Federal National bank, which was only organized last year, has been very aggressive since it entered the local banking field, and has made affiliations with a large number of out-of-town banks and trust companies. At the time of its beginning business it was the only national bank in Pittsburgh with a capital of $2,000,000, outranking in this respect the Exchange National and the Bank of Pittsburgh, each with a capital of but $1,200,000. It has been extremely prosperous, and at the present time has surplus and profits approximating $575,000 and deposits aggregating $4,500,000. Its directory is composed of J. A. Langfitt, president; G. W. Eisenbeis, vice president and cashier; A. E. Succop, Edward Pitcairn, J. S. Craig, W. P. Potter, J. H. Jones, J. H. Price, J. Mulert, W. A. Roberts, O. J. Parker, F. R. Babcock, W. A. Dinker, R. D. McGonnigle and J. Murphy.

Clearing House Privilege Included.

It is understood that the primary object in acquiring control of the First National of Allegheny was for the purpose of having direct representation in the Pittsburgh Clearing House association. At the present time the Federal National clears through the Merchants and Manufacturers National bank.

The First National of Allegheny is one of the oldest banks in the county, having been organized as a national bank in 1864, and this year renewed its charter for the third 20-year period. It was among the first banks to become a member of the Pittsburgh Clearing house association, and is the only bank in Allegheny enjoying that privilege. The bank has a capital of $350,000, surplus and profits of about $140,000, and total deposits of $1,200,000. The directory is composed as follows: John Thompson, president; R. J. Stoney, Jr., vice president; W. D. Henry, Thomas G. McCutcheon, E. D. Gerwig, W. G. Lee, Fred Gwinner, Jr., and Reese C. Tannehill. E. R. Kramer is cashier.

Others Wanted the Bank.

Several attempts have been made within the past few months to obtain control of the bank by some of the newer institutions which are not members of the clearing house, but owing to the fact that the stock was widely scattered and held in small lots, it was a difficult matter to accomplish.

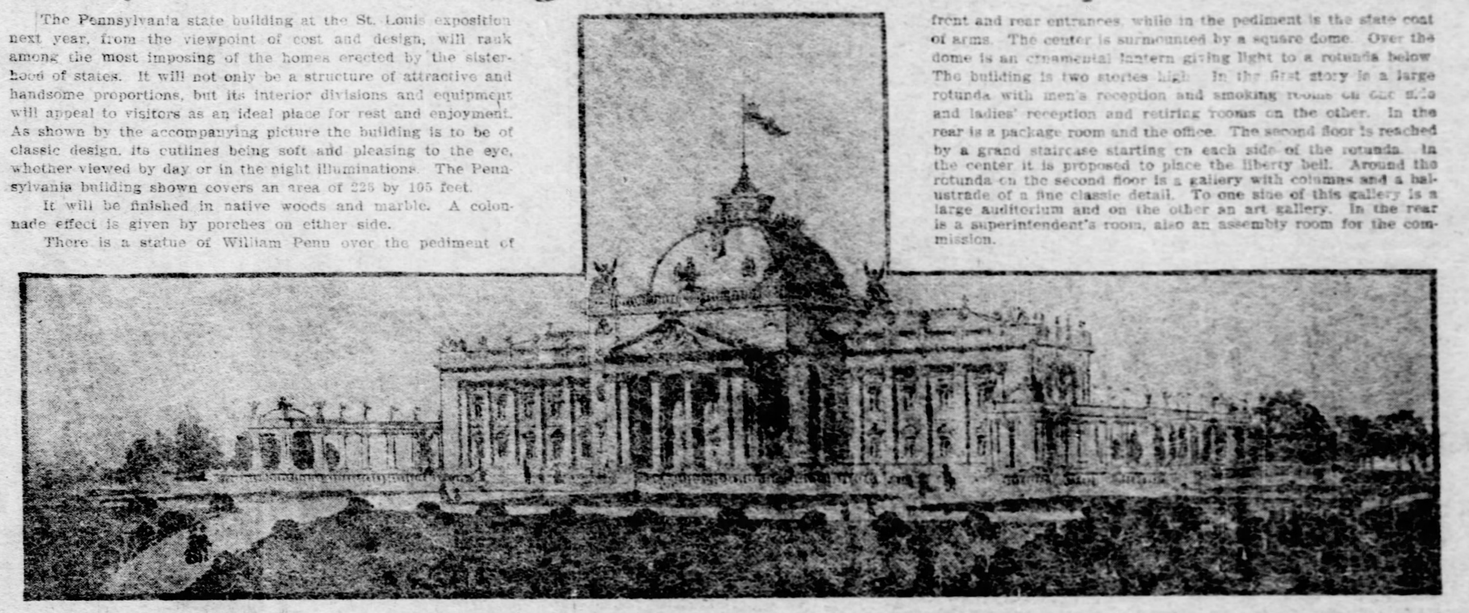
It has been current gossip in local financial circles for months past that the Federal National was not only seeking control of a clearing house member, but that it was negotiating for a large trust company and an active savings bank, which would enable it to cover the banking field in all its departments. As stated, it is affiliated with a chain of newly organized financial institutions, and this fact will render it the more valuable its acquisition of control of the First National of Allegheny.

Pennsylvania State Building at Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis

The Pennsylvania state building at the St. Louis exposition next year, from the viewpoint of cost and design, will rank among the most imposing of the homes erected by the sisterhood of states. It will not only be a structure of attractive and handsome proportions, but its interior divisions and equipment will appeal to visitors as an ideal place for rest and enjoyment. As shown by the accompanying picture the building is to be of classic design, its outlines being soft and pleasing to the eye, whether viewed by day or in the night illuminations. The Pennsylvania building shown covers an area of 225 by 105 feet.

It will be finished in native woods and marble. A colonnade effect is given by porches on either side.

There is a statue of William Penn over the pediment of front and rear entrances, while in the pediment is the state coat of arms. The center is surmounted by a square dome. Over the dome is an ornamental lantern giving light to a rotunda below. The building is two stories high. In the first story is a large rotunda with men's reception and smoking rooms on one side and ladies' reception and retiring rooms on the other. In the rear is a package room and the office. The second floor is reached by a grand staircase starting on each side of the rotunda. In the center it is proposed to place the liberty bell. Around the rotunda on the second floor is a gallery with columns and a balustrade of a fine classic detail. To one side of this gallery is a large auditorium and on the other an art gallery. In the rear is a superintendent's room, also an assembly room for the commission.



JETT-WHITE JURY IS SENT TO SLEEP ON THE VERDICT

Unable to Agree, the Men Who Hold the Fate of the Feudists Will Continue Their Deliberation This Morning.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jackson, Ky., June 18.—The jury in the murder trial of Tom White and Curtis Jett could not reach a verdict tonight and were sent to the Arlington hotel under a heavy guard to sleep on their verdict till tomorrow. Judge Redwine says he will keep the jury till Saturday, unless they should reach a verdict before that time. It is feared the jury is hung and that no verdict will be reached.

When Commonwealth's Attorney Byrd arose to address the jury in the prosecution of the case this afternoon, there was the largest crowd ever assembled in the court room.

The prosecutor had been guarded at his hotel last night, for it had come to Major Allen that he might be put out of the way. He did not want a guard, but Major Allen declared it was his duty to furnish him a guard, and insisted upon him having one.

Tonight he has a stronger guard, for he left no direct spots untouched on the sides of Hargis and Callahan and their witnesses.

Byrd pictured to the jury the reign of lawlessness, a town where no man would act as coroner although there were scores of violent deaths, a town where no man would serve as town marshal and where the people feared to venture on the streets after dark. That the darkest hour of the county was at hand and that the jury's verdict meant either a continuance of bloodshed or a turn for the better.

"I want to say to you, gentlemen," said Mr. Byrd, "that I believe the evidence warrants the conviction of these defendants, and I am not afraid of their ghosts or hobgoblins and I am not afraid of any threats, because I believe the men are guilty, and at any time I am ready to face my Maker with these words on my lips: 'Curt Jett, Tom White, you are guilty of murdering James B. Marcum.'"

Referring to Hargis, Mr. Byrd said: "French tells you that Jim Hargis is the defendant in this case and that Curt Jett was indicted because he was the nephew of Hargis and a bad boy. I want to say to you that Curt Jett was indicted because 12 men believed him guilty, and by French's own statement this fact became apparent, that if Curt Jett here was not the nephew of Jim Hargis, James B. Marcum would still be alive.

"I did not bring Hargis into the case. They did it themselves, and they must be responsible. If I had offered to the jury such a set of witnesses as the defense," said Mr. Byrd, "I would not ask you or expect you to believe anything they told without seeing it yourselves."

Continuing he said: "They tell you that Jim Hargis guaranteed protection to B. J. Ewen or any one who knew the murderer of J. B. Marcum and would tell it. This same protection was guaranteed J. B. Marcum before he was murdered. It is the kind of protection that resulted in the death of Marcum. It was the protection of the high sheriff who was too cowardly to search the court house after Marcum was shot, the protection of the county judge, who was too cowardly to assist in the search of the court house, who ordered B. J. Ewen, a deputy, to search the building after they had given the murderer time to escape.

"Ewen knew he could not find the murderer in the court house. He knew the assassin was walking at large on the streets. He had seen Jett face to face. Jett believed Ewen was afraid to tell of the murder, believed that the man who told would met Marcum's fate. See him there after the shot was fired, standing audaciously on the street, smoking a cigarette while his victim was writhing in the last agonies of death at the court house door."

The members of the Hargis faction were jubilant tonight over unofficial reports from the jury room that 10 of the jurors were firmly for acquittal and that the other two would be induced to join them tomorrow. It is mentioned that all the men brought in for the panel from which the jurors were selected were brought in by deputies or elisors who are connected with the dominant faction, and that they can be depended on for the result that is now anticipated.

Attorney Byrd also today refused to accept the finding of the grand jury in connection with the burning of Ewen's hotel or the shooting of a boy named Turner. He refused to allow the men to be dismissed and witnesses were again examined this afternoon.

Men who were before the grand jury in the cases of the men accused of burning Ewen's hotel say that the form of interrogation was this: "Do you know anything about the burning of Ewen's hotel?" "Yes." "Well, do you know of any illicit whisky selling?" "No." "That will do; you may go."

This is typical of the entire hearing, and before other witnesses could be summoned the jury recommended the dismissal of the suspects.

NEW KING IS PREPARING TO TAKE SERVIAN THRONE

Peter I. Will Leave Geneva Next Monday for Belgrade. Addresses Soldiers.

GENEVA, June 18.—King Peter attended a solemn Te Deum at the Russian chapel today. The Russian consul general and many Russians and Servians were present. The archpriest received the king at the entrance to the church and sprinkled him with holy water. The king then kissed the cross and the archpriest prayed for the prosperity of Servia. King Peter then received the penetential benediction.

King Peter's departure for Belgrade has been definitely fixed for next Monday evening. He will travel direct without stopping at Vienna, and will arrive in Belgrade on Wednesday.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 18.—An official note was published in the Gazette today recognizing Prince Peter Karageorgevitch as king of Servia and welcoming his ascension. In brief, the note declares that it is incumbent upon King Peter to avenge the assassinations of King Alexander and Queen Draga and expresses the conviction that he will know how to severely punish the regicides, whose misdeeds should not be visited on the entire Servian nation or army. The note adds that it would be dangerous to the tranquility of Servia to leave the crime unpunished.

FLINT GLASS BOTTLE PLANS FOR UNION

Fifty Concerns, Including Six in Pittsburgh, to Be Consolidated.

NOT CONFIRMED HERE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 18.

Fifty of the largest flint glass bottle plants of Indiana and Pennsylvania, including six plants in Pittsburgh, will shortly be optioned by Wall street capitalists with a view of consolidating them. One of the leading manufacturers of Pittsburgh was called here today in consultation with the New Yorkers, and it is said tonight the outlook is encouraging. The corporation will have a capitalization of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 and will manufacture only in the prescription and finer lines.

An effort to consolidate the flint bottle plants was begun just previous to the outbreak of the Spanish-American war and it would have been carried through, but for the bad tendency of the market. About 25 manufacturers were called together in New York at the time. After the war was well started an agent was sent to England to arrange for the underwriting of bonds, but the English brokers wanted too large a margin. Since then the cut-throat policy of a dozen or more plants and the advantage of Indiana factories over those of the east and the Pittsburgh district, on account of the gas supply, prohibited the completion of the plans.

The failure of Indiana gas, however, it is said, will bring many of the independents to their knees and make possible the proposed combination. The American Flint Glass Manufacturers' association favors the consolidation, which is looked upon as a hopeful sign.

The 50 plants to be included are valued at $50,000 each. Among them are the J. T. & A. Hamilton plants of Pittsburgh, possibly the Flaccus factories and the Saltsburg bottle works.

C. P. GRENEKER.

C. L. Flaccus, head of the Flaccus glass interests, said last evening that he had no knowledge of an attempt being made to form such a combination.

J. T. Hamilton, president of J. T. & A. Hamilton, also denied that such a plan had been started.

DIFFERENT STORIES BY MAGNATES

President Ramsey Affirms the Wabash-Pennsylvania Reconciliation—President Cassatt Says the Idea Is Absurd.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 18.—Several financiers today again announced that negotiations looking to a reconciliation of the Gould and Pennsylvania interests are under way. It is said this truce will in no way affect the status of the Wabash.

WHAT PRESIDENT RAMSEY SAYS ABOUT THE TRUCE

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—(Special.)—President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash, was interviewed this evening in relation to the controversy now existing in financial circles over the reputed settlement of the differences existing between the Pennsylvania and Gould interests. He said that notwithstanding denials made by some interests, there were absolutely no differences existing between the two companies. When asked about a proposed meeting with the Pennsylvania railroad he said:

"I know of no meeting called for the purpose stated. If such a meeting was held or is contemplated it was arranged for since I left New York. As to the reported differences between the Wabash and the Pennsylvania railroad, there are none. All crossing difficulties between the two railroads have been settled and the entrance into Pittsburgh of the Wabash has been provided for."

MR. CASSATT ANNOUNCES IDEA AS BEING ABSURD

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(Special.)—President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania system today authorized an emphatic denial of the story that a change had taken place in the Pennsylvania-Wabash relations. He said:

"The report that an understanding has been reached whereby the Wabash trains and business will pass east over the Pennsylvania tracks to New York or tidewater is too absurd to merit serious consideration. No such arrangement has been made, and the prediction that an announcement to that effect will be made within a short time can be dismissed. There has been no change in the situation."

According to the published report a reconciliation had been brought about by influential financiers. The outcome, so the story ran, was that President Cassatt had consented to stop fighting Gould and not only that, but to enter into a traffic agreement with him, whereby the Wabash system would have an outlet to the Atlantic seaboard by way of the Pennsylvania lines.

DRESSER'S ACTION WILL BE SUBJECTED TO CLOSE SCRUTINY

His Financiering of the United States Shipbuilding Company Is Likely to Result in Criminal Prosecutions Being Brought.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 18.

Definite figures as to the extent of D. LeRoy Dresser's manipulation of the paper of the United States Shipbuilding Company and the credit of the Trust Company of the Republic, of which he was the head, may be made public tomorrow. The stockholders and former officers of the Trust Company of the Republic will meet tomorrow morning to learn what Stuyvesant Fish, George C. Boldt and Winthrop Scarritt, who have been investigating the affairs of the trust company, with the aid of expert accountants have discovered. One of the three investigators, who has personally paid out $200,000, it was stated tonight, had told the others that he would vote in favor of the most rigorous treatment of Mr. Dresser henceforth.

There was a report tonight that Mr. Dresser might leave his retreat in the Adirondacks and come to this city to face the men who have been denouncing his financial methods. But whether he returns or not the members of the investigating committee who were in session with their counsel, James B. Dill, at his office in Pine street, said the revelations would be startling.

One of the men who had been working with Mr. Dresser was said to have offered to turn state's evidence if prosecution of a criminal character were instituted after the revelations of the preliminary investigation are comprehended.

Could Control Situation.

If the stockholders should decide tomorrow to give their adhesion to the plans of the Sheldon reorganization committee, their holdings, added to those directly controlled by Mr. Schwab and his intimate friends, would possibly give the reorganization committee a clear majority of the outstanding bonds. It is known that efforts are being made to stop the plans of the first mortgage bondholders represented by Samuel Untermyer and Henry Wollman of this city and Richard V. Lindabury of Newark to force a receiver upon the shipbuilding company.

The prominence of the Bethlehem Steel Company in the United States Shipbuilding Company's affairs recalls the wonderful financiering by which in three years the capitalization of the plant was increased from $6,351,000 in 1900 to $28,851,000, of which $18,851,000 is represented by bonds secured by the steel plant and $20,000,000 by stock issued by the United States Shipbuilding Company. In 1899 the Bethlehem Iron Works had a capital of $5,000,000. During that year the stockholders received a stock dividend of 50 per cent, thus increasing the capital to $7,500,000. The capitalization then stood at $8,851,000 and the fixed charges were only $87,550.

Steel Company Organized.

The second step of expansion was the organization of the Bethlehem Steel Company, capital stock of $15,000,000. The iron shareholders were given the privilege of subscribing to the new stock at the rate of two for one, upon payment of $1 per share on new stock. The sum of $300,000 was thus paid into the treasury. The company leased the Bethlehem Iron Company plant and guaranteed dividends of six per cent upon the iron stocks. The steel company proceeded to pay dividends of $2 per year upon its 300,000 shares on which only $1 had been paid in, making the annual disbursements $317,550 as charges and $600,000 as dividends.

Then was the condition of affairs when Charles M. Schwab appeared. He bought the steel shares for $7,200,000. Consequently the holders of the $7,500,000 of iron guaranteed stock were induced to exchange it for a like amount of Bethlehem steel six per cent bonds.

The title of the plant was then vested in the Bethlehem Steel Company subject to two mortgages, one to secure an issue of $7,351,000 of five per cent Bethlehem iron bonds and a second to secure an issue of $7,000,000 of six per cent Bethlehem steel bonds, and Mr. Schwab paid $7,000,000 for the property, subject to these liens and with an annual fixed charge of $317,550 ahead of any claims for dividends.

Another Bond Issue.

The purpose of the steel company in taking title soon became evident, as it at once placed a mortgage on the property to secure an additional issue of $10,000,000 of five per cent bonds, which bonds were given to Mr. Schwab in exchange for his Bethlehem steel stock, which he turned over to the United States Shipbuilding Company, and in addition the shipbuilding company gave him $10,000,000 of its preferred stock and $10,000,000 of its common stock, a total of $30,000,000 of stocks and bonds par value for the Bethlehem steel stock for which Mr. Schwab paid $7,200,000 cash.

SCHWAB WOULD LOSE IN SHIPBUILDING DEAL

$30,000,000 of Stock and Bonds Paid Him Estimated to Be Worth Only $2,700,000

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—There was to have been a meeting of the stockholders of the Bethlehem Steel Company today, but no stockholders appeared. A. E. Borie of Bethlehem, the vice president, sat at the head of the board table, and the general manager was the only other person in the room. Along about noon H. F. Snyder, the secretary, walked into the office and no one else showed up. No attempt was made to transact business.

In the present upheaval of the United States Shipbuilding Company, of which the Bethlehem Steel Company is a part, the outcome of the meeting was no surprise. Charles M. Schwab, the former owner of the latter concern, will probably take it off the shipbuilding company's hands in a few days, and so it was useless to elect new officers.

When Joseph Wharton, Beauveau Borie and others formed the Bethlehem Steel Company four years ago its paid up capital stock was only $300,000, and the bonds all told were $8,851,000. Mr. Schwab took over these bonds dollar for dollar and also paid exactly $7,200,000 in cash for the $300,000 cash which the Philadelphians had put in. Then Lewis Nixon, president of the shipbuilding company, thought that Mr. Schwab had made such a clever bargain that he gave him exactly $30,000,000 for it. That means that Mr. Nixon valued the $300,000 cash paid in at precisely 100 times that amount, and at that figure Bethlehem steel was dumped into the United States Shipbuilding concern.

As Mr. Schwab got his $30,000,000 not in money, but in bonds and so-called "full paid" stock of the shipbuilding company, he now thinks he didn't profit by the transaction. The five per cent bonds dropped this week from 90 to 25 cents on the dollar. Bids of only $1 a share for the common and preferred stock were made this week. That divides the face value of Mr. Schwab's $20,000,000 of stock by just 100, making it only $300,000. His $10,000,000 of bonds at the low figures are worth only $2,500,000. That puts the total "bid" value upon the $30,000,000 of collateral which Mr. Nixon's concern gave him at only $2,700,000. As Schwab had actually paid $7,200,000 for the property it is little wonder that he offers to return all the stocks and bonds to get back the steel company.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

MRS. THAW SENDS CHECK.

Aids Wooster College in Raising Debt and Retaining President Holden.

CLEVELAND, June 18.—(Special.)—Pittsburgh was represented at several of the commencements of Ohio colleges today. At the exercises of Mt. Union college in Alliance the Rev. C. W. Smith of Pittsburgh delivered the memorial address at the unveiling of the portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Aultman, who left large legacies to the school. An honorary degree was conferred upon the Rev. R. S. Ross of Pittsburgh.

At Wooster it was announced today that Mrs. William Thaw of Pittsburgh had telegraphed her check for $500 to go toward payment of the debt. Dr. Holden consented to remain as president only on the condition that the debt be cleared, and it was stated today that the amount would soon be raised.

Among the graduates there today was Miss Edith Olive Fitch, who was given the degree of bachelor of philosophy.

WOMAN'S NAME IS DRAGGED IN

Wife of Former Toledo Postmaster Involved in Postal Frauds.

MORE INDICTMENTS

Further Investigation Unearths More Charges Against A. W. Machen and the Groffs.

WILL QUESTION M'KINLEY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.

President Roosevelt's blanket order that the investigation of the postal scandals be pursued to the bitter end is bearing further fruit. Hitherto the charges of irregularities, arrests and indictments have been based upon the results of investigation in Washington, New York and Brooklyn. The scope has now extended to the postoffices in Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Kansas City and New Orleans. Postoffice inspectors from all these cities were in conference until late tonight at the Ebbe House with Chief Inspector Cochran, who returned from Brooklyn last night where he appeared before the federal grand jury.

An inspector from the postoffice department has been sent to Abner McKinley at Somerset, Pa., to secure testimony in the general investigation.

"The postal investigation will continue at least another six weeks and at present the end is not yet in sight," was the very significant statement made to The Gazette this evening by Inspector Cochran. A room at the Ebbe House has been reserved for the conference.

The federal grand jury probably will bring in five indictments against persons involved. Although every effort has been made to keep the public in ignorance of the action to be taken until the papers were ready for presentation by the grand jury, it is learned on unquestioned authority that the jury has voted to return indictments against August W. Machen, Oller B. Groff, Samuel A. Groff, George E. Lorenz and Mrs. Lorenz, the two latter being residents of Toledo, O. The specific charge, it is understood, will be conspiracy to defraud the government.

The Woman in the Case.

The fact that new indictments will be returned against Machen and the Groff brothers has been talked of for some time around the court house, but it was not expected that action would be taken so soon. The sensational feature of today's probable proceedings is the connection of Mrs. Lorenz's name with the transactions which led to the arrest of Machen and the Groffs. At the time of the arrests stories were in circulation that there was a go-between, but the information at hand then was not conclusive enough to establish the identity of this particular party. Whether or not Mrs. Lorenz acted in this capacity is not known, but it has been suggested that this go-between was a woman.

The postmaster-general today designated Edward F. Kimball, the chief clerk of the money order system, to act temporarily as superintendent to succeed James T. Metcalf, who was removed yesterday on the charge of indiscretion in contract matters.

Postmaster-General Payne received the following letter from Mr. Metcalf asking a suspension of the order of dismissal until his complete defense may be heard:

Pleads for Clemency.

Justice to myself, my family and my friends require that I should appeal to the postmaster general to recall the order of summary dismissal and accord me an opportunity to show that in this matter, as in all others, I was consulting only the best interests of the postoffice money order service in whatever I did concerning the Bermuda bill, and not my own self interest, and with no thought of myself or my family, as is made to appear in the charge against me.

The suspension of your order is respectfully asked until such time as you may hear from me.

The postoffice department has resumed the establishment of rural free delivery routes which were held up on account of the deficit in the appropriation for that service and a large number of routes will be put into operation on July 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

Charges against Charles Hodges, superintendent of the city delivery service of the postoffice department, alleging that he has pressed claims before congress, solicited employes in the service to take stock in a mining company, and other allegations, are under investigation by the inspectors of the postoffice department.

The charge relating to the sale of stock refers to an old mining company of which Mr. Hodges is stated to be president. The charge is that stock of this company was sold to postmasters while Hodges was in charge of the entire city branch of the free delivery system, and that stock of the company was given to private secretaries of representatives in congress.

DE ROUSSE WAS FOUND IN THE MONUMENTAL CITY

CAMDEN, N. J., June 18.—(Special.)—Louis T. De Rousse, the absconding postmaster, has been found in Baltimore. It is thought his mind is affected. The postoffice inspectors have found a shortage of $2,000 so far and still have 13 postoffices to examine. It is said De Rousse has been leading a double life. No arrest has as yet been issued for his arrest.

EIGHT COUNCILMEN CHARGED WITH BRIBERY

SCRANTON, PA., June 18.—A special committee was appointed tonight by the select council to investigate an allegation that eight members of the body had banded together to hold up the Lehigh Street Railway Company for $400 a piece. At the last meeting of councils the ordinance granting the company a franchise was to come up for passage, but the quorum was broken by opponents of the measure.

COURT'S ORDER TO BE DISREGARDED

Government Directs Work on Gunboat to Proceed Despite Injunction.

KNOX ADVISES THE ACTION

Holds Opinion That No Court Has Right to Interfere With Work on War Vessel. Would Be Justified in Using United States Troops.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

RICHMOND, VA., June 18.—Judge Grinnan, of the Richmond chancery court, today granted an injunction restraining Lieuts. Theiss and Groesdeck, United States navy, from proceeding further towards the launching of the cruiser Galveston, under construction in the Trigg shipyards here.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Secretary Moody was informed tonight of the action of the court restraining the government from further work on the Galveston, but declined to talk on the subject until after the conferences to be held with the president and Attorney General Knox. The latter also was unwilling to be quoted until his opinion rendered to the president as to the jurisdiction of the government over the Galveston has been made public. It can be stated, however, that the attorney general regards as well taken the contention of Rear Admiral Bowles, that no court has the right to interfere with work on a war vessel and that the government would be warranted in calling federal troops to protect its agents engaged in such work.

The government has no objection to the creditors of the Trigg Company proceeding in the courts to protect their rights, but it takes the position that work on a warship is too important to be delayed while private firms are adjusting their financial difficulties.

The plan of action as decided on is practically unique in the history of the navy department. It was decided on only after the president, the attorney general and the secretary of the navy had given the subject their careful consideration.

It is not expected that the people of Virginia will regard the action of the navy department as in the slightest degree reflecting on the sovereign rights of that state. The department feels that it has acted with unusual leniency toward the Trigg Company and regrets that financial embarrassments of the company should have necessitated seizure of the vessel.

When the Galveston is launched a gunboat will probably be sent to accompany her to Norfolk. It is not expected that the department will have to resort to a show of naval or military force to execute its orders.

TWELFTH LOCKJAW VICTIM

South Side Boy Died of Toy Pistol Wound Received May 30—Coroner's Cases.

John Scheefer, 12 years old of No. 2515 Larkins alley, South Side, died at his home yesterday from lockjaw. The boy was injured while shooting a toy pistol on Decoration day. This makes the twelfth victim from lockjaw since May 30.

The body of Andrew Simms, 42 years old, of Highland station, who fell off a barge Sunday at Brown's station, was found floating in the Monongahela river near that place yesterday.

Lawrence E. Bartlett, aged 17 years, was almost instantly killed yesterday by the breaking of a bell-shaft at the Pittsburgh Locomotive works on Beaver avenue, Allegheny. He lived at No. 1421 Herron avenue.

Eva Collet, a widow, of No. 122 East Lacock street, Allegheny, dropped dead yesterday evening from heart-failure.

John Cashen, 26 years old and single, of No. 43 Thirteenth street, died of pneumonia in her home yesterday. He was single and a laborer and came here from New York, where he has a sister, Mrs. Sarah Thompson.

PITTSBURGH ALIBI EXONERATES A SUSPECT

NEW YORK, June 18.—(Special.)—Charles Wolff of 802 Lexington avenue, who was arraigned in the Yorkville police court on a charge of larceny brought by Mrs. Ellen Kelly, has been discharged fully exonerated. Mrs. Kelly said that $3,000 had been stolen from her, but at a full hearing before Magistrate Barlow it was shown that Wolff was in Pittsburgh at the time of the alleged larceny.

Hunting for Heirs to an Estate.

Mayor Hays yesterday received a letter from Wilfred Powell, British consul at Philadelphia, asking for his assistance in discovering the whereabouts or Rosanna Lafferty, wife of John Lafferty and Mrs. Jane Ward. The two women are heirs to part of an estate in England which it is desired to settle. They formerly lived in Philadelphia and it is thought moved to this city.

Sale of $75,000 Homestead Property.

The final papers were executed yesterday whereby the Skelly Drygoods Company of Homestead purchased from Messrs. McClure and Swartz, the property fronting on Eighth avenue, Homestead, a distance of 50 feet and extending back a distance of 110 feet to Seventh avenue, for $75,000. The site is one of the most valuable in the steel town and is occupied by the department store of the Skelly Drygoods Company.

After Site for Steel Plant.

Options have been secured on 200 acres of a manufacturing site at Highland station opposite Homestead by persons desiring it for manufacturing purposes in the steel line. The prices range from $1,000 to $1,250 per acre. It is said the property is wanted by a party of Pittsburgh capitalists who propose to erect a large mill at this point as soon as the purchases can be made.

UNIQUE GOLD EXHIBIT AT THE HOTEL SCHENLEY

L. M. Thomas of Chattanooga Shows Quartz Specimens of Much Value.

The interest of local business men has been greatly excited by the news that Mr. L. M. Thomas, a widely-known lawyer of Chattanooga, Tenn., was in the city with a wonderful collection of gold quartz specimens. Rumors of this collection have been rife for some time and as soon as Mr. Thomas brought his samples to Pittsburgh he was a leading subject of discussion among prominent persons at whose personal invitation he has come to town.

Upon examination the specimens proved even more wonderful than had been first reported and the committee lost no time in securing the green reception room of the Hotel Schenley for a more general exhibition.

Invitation cards are being sent to leading residents in such numbers as to insure comfortable inspection without undue crowding.

Mr. A. O. Betcher, conspicuous in Pittsburgh business circles, was outspoken in admiration of the collection, that surpassed to his actual knowledge the national collection at Washington and all other collections of a public or private nature. An interesting story of Arbacoochee lies behind it all.

A movement is taking shape to purchase and donate the entire display to the national capital collection. Meanwhile, pending decision upon this point, it will remain for some days at the Hotel Schenley and will doubtless prove a fruitful one for comment and curiosity.

MYSTERY IN SCOTT TOWNSHIP LOOKED INTO

County Detective Robinson Takes Up the Emma Smith Case.

County Detective Robert G. Robinson yesterday made a partial investigation of the assault that was committed on Emma Smith, 19 years old, of Scott township, early Wednesday morning, and found the necessary evidence to sustain the story told by the girl. Detective Robinson will make further investigation in the matter. District Attorney John C. Haymaker said last night that the case was a bad one and he intended to hunt down the girl's assailants and prosecute them.

It was learned at the jail yesterday that John Herron and Thomas Boyle, who were arrested in connection with the assault, are electricians employed in the mines in Scott township. These men called on the girl at the home of her sister Tuesday night, and were there until 11 o'clock. When the girl's condition was discovered, about 4 o'clock the next morning, the neighbors were aroused, and suspicion was at once fastened on Herron and Boyle. Later in the day, so it is said, the people showed a disposition to lynch the two men, and it was then that Supt. William Price of the mine where they were employed made information against them as suspicious persons and had them committed to jail in order to prevent any violence being committed.

Both men deny that they were implicated in the affair, but refuse to talk about it further.

WEBSTER COAL COMPANY SETTLES WITH MINERS

Arbitrators Speedily Adjust the Differences and Strike Is Averted.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALTOONA, PA., June 18.—The trouble between the Webster Coal and Coke Company and its men, which foreshadowed a strike of 10,000 miners, has been settled amicably. The arbitrators, James Kerr for the company, and William B. Wilson, national secretary-treasurer, for the miners, at Cresson, today, speedily adjusted the differences.

The machine cutters were being paid only $2.68 a day. They were granted the scale price of $3 and $3.20, scrapers receiving a relative increase. The company will allow a checkweighman on the tipple at Bens Creek, where the last was summarily ejected for overstepping his authority. The strikers at the Bens Creek operations are to return to work at once.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 18.—The miners and operators' representatives on the board of conciliation will meet in this city for organization on Thursday next. This statement was given out today after a conference between the parties interested.

'TWAS ONLY A JOKE.

New York Wag Advertises Free Hay and Causes Trouble for Policemen.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(Special.)—Some jocose person sought amusement at the expense of the park department by advertising in the newspapers last Tuesday that newly mown hay would be given away in Central park to anyone who called for it. It was said in explanation that the grass cut in the park was so abundant that the park authorities did not know what to do with it.

A farmer drove up to the arsenal this morning with a two-horse wagon on which was a wide hayrick and said to the policeman:

"Say, constable, where be thet hay my folks seen about in the papers thet yourns want to get rid on? I don't keer if I tek a ton or two on it, an I will haul it out to hum."

"I guess you made a mistake, mister. There is no free hay here," replied the policeman.

"Well I guess not. My folks seen it in print. Who-sa thar, ye durn critter. Call one of the farm hands, constable. It ain't likely ye know much about hay. Fodder is kind of skeerce out my way 'cos of the dry spell, and I am tarnashun glad my folks has such an all-fired good crop thet ye kin give it away."

The farmer went on. Of course he didn't get any hay.

STRIKE AT ROLLING MILL.

Employes at North Irwin Have Dispute Over the Date of Pay-Day.

IRWIN, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—There is a strike at the Eleanor Iron & Steel Company rolling mill in North Irwin over the date of a pay day. The concern has four three-week pay days during the year, and according to the men the end of the three weeks is on Saturday. The company claims, however, that the end of this pay is a week later. This afternoon representatives of the men made a demand that they be paid Saturday. This was refused and they quit work.

President John Robenstein of Pittsburgh was here this evening and gave the men an ultimatum. He said that the fires would be lighted tomorrow morning as usual and if the men did not go to work they would not be taken back. He also made the statement that if the men remained out the mill would not again be run as an Amalgamated concern. About 180 men are affected.

EDUCATED MAN'S CHANCE

Graduates Told "Trusts" Give Them the Golden Opportunity.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., June 18.—(Special.)—In his address to the graduating class at the University of Michigan today, United States Senator Quarles made the "trust" question his theme. To 1,898 graduates he explained the combination of capital and said whatever may be the ultimate influence of trusts on society, consolidation is making every department of business more complicated, and its superintendence more difficult.

"Brains never before," he said, "commanded such a high premium and the educated man never had so many avenues open to him. The educated man, he predicted, will become not only independent but indispensable.

TO DEVELOP OIL WELL ON SURFACE OF FARM

MARIETTA, O., June 18.—(Special.)—The Purity Oil Company was organized at Mari., this county, today, with Peter Smithenburger, president. The object of the company is to develop the oil on the farm of the president of the company. For some time it has been known that oil ran from the ground on the Smithenburger farm and the owner arranged a trough to carry the oil from the "spring" to a barrel. The oil was found to be of great value for lubricating purposes. The new company proposes to make excavations in order to get as close as possible to the strata from which the fluid is produced.

Young Man Sent to the Workhouse.

Magistrate Samuel Abernathy of Allegheny yesterday sent Joseph Garbarino, aged 21 years, to the workhouse for 90 days. The young man is said to be the leader of a gang of boys that have been stealing brass from scrap piles in the Fourth ward. Frank Gray, Albert Sletz, Daniel Mullen, Adam Durrymoaz and James Rhodes, companions of Garbarino, were placed in charge of the newly appointed probation officer, Mrs. Alice Montgomery, and will be looked after by her until the next sitting of the juvenile court.

Woman Probably Doing the Stealing.

A silk dress, a new hat and several fancy covers were stolen from the residence of Thomas Wetherson on Penn avenue, Turtle Creek. Several thefts have been committed in that section by women.

BLIND STUDENTS GAVE INTERESTING CONCERT

Renditions at the Western Pennsylvania Institution Were Enjoyed.

The thirteenth annual concert of the Western Pennsylvania Institute for the Blind, at Bellefield Avenue and Bayard street was given by the pupils of that school last night. A program of twenty numbers was rendered to the delight of the large audience which crowded the chapel of the school. John H. Dolan rendered a Bache composition on the organ in a finished manner. Miss Ethel B. Crooks and S. Eva Kephart rendered several numbers on the organ and piano. Recitations were given by Thomas Patsky, John Horner and Wesley C. Stevens. These little tots, only six years old, blessed the crowd with numerous recitations. Others who took part in the concert were Mary Hays, piano solo; Harry L. Barrows, organ solo; Margaret McGuirk and Iva Beighley, piano duet.

Prof. G. R. Broadberry has charge of the vocal and organ departments of the institution and the program was rendered under his direction. Dr. J. G. Brown, president of the board of directors, presented prizes to John H. Dolan and Bertha Johnson. Mr. Dolan stood highest in his class in work and Miss Johnson was second for class work and first in script writing. The prizes were the poems of Browning and Tennyson in raised letters. About 70 pupils of the school took part in the choruses, which were good.

The school orchestra rendered several numbers under the leadership of Prof. John Gernert. Dr. Brown, Colonel J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president, and Superintendent A. B. Jacobs occupied the platform with the students. After the exercises exhibits of the work of the pupils in beading and sewing were shown. This closes the school year and the pupils will leave for their homes today. No graduations will take place until June, 1905.

BIG PARADE AT LISBON.

Senator Hanna and Gen. McCook Conspicuous at Centennial Celebration.

LISBON, O., June 18.—(Special.)—The big military parade, one of the main features of today's centennial exercises, was undoubtedly the most imposing spectacle of the kind ever witnessed in the county. Forming on North and South Beaver streets, the procession moved west on Walnut street, headed by Capt. William M. Hostetter, chief marshal, and his aids. Following came the Grand Army band of Canton, and Gen. A. C. Yengling, department commander of the Ohio Grand Army of the Republic, and staff, and carriages containing Senator Hanna and Gen. Anson G. McCook, and a number of the Grand Army of the Republic posts.

Senator Hanna, Gen. McCook and others in carriage were kept constantly bowing greetings to the throngs that lined the streets.

About 1,500 took dinner at the tent where the bean bake and campfire were held. Hard tack and coffee were served by the Women's Relief Corps. The crowd of visitors in the city today is estimated at 20,000.

Several notorious crooks were picked up here by the officers last night. Mrs. Abigal Sprague, mother-in-law of the Hon. R. W. Taylor, is reported to have had her pocket picked of a gold watch in Curio hall.

The centennial closed tonight with a musical program by local talent in the big tent, led by Mrs. Minnie Duck, instructor in music in the Lisbon schools.

Gen. McCook, who was also born and brought up in Lisbon, spoke of Senator Hanna as his schoolboy playmate, and said that notwithstanding the recent action of the Ohio Republican convention, he believed many of his fellow citizens thought him a fitting successor to the lamented McKinley. This utterance was wildly cheered.

HUNTING FOR ADVICE

Councilmanic Committee Is Looking Up Question of Delinquent Tax Collector.

The special committee of councils appointed to ascertain whether the office of delinquent tax collector in Pittsburgh can be legally changed from one of commission to one of salary, will make its report to councils Monday. The report will in all probability be against the change. D. E. Crawford, chairman of the committee, stated last night that there is a division of opinion among the legal authorities who have been asked regarding the change.

The special committee, which consists of Mr. Crawford, Hugh Ferguson and Joseph Zenger, together with W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the finance committee of councils, called on Controller John P. Larkin and asked his opinion in the matter. In the opinion of the controller an act of assembly cannot be repealed by a city ordinance, and the method of compensation of the delinquent tax collector cannot be changed.

The provision for compensation of the delinquent tax collector under the new charter reads: "The head of this (delinquent taxes) department shall receive such compensation, either by a stated salary or by fees, as may be fixed by councils."

DICK AGAIN CHAIRMAN.

Ohio Republican State Executive Committee Composed Largely of Hanna Men.

COLUMBUS, O., June 18.—(Special.)—The Republican state central committee here today unanimously re-elected the Hon. Charles Dick of Akron chairman of the executive committee, to conduct the coming campaign. John R. Malloy and William F. Burdell of Columbus were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. The executive committee, which is composed almost entirely of Hanna men, will meet here next week to decide upon the place and date for opening the campaign. The executive committee, aside from the officers are:

G. A. Myers, Cleveland; Harry Alexander, Columbus; F. E. Scobey, Troy; S. L. Patterson, Waverly; H. A. Marmon, Piqua; H. J. Hoover, Newark; H. H. Hollenbeck, Charden; J. H. Fitch, Youngstown; C. O. ORDINANCES NOW UP TO COUNCILS

Corporations Committee Affirmatively Recommends Proposed Railroad Plans.

ELEVATED PLANS CHANGED

Pennsylvania Railroad Wants to Vacate Liberty Avenue Between Third and Twelfth Streets—New Baltimore & Ohio Station.

Both the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances were affirmatively recommended to Pittsburgh councils by the joint committee on corporations, last night, after several important changes had been made in the original drafts, the same occasioning considerable discussion. Councilman W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward, chairman of the finance committee, and a member of the corporations committee, created a stir by offering an amendment whereby the Pennsylvania railroad should pay a quarter of a million dollars for the franchise proposed in its ordinance. The motion was defeated.

The Baltimore & Ohio ordinance received the first hearing. The ordinance as first introduced provided for the railroad using all the property between Grant and Smithfield streets, and Water street and the harbor line. A new freight station was to be erected along Water street, at the Grant street end, and a new passenger station at the Water and Smithfield street corner.

Joint Occupancy Provided For.

An amendment offered by S. F. Crawford, provided for practically the same location of the passenger and freight stations, but proposed that the new ground desired by the company be used jointly by the railroad and the city. The passenger station is to be constructed upon stone arches, permitting the free and uninterrupted flow of the Monongahela river through and underneath the arches. This proposition was agreed to.

Attorney John S. Wendt, representing the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and Robert Finney, general agent, were present at the meeting. The former explained, by use of plans and specifications, the changes proposed. He pointed out the increased benefits the improvements would afford the traveling public and citizens generally. The new passenger station will, it is estimated, cost $500,000. Mr. Wendt stated that the Baltimore & Ohio proposed to pay the city additional rental of $4,500 per annum, for the use of the wharf, making a total of $7,500 per annum. This provision was amended by the committee, making the rental $10,000, and this amendment was finally agreed to by the company's representatives.

No Elavted Tracks at the Point.

The committee was called upon to consider a new Pennsylvania railroad ordinance, which was offered as a substitute and which showed that important changes to the original scheme are contemplated. It does away with the many elevated tracks around the Exposition buildings, but calls for a line from a point in Duquesne way between Third and Fourth streets to Liberty avenue, making a curve Liberty avenue, along the Duquesne freight depot to the river, with a curve and by a grade in Water street to a point near the Point bridge. A switch in Water street, between Penn and Liberty avenues, giving access to the westbound side of the Duquesne freight station is also proposed.

The ordinance provides for the removal of the present tracks in Liberty avenue from Water street to Twelfth street, that between Fifth street and Water street to be removed within one year after the completion of the line. As under the provisions of the original ordinance, elevated tracks will be run along the same way but solely to the point near where the curve is made into Liberty avenue. There will be no steam railroad tracks in Liberty avenue between Third and Twelfth streets.

Pitcairn Is a Pittsburgher.

Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad, in speaking of the proposition to take the tracks off Liberty avenue, said that he, as a citizen of Pittsburgh for 50 years, has always considered this an eyesore, and that the cost of the change of the proposed new tracks and improvements to the freight line would cost over $4,600,000.

Mr. Stevenson offered the suggestion that the resolution that all plans for changes be submitted to the director of public works for his approval before any work is begun, read "before the work is begun and after it is completed." This was adopted. Mr. Stevenson made an objection to a portion which stated that the city should be exempt from all cost in the proposed change. He said he thought the ordinance was not clear enough on this point, but his motion was lost.

Wanted $240,000 Wiped Out.

Then Mr. Stevenson offered an amendment whereby the Pennsylvania railroad waive claims against the city amounting to over $240,000, for the change of grades when the Union station was erected. The city at that time made a contract with the railroad to bear the expense of the change in grade in return for the conveniences accruing from the building of the new station, the raising of tracks and other improvements. The railroad then advanced the city money to pay off the regrading. This was three years ago and the money has yet to be paid back.

Mr. Pitcairn immediately made a protest against this, claiming that the vacation of Liberty avenue was sufficient benefit to the city in return for the elevated road. He stated that the contract between the railroad and the city was made three years ago, and had nothing to do with the present ordinance.

Mr. Stevenson then withdrew his amendment and substituted one giving the railroad the franchise for $250,000. He referred to the fact that the Pennsylvania railroad had given the city 96 acres of valuable land for their new line between Homewood and Brilliant known as the Brilliant cut-off.

Difference in Brilliant Plan.

Mr. Pitcairn stated that the Brilliant cut-off was a new line, constructed for a new purpose and was an entirely new project. Whereas, he said, the present ordinance relieved the city of the unsightly tracks in Liberty avenue, in return for the franchise. He concluded by stating that he was a half-officer of the city, being chairman of the sinking fund commission, and that he felt that he had as much interest in the city of Pittsburgh as he had in the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. Stevenson's amendment was not seconded, so Chairman McNeil stated that he could take no vote on it. Mr. Crawford then made a motion to return the ordinance affirmatively to councils, which was carried.

A quorum was secured very shortly after 8 o'clock, the following members being present: H. Barker, C. Beckert, D. E. Crawford, John J. Hughes, John A. Murphy, James W. Pratt, William C. Reitz, Jacob Schuck, John J. Shenkel, W. H. Stevenson, Joseph Zeuger and George W. McNeil, chairman.

Highwaymen on Neville Island.

Joseph Kolsocho, a Pole, was held up by three negroes yesterday morning on Neville island, and robbed of $27. He had just come from Butler and entered a saloon and asked to be directed to a place where he could get employment. The colored men followed him out of the place and when he was crossing the bridge of the American Steel and Wire Company, stopped him and went through his pockets. Two suspects have been arrested.

Benedict Objects to Bloss.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special.)—C. W. Benedict, a Republican leader of Titusville, saw Postmaster General Payne and President Roosevelt today to protest against the appointment of Joseph Bloss, editor of the Titusville Herald, as postmaster at that place. Bloss was recommended by Representative Bates.

MINOR STOCKHOLDERS ASK FOR INJUNCTION

Want Cramp Co. Restrained from Increasing Its Capital Stock.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Two stockholders in the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Company today asked the common pleas court to prevent the increase of capital stock. In the bill in equity filed by John W. Grange, owner of 100 shares, and Andrew H. McNeal, owner of 350 shares, it is declared that the proposed increase from $5,000,000 to $6,250,000 in the capital stock and of the mortgage indebtedness from $1,850,000 to $7,500,000 is not for the best interests of the stockholders. They object especially to the payment of $250,000 to Drexel & Co. for underwriting.

The bill copies in part the circular letter of President Charles H. Cramp recommending the increases, and appointing Thursday, June 25, as the time when the business is to be transacted. The syndicate agreement, it is charged, is against the interests of the stockholders. Grange and McNeal ask that an injunction be issued restraining the corporation from carrying out its plan.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

DECLINES THE OFFER.

Booker T. Washington Cannot Leave Work Here to Serve British in South Africa.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special.)—Booker Washington has been asked by Lord Grey, Cecil Rhodes' successor at the head of the British South African Company, to investigate and recommend a system of industrial education for the African race, upon which that company draws for labor. The British government proposes to give its assistance to such a project. After talking with President Roosevelt today Mr. Washington said he would decline the offer.

"I will devote all my time to the work at Tuskegee, trusting that it will indirectly assist in the uplifting of the race in Africa. The work here is such that I do not feel I can leave it even for the few months that would be required by the mission to South Africa. I have been in correspondence with Lord Grey and W. T. Stead. It appears that the South African Company, which has a close relation to the government, faces some serious problems in South Africa now."

"Is one of these problems discontent among negroes?" was asked.

"No. Lack of discontent is the trouble," Mr. Washington replied. "The Afrikander is tob well content."

CLASSES GRADUATED.

Commencement Day at Beaver and Other Colleges. Prizes Awarded.

BEAVER, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—Commencement week at Beaver College and Musical Institute closed tonight. At a meeting of the stockholders this afternoon the following trustees were unanimously elected: I. F. Mansfield, Judge Alfred S. Moore, Winfield S. Moore, Julius F. Kuriz, Edwin S. Weyand, Robert W. Darragh, Thomas F. Galey, John Snyder and A. R. Rayne of Beaver; Millard F. Mechlem and Henry C. Fry of Rochester; Harry W. Reeves, Beaver Falls; Hudson Samson, A. M. Schoyer and the Rev. Dr. T. N. HEAVY ATTACHMENT.

Inventor Seeks $50,000,000 from General Electric Company.

BOSTON, June 18.—An attachment for $50,000,000 was filed in the United States circuit court here today against the General Electric Company by counsel for S. E. Van Choate of this city. He alleges infringement of a number of inventions.

The attachment is filed in connection with a suit for damages entered by counsel for Mr. Van Choate.

NEWSIES' SCHOOL ENDS.

Youngsters at Newsboys' Home Gave an Interesting Program Last Night.

The closing exercises of the school conducted in connection with the Newsboys' home were held last evening. The program consisted of spelling contests, a theatrical performance and singing by the boys. George Sheering carried off the honors in spelling, in Class A, and Earl Stevens in Class B. They were presented with prizes by T. J. Keenan, president of the school.

The actors in the play were J. Kelly, F. Sullivan, A. Bailly and D. Campbell. Alexander Cawthorne, a 7-year-old boy, created great enthusiasm by his execution of a dance known as "Turkey in the straw." Nellie Koch and Jada Moore of Sharpsburg rendered musical selections. Edwin Z. Smith, chairman of the educational committee, presided and made a happy address. He announced that Miss Horton, the teacher, would return next year, met with the hearty approval of the boys.

Masons to Enlarge Clubhouse.

UNIONTOWN PA., June 18.—(Special.)—The Masonic Country club of Pittsburgh has decided to add 40 new rooms to its clubhouse at Bear Run, Fayette county.

Happenings of the Day

Mrs. Julia Mulvey is wanted at her home at Marietta, O., to look after real estate belonging to her. She formerly worked at the Church home here.

Herman Rose, a butcher at No. 415 Redmond street, says a horse and buggy with a quantity of meat disappeared simultaneously with Charles Smith, who was delivering the meat.

Mrs. George Wilson of No. 719 Penn avenue, yesterday identified some clothing found on John Bonner, accused of being implicated in several robberies in lower Penn avenue.

Edward L. Bell of No. 121 Second street, Esplen, was run down in McKees Rocks yesterday by a bicycle ridden by a negro boy. Bell's jaw was broken and he is internally injured. He refused to prosecute the boy.

Albert O'Donnell, 36 years old, of No. 820 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, was run over by the cars at the Edith furnace of the American Steel and Wire Company, Allegheny, yesterday morning, and his right foot was cut off at the ankle and his right arm crushed above the elbow. His condition is critical. O'Donnell is the father of a large family.

WOULD REVOKE THE NEW STREET CAR CHARTERS

Pittsburgh Railways Co. Attacks New Corporations, Alleging New Lines Overlap Old Ones.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company is attempting to have the charters of the Iron City Street Railway Company and the Hankers Street Railway Company of this city revoked. These are two of the companies which has recently consolidated and the weight of interest has been strongly enhanced. The officials went to the court house yesterday and paid for the charter and had it officially recorded. Gratifying reports were received from the suburbs yesterday. One man wrote that he had secured 100 members and expected to add 100 more in June by circular. He said that nearly all the men at work in his district want to affiliate with the league. He also reported that many of the miners are assisting him by getting their wives and daughters to join.

A man who was intrusted with 1,000 blanks informed the officials of the league that he had only a few left. Similar reports have been received from various parts of the district. The plan to send out blanks with the membership cards was decided upon by the board. The company wants to expand its yards in and about McKeesport sufficiently to accommodate 2,000 cars.

Many Want High School Vacancy.

Owing to the resignation of Prof. W. G. Gens, principal of the Union High school of Turtle Creek, Wilmerding and East Pittsburg, who was elected superintendent of the common schools of Wilmerding, considerable rivalry has sprung up in the three towns as to which shall be successor. The position pays $1,200 a year, but will be increased this year to $1,500. The election takes place on the second Thursday in July.

Three Miners Fatally Burned.

CHARLEROI, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—Three Stay miners were fatally burned by a powder explosion in the home of Nate Glazer, one of the victims, in the little mining settlement of Twilight this afternoon.

BIG TURBINE CONTRACT.

Westinghouse Company Will Equip Great Plant for the Quaker City.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(Special.)—The Westinghouse interests have secured the largest contract hitherto let for turbines to be installed in this country. The contract, which is for various equipments for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, is also one of the largest ever awarded for electrical machinery.

The most interesting feature of the development twice installed is that steam turbines are to be used exclusively for power generation in the new central station now under construction. There will be three turbines installed, each of 5,000 kilowatt normal capacity, which will be of the type now being built by the Westinghouse Machine Company for large powers. The turbines will be directly connected to Westinghouse three-phase 25-cycle generators and the units will run at 750 revolutions per minute, with 175 pounds of steam, 27½ inches vacuum and possibly 150 degrees of superheat.

The new power station will be located upon the Delaware river, near the foot of Green street, and is laid out for an ultimate capacity of 50,000 kilowatt. It being the idea of its designers to concentrate at this point the entire power operating equipment at present distributed among a number of smaller stations.

SAYS LAW IS VIOLATED.

Civil Service Commission Declares it Finds Illegal Appointments in Office.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special.)—Violations of the civil service law are now being charged in various government departments, principally the pension bureau, as an outgrowth of the postal investigation. John R. Proctor, president of the civil service commission, today showed a list of alleged illegal appointments in which the treasury department, government printing office and pension bureau had participated.

The violations in the pension bureau have assumed such an aspect that Commissioner Eugene P. Ware was summoned to the White House today. When seen at his office after long conference with President Roosevelt he seemed to be laboring under some excitement. To a questioner he admitted:

"I had intended leaving the city today but was called to the White House and had a conference with the president regarding matters affecting this office."

DRUGGISTS WILL MAKE COMMITTEE UNPOPULAR

Wilkinsburg druggists and the sabbath Observance committee of that borough have decided to suspend hostilities. Via the Advice of Burgess John A. Keys the contending parties made an agreement and the charges pending against the druggists will not be pushed. Hereafter drug stores in the borough will be closed on Sundays.

Lieut. Murtaugh Captured.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—General Bates has notified the war department that he has arrested in Chicago Lieut. Thomas T. Murtaugh, United States coast artillery, who deserted his troops at Cienfuegos, Cuba, about three weeks ago, leaving the exchange accounts mixed up. He will be sent to Governors Island for trial by courtmartial.

Yesterday's Smallpox Record.

The following cases of smallpox were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday: James W. Day, 21 years old, of Grant boulevard, near Craig street; August Wolfe, 18 years old, of No. 37 Spring alley; C. R. Urshuhart, colored, 29 years old, of No. 12 Clairant alley, and S. H. Pettigrew, 51 years old, of No. 43 Manilla street.

Risked Life for Love Letters.

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special.)—Risking her life to save her love letters, Miss Fredrica Hunt, of a fashionable boarding house on the South Side, came fainting and badly singed from her burning home into which she rushed after she had been well out of danger. She finally reappeared with a priceless package of jewels in her hand and laughed with joy, despite her injuries.

MORE BUTTONS FOR THE STRAP-HANGERS' LEAGUE

Growth in Membership Phenomenal—Charter Was Officially Recorded.

The officials of the Strap-Hangers' league will place an order in a few days for 5,000 more buttons. Since the organization has received its charter the membership roll has increased considerably and the supply of buttons has been nearly exhausted. The officials went to the court house yesterday and paid for the charter and had it officially recorded. Gratifying reports were received from the suburbs yesterday. One man wrote that he had secured 100 members and expected to add 100 more in June

DID NOT NAME OLD SOLDIERS

City Treasurer Frauenheim Appoints Democrats to Succeed Civil War Veterans.

MAKES FOUR APPOINTMENTS

County Commissioner James Clark and W. J. Brennen Credited With Forming a Combination to Control Democratic Convention.

Through City Treasurer E. J. Frauenheim four more Democrats yesterday secured places on the pay roll. They were appointed to prominent positions in his office. None of them are old soldiers.

Treasurer Frauenheim last week removed several old soldiers. Yesterday he named as their successors Richard B. Peace, Twentieth ward, bond clerk; F. W. Gurley, Twentieth ward, clerk; W. C. Thoma, Nineteenth ward, clerk, and Thomas Fitzpatrick, Eleventh ward, clerk. These complete the permanent appointments at the disposal of the treasurer. On July 1 he will name a number of extra clerks.

Many Democrats suspect that County Chairman James A. Clark will endeavor to control the fusion committee named by the Democrats. The Democratic county convention will be held on June 30. It is generally agreed by all factions that the convention will simply nominate Casey for jury commissioner and appoint a committee empowered to confer with the Citizens and fill out a ticket. If there is any fight in the convention it will be for control of the committee.

An Anti-Fagan Combine.

Charles A. Fagan says that he has heard intimations that Clark and W. J. Brennen will endeavor to control the convention. At present Fagan is not prepared to say whether there will be a fight. So far as the delegates to the state convention are concerned, Fagan says he will make no effort to control them.

The Clark-Brennen combination is credited with wanting control of the fusion committee in order to force the nomination of Brennen for district attorney. Clark says that he is not making a fight for the committee, but admits that he is paying considerable attention to the makeup of the convention. Neither does he deny that he will try to get the fusion nomination for district attorney for Brennen. In the distribution of city patronage to the Democrats, Fagan was the principal dispenser. Clark and Brennen hope to be in a position to ladle out "pap" should the fusionists elect a county ticket. While there has been no open breach between Fagan and Clark, it is not difficult to see that behind the scenes all is not harmony. Even though Clark does control the Democratic committee, Fagan would have to be consulted in the makeup of the ticket.

Have Leased Headquarters.

Chairman T. J. Ford yesterday leased the building at No. 527 Smithfield street for the Republican county committee headquarters. He will have the new rooms open Monday. While the committee will be busy all summer with detail work, there will be nothing definite about the county ticket until the middle of August. Effort will be made to get as many Republicans in the field as possible, and it will be a free-for-all contest.

There was gossip yesterday of W. K. Jennings for district attorney on the Republican ticket. He has been identified with the Municipal league since its organization. Mr. Jennings says that he does not practice in the criminal court and has never had any thought of being a candidate.

The machine is having difficulty deciding what is to be done with Police Inspector Henry Whitehouse. Supt. John P. McTighe suspended him for an alleged disobedience of orders. Whitehouse is boss of the Seventh district of the Fourteenth ward, one of the largest Citizens precincts in the city. If McTighe is allowed to discipline him, the Citizens bosses are afraid of the district in November. The machine has about all the trouble it can well handle in the Fourteenth ward and it would not be surprising if McTighe is given orders to reinstate the inspector. Capt. Matthew Gorman, a brother-in-law of McTighe, is now acting inspector and Whitehouse's friends say that the superintendent is trying to get rid of Whitehouse to make a berth for his relative.

S. P. Conner, county delinquent tax collector, will appeal from the decision of Judge J. D. Shafer. By carrying the case to a higher court, R. G. Mattern, who he is fighting for the office, will likely be kept out of the position until September 1, at least.

JAMES H. BAKER TO LEAVE.

Will Retire from Manufacturing Concer in Tarentum Bearing His Name.

James H. Baker, vice president and general manager of the James H. Baker Manufacturing Company, with a large drop forge plant at Tarentum, will on June 20 retire from the general management of the plant. He expects to take up another business.

Mr. Baker has been connected for a number of years with manufacturing enterprises in Allegheny county. He started as a country blacksmith. The invention of a wagon device led to entering upon the construction of wagons and in 1886 he moved the Baker wagon works to Pittsburgh from Wellsville, O. He later started the Baker Chain and Wagon Iron Manufacturing Company of Allegheny. This company was sold to two different concerns, the wagon iron part to the Oliver Iron and Steel Company, and the chain department to the Standard Chain Company. The Baker Forge Company, which later passed to the Pressed Steel Car Company, was then built at Ellwood City. The company which he is now about to leave as general manager was formed four years ago.

On an Inspection Tour.

A small party of officials of the American Sheet Steel Company visited the W. Dewees Wood plant in McKeesport yesterday. Special attention was given to the buildings that are to be torn down and remodeled, and it is expected that the work will be started on the new plant by General Manager Samuel Cooper within the next week.

Escaped from Hospital.

Louis F. Miller of Johnstown, who is supposed to be demented, was sent to Marshalsea yesterday. He escaped from the South Side hospital the night before and stirred up the entire police force on that side of the river.

CORSET STEEL SAVED MRS. HARTMAN'S LIFE

Bullet Was Deflected Into Hip. Efforts to Shield Her Assailant.

Mrs. J. C. Hartman, who was shot at the Homestead business men's picnic in Allequippa park, is still in the South Side hospital. Apparently the wounds are not fatal, but she is not yet out of danger as complications might set in. It is believed that the bullet fired, supposedly by Howard Wilbert, did not penetrate the intestines, having been deflected into the hip by a corset steel, but her right hand, through which another bullet made two holes, may be stiff for the rest of her life. The corset steel probably saved her life.

Wilbert, who is employed by Butcher J. C. Hartman, the woman's husband, in Lincoln place, is apparently being shielded by all concerned. They are silent about the shooting, although Hartman is reported to have said that Wilbert was trying to shoot somebody else, but that his wife grasped the revolver and was shot. It is believed, however, that two shots were fired, for, while it would have been possible for one bullet to have gone through the hand and then into the body, yet the powder burns on the woman's body would indicate that the pistol was held close to her when fired and that the assailant shot twice.

Hartman was at the hospital yesterday with his wife most of the day, and her four children, the eldest about 10 years old, were taken to see her. The man refused to discuss the shooting.

C. W. Erbeck, who has been chairman of the Homestead Business Men's association for 12 years; J. K. Young, president of the organization and other members, said yesterday that there would be no more annual picnics.

The other victims of the accidents at the park are getting along well. They are Mme. Zeno, the aeronaut; Paul Bero, her husband; James Sires and Gertrude Beado.

TRANSACTION IN EGGS BY MEN OF IRON NERVE

Fanning Bros. Appropriated 540 Dozen Eggs Belonging to Another Man and Sold Them.

James Fanning and his brother Thomas, alias J. B. Grimm, arrested yesterday morning on a charge of larceny were arraigned last night before Alderman James R. Connors and committed to jail for trial. The men are charged with stealing 540 dozen eggs belonging to Eugene Bartlett of Penn avenue, from off the steamer S. G. Patterson at the foot of Wood street.

James Fanning hired John Nagle, a teamster, to go to the wharf and load up the eggs and haul them to Fifth avenue and Tunnel street. When Nagle arrived there with his load he was directed to go to the East Liberty market, where the Fannings had sold the eggs to various dealers for 13 cents a dozen.

ENGINEER WILL DIE.

Walter Clark Fatally Crushed When Locomotive Jumped the Track at Wallace.

Engineer Walter Clark of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, was fatally injured in a wreck on the Bellevernon branch of that road at 6 o'clock last night. His fireman and the three members of his crew, all escaped without a scratch. The wreck occurred at Wallace station, a short distance above Elizabeth. Clark, running an engine, tender and caboose, took a switch curve without slowing up, and the engine jumped the track.

On a track next to the one Clark was running on there stood a freight train of 11 cars. Clark's engine crashed into the car opposite the switch and toppled over, pinioning the engineer beneath the cab. He was crushed about the abdomen, and his right leg broken in two places above the knee. One freight car was demolished and both tracks blocked.

Clark was taken from beneath his locomotive and conveyed to the McKeesport hospital, where it is stated that he cannot recover. He is 25 years old and a resident of Glassport, where he was married but three months ago. He was promoted from fireman to engineer only one month ago. His father, William Clark of McKees Rocks, has been an engineer 26 years and has never had an accident.

BURNING STABLE WAS SPECTACULAR

Blaze on the South Side Last Night Entailed Loss of $25,000.

RESCUE OF 85 HORSES

Sparks from a Passing Locomotive Are Supposed to Have Fallen in Hay. The Downtown Fire Companies Were Summoned.

During an exciting fire which destroyed a large portion of the big stables of H. H. Hooton & Co., in McKean street, near South First street, last night, 85 horses, valued at about $23,000, were rescued. The upper and rear parts of the building were destroyed, together with many sets of heavy harness and about $10,000 worth of feed. The loss is estimated at about $25,000, which Henry H. Hooton stated is fully covered by insurance.

It was the largest fire the South Side has had for nearly a year, and the blaze was one of the most spectacular witnessed in that district in years. Although there was a heavy downpour of rain while the fire was in progress, all the residents of the lower section of the South Side turned out to witness the destruction. Many engine companies from the downtown district were also called out to assist the South Side companies and the clanging of gongs and the race of the fire apparatus through the streets attracted pedestrians to the Smithfield street bridge from which fully 500 people watched the blaze.

The fire was discovered by James Welsh, who with Frank McMahon, John Hassett and Patrick McMullen, the latter a watchman in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad yards, located in the rear of the Hooton stables, were sitting among the wagons in the Hooton wagon yard. The men say they saw flames burst out of the second-story of the building in which the feed was stored. They ran to the front of the stable, in McKean street, and after bursting in the big doors made their way in the darkness to the portion of the building in which the horses were stabled.

About 10 drivers employed by the owners of the stables reside in the near vicinity of the stable and they ran to the stables and helped get the horses out. William Rohn, watchman at the Finch distillery nearby, sent in an alarm from box 328.

The flames were shooting high in the air when Assistant Chief Engineer Joseph E. Sees of the South Side district arrived, and he immediately turned in a second alarm, which was quickly followed by a third alarm. When the first streams of water were turned on the building the flames were rising above the level of the Panhandle bridge, and incoming freight and passenger trains were stopped for about half an hour. The Pittsburgh & Birmingham division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company was also tied up in Carson street for some time.

The stables were located in the space between the arms of the "Y," which connect the Panhandle railroad and the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad with the Panhandle bridge. It is thought the building was set afire by sparks falling from an engine passing over the bridge, into the hayloft in which 100 tons of baled hay and 6,000 bushels of oats were stored.

The stables fronted 100 feet in McKean street and extended back about 200 feet. During the fire the roof over the rear part of the building fell in and the side walls were burned. Nearly the whole stable will have to be rebuilt. It was erected about 10 years ago at a cost of $15,000.

While assisting in rescuing the horses Patrick McMullen was kicked on the right leg. While walking about on the roof of a portion of the building in which the horses were stabled, Capt. John Sheppard of No. 11 engine company stepped off the building, falling about 15 feet, but as he alighted on his feet he was not hurt, and continued to direct the members of his company.

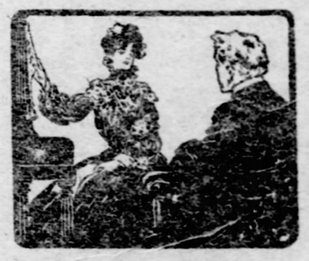
Was the Wrong Johnson.

Leroy Johnson, colored, who was arrested last Tuesday, at Meyersdale, by Constable Charles Moore and locked up in the McKeesport police station on suspicion of being concerned in the murder of Herman Anderson of Altoona, several months ago, was released yesterday. He was proved to be the wrong man by George Downey of Pittsburgh. Johnson says his treatment by the police was outrageous and that he was allowed to go for 36 hours with nothing to eat, and that he will institute proceedings for false arrest and imprisonment.

"Mellor" Stands for Melody.



A Popular Piano For the Home

The Chauncey Piano is a thoroughly reliable, beautiful toned, moderate priced instrument. Its makers put a great deal of care and thought into its construction. Their first idea was to make it an instrument that would be especially popular in the home, a piano that would at once appeal to lovers of music. In this they are eminently successful.

The tone of the Chauncey Piano is sweet and pure. It is strong and sympathetic and constructed for durability. The Chauncey will continue in popular demand because it is honestly made and possesses the qualities which invariably commend it to the music loving public.

The Rule of Half Prices Today.

That's the Rule in Seventy Departments, but in Many Departments There Are Many Things for Less Than Half Prices.

No call to requote the maze of half prices, but we must give a few that point to a little hurry necessary to secure the goods.

For instance, 60 English Flannel Outing Suits for men, $2.50 the suit. We sold them for $8 and $10. You will have to hurry for them.

For instance, women's $20 Suits for $10, and the $30 Suits for $15—you'll have to hurry for them.

For instance, women's Voile Dress Skirts, all with silk drop skirts, $25 Skirts for $12.50, and $30 Skirts for $15—you'll have to hurry for them.

For instance, girls' Cheviot Skirts, $2.50 instead of $5, and $3 instead of $6—you'll have to hurry for them.

For instance, $1 Embroidered Swisses for 50c a yard—you'll have to hurry for them.

And there are several other lots in several different lines that it will be well enough to be in the store early for. Outside of the foregoing specials lots are large enough to last through the entire day. The earlier hours of the morning, however, are fraught with more comfort to the shopper than the later hours.

Friday, June 19, 1903.

A vigorous fight is being waged by the Pittsburgh Railways Company against the newly chartered corporations which assume to occupy Pittsburgh streets. This action is a sort of certificate of character for the new interest, as it indicates a belief that the syndicate in the background is capable and acting in good faith. In good time the public will see for itself what may be hoped for from that quarter, and it will then be time to render the popular verdict. Meantime, interest is naturally growing.

Nothing in this vicinity better illustrates the spirit of the time than the awakening of Library. The ancient and modern are joining hands there now and soon the old will be swept away and obliterated from the map. Library is rich in history and reminiscence. It is old. Its foundations were laid by the hardy pioneers who followed the star of the empire on its westward way through the wilderness. As they founded it, so it has remained, save for a few softening touches of the nearby civilization. But all that is past now. The trolley has invaded the sacred precincts and the lot boomer has laid violent hands upon the garden patches of the old village. Its dream is over. It is awake and, falling in with the strenuous procession, ambitions for new achievement.

There is nothing alarming in the reduction of fifty cents a ton on northern pig iron. It is principally an indication that better conditions in the matter of transportation are enabling the furnaces to work up to their capacity and that production has about caught up with demand. The concession will tend to stimulate demand, and when the building trade labor troubles are settled mills and furnaces are likely to be pressed to the utmost. During three years past, while the railroads were unable to handle the tonnage offering, demand was extremely urgent and consumers would have bid prices up to unreasonable figures had not the conservative policy of the United States Steel Corporation put restraint upon the market. It simply refused to advance prices and declined to consider bids at fancy figures for quick delivery.

The corporations committee took snap judgment and passed the railroad ordinances up to councils without inviting any discussion on the part of those interested. The discussion will now have to be before councils. Some changes were made in the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance in the right direction, but not of sufficient scope in the matter of compensation. The Pennsylvania bill was not altered, probably on some understanding that it is to be amended on passage. At last accounts it contained a provision for putting damages upon the city. That proposition is absurd. The railroad company is getting a valuable concession in return for removing the tracks from Liberty street and should pay all costs of every kind. We shall have more to say upon the subject after more careful examination of the ordinances and fuller information concerning possible private agreements to make changes.

The Hon. Bernard McKenna, who died yesterday, was an active figure in the politics of Pittsburgh for more than 35 years. He was influential from before the date of his election in 1873 as alderman of the Fourth ward, where he was chosen to the office four successive terms. He almost won the mayor's chair in 1887, and was promoted to it by the popular vote in 1892 as the result of a reform movement. Since retiring from the office of mayor he was continuously police magistrate until William B. Hays was elected recorder. His health was then much impaired, but though it was an effort for him to discharge the duties of his office, he bore up against increasing feebleness by sheer will power. Mr. McKenna, like so many of the older politicians of Pittsburgh, was a graduate of the old volunteer fire department, and after it had been superseded he immediately entered into the service of the public in another capacity and continued this service almost until his death. His friends were legion and those ranked as his political opponents had a warm regard for him, all of which is evidenced by his large measure of success as a Democrat in a Republican community. He was a prominent figure in Pittsburgh delegations at Democratic state conventions for decades, and during his public career witnessed the rise and fall of many crops of politicians, remaining until death claimed him a real factor in local affairs.

Senator Quarels uttered no new sentiment in his address to the students of the University of Michigan, but he stated a truth of significance in an emphatic way. Never in the history of the world, he said, had there been such a demand for brains as today, or such high premiums paid for their use. The tremendous industrial developments of the age and the huge combinations of capital organized to conduct them has created an unprecedented demand for trained minds—engineers, chemists, electricians, accountants and administrators are more than ever needed to guide mining and manufacturing operations in economic channels. Never was the demand so great for ideas, or the door of opportunity as wide open for energetic workers with heads above their shoulders and brains in the heads. Moreover, the demand is growing and will continue to grow for men and women who can think to some purpose and do things.

The Saxon Protest.

Saxony, it is the boast of the Vorwaerts, the organ of the Socialists, is a Socialist state. The published returns of the election for members of the German reichstag bear out this claim. The Associated Press cables from Berlin bring the news that of 23 members elected in Saxony 18 are Socialists, and there will be a reballoting in five districts. The strength of the Socialist party in Saxony appears in the admission of the Dresdener Nachrichten, that the Socialists polled a majority of 100,000 votes in the whole kingdom. Judging, however, from the return of members elected, it will be surprising if fuller returns do not show a much larger majority. The returns from the elections throughout Germany indicate no such pronounced Socialist success in any other similar area or population. The members of the party will be numerous enough in the reichstag to make a noise, but not much more than that. They will be as numerous as some of the more influential political groups and much more numerous than several, but against the combined strength of all they will be in a small minority, and while other groups may be easily combined, the Socialists will stand practically alone. Their influence cannot be materially increased by voting alliances.

The general causes that operate to make the kingdom of Saxony a Socialist stronghold will doubtless be found in the great congestion of people within its borders and in the nature of their employment. Doubtless also the reaction of popular sentiment against monarchy caused by the scandal in the Saxon royal family has operated powerfully in the present election. The situation and the state of mind of the electorate as revealed by the balloting appears to be such that were not Saxony a part of the German empire the dynasty would ere long be overthrown and a republic proclaimed. To the strong imperial prop the dynasty will probably owe its continuance on the throne. It is true that a republican state is not inconsistent with the imperial constitution, for Hamburg, Bremen and Lubeck are actual states of the imperial federation and necessarily republics in their form of government. But if a republican state is not inconsistent with the imperial constitution, revolution is not consistent with it. Saxony, therefore, will remain a kingdom until there is a stronger sentiment in Germany against monarchy.

Socialism in Saxony embraces much that would not be termed Socialism in this country. The term has an ominous sound to the general reader, but much of the Socialism that flourishes in Germany would be here only Republicanism or Democracy, and with the disappearance of feudal and monarchical institutions a great deal of the extreme type of Socialism in the fatherland would disappear, being at bottom merely a protest against the older and somewhat out-of-date forms in which Teutonic love of social order has found expression, and which linger in spite of modern protest.

Prosperity's Symptoms.

The prosperity of Pittsburgh is dependent on the prosperity of its large industrial enterprises, notable among which is, of course, the United States Steel Corporation. Fortunately, the prosperity of these enterprises on which the city's prosperity depends, is not dependent on the valuations Wall street puts upon securities, but upon the continued operation at profitable rates of the plants behind these securities. If prosperity were dependent on Wall street valuations it would be a sorry outlook, but being dependent instead on the laws of supply and demand the outlook for the future is at least as bright as it has been at any time. The wage scales for the year, dating forward from May 1, as agreed upon between the responsible managers of the industries and the representatives of the wage earners are a key to the situation. The high rates of wages were continued in all cases, and in some instances there was a betterment, because the volume of orders on the books justified a continuance of operations on the wage bases that are established. The returns from operations promise to show as great a profit in the present year as in the past, and if production and consumption are nearer together it is because of increase of transportation facilities and capacity of the furnaces that supply the mills with raw material. Production of finished material has been hampered in the past few years more by the inadequacy of the agencies of distribution than by any other cause. If there is an easier condition apparent it is not from decreased consumption, but because the manufacturer is less hampered in shipments. The increased trackage facilities, rolling stock and motive power of the railroads enable him to more quickly assemble his raw materials and distribute his own products. That this is true appears in the increased earnings of the railroads. Nevertheless, the mills, in spite of the easier condition of shipments, continue booked far ahead, and the labor of this region will be constantly employed because of the fact. The greater ease of shipments in and out really makes for greater prosperity, because whereas mills and mines and furnaces were formerly compelled to shut down until the railroads caught up with them, they will now be enabled to keep running twenty-four hours a day. The wages of labor will be just as high, but the returns of labor will be greater, because there will be less interruption to work. With the returns of labor greater the lines of business dependent on the payrolls will necessarily flourish more than ever, and they have flourished in Pittsburgh as never before in its history. It matters little, therefore, what the Wall street tickers record, for prosperity is not made in Wall street, but here at home, and here its symptoms are seen on every hand.

Is Russia in Earnest?

If the Russian note of recognition and congratulation to King Peter I. of Servia may be accepted at its face value the world has not heard the last of the Belgrade atrocities by a long shot. It is the element of uncertainty as to Russia's earnestness that leaves room for doubt as to the upheaval of the new Servian monarchy almost at the very commencement of its existence. Official information from Belgrade has consistently reported the attitude of the dominant faction of the Servians—the army—as not only instigating and supporting the assassination of the former king and queen, but applauding the act through its spokesmen in the Servian congress and indicating to the new king a policy of "hands off" as to any future investigation of the crime. Coexistent with this news has been the equally persistent information that Prince Peter, who is now king, depended very greatly upon the friendship and approval of the czar of Russia as a guide to his actions in accepting the throne of Servia, and that it was through this friendly relation he hoped to accomplish whatever reforms he sought to institute in the kingdom. Now it would appear a clear case of "must" on the king's part if Russia is in earnest in her rather forcible and outspoken note of congratulation. The king has intimated that he will take means to punish the murderers of his predecessors and emphatically declares that he had no hand in the crime. The party really in power in Servia and for whom Peter, it is said, will only act as a figure head, has publicly and officially congratulated itself upon the very felicitous way in which it disposed of Alexander and Draga, actually coupling this congratulation with its proffer of the throne to Karageorgevitch. On the other hand Russia, whom everybody knows is the European power most directly interested in and affected by Servian affairs, practically affirms that its friendship and support of the new dynasty depends upon the manner in which the new king punishes the bloody murderers of Alexander.

At first glance it looks as though King Peter was up against an impossible condition. He will be a dull monarch, however, if he cannot construe the Russian note and that of Emperor Francis Joseph into a command to find a scapegoat not too dear to the military conspiracy on whom to wreak vengeance. Plainly Russia and Austria do not want to excite jealousies by active interference. It is equally plain they do not desire to countenance wholesale assassination. They want some action that will satisfy the proprieties—a legal sacrifice they can point to as the vengeance of justice that is the due of all regicides. They will not be particular and will not demand that the victims shall be the most powerful men in Servia, or members of the provisional government. A sergeant or a corporal will suffice to point the moral and adorn the tale. Otherwise the Karageorgevitch dynasty would be shorter lived than the Obrenovitch.

Peonage in the South.

Federal investigation into the alleged cruelties said to exist in connection with the system of peonage in some of the southern states, principally in Alabama, has hardly gone far enough either to establish the charges that have been made or to prove how far the federal statutes have been actually violated. The evidence produced before the federal grand jury sitting at Montgomery, Ala., was of the most revolting character and has had the effect of stirring up the people of that state to a high degree. It would be unwise and unfair to attempt to inject the race question into the discussion of the revelations already made. Judge Adams of the federal court is quoted as saying that there is nothing unconstitutional in the custom that prevails in many of the southern states of a voluntary act of servitude on the part of a debtor to a creditor. It was undoubtedly from the practice of this custom that the present evils arose. But the practice is not confined to the negroes, many white people having entered exactly the same agreements and have been perfectly willing thus to discharge their debts.

But the custom is one easily susceptible of gross abuse, and if the recent testimony adduced before the grand jury sitting in Montgomery be one-half true there is a demand for immediate and vigorous methods to break up a practice that has been made the excuse for outrages even more terrible than any that marked the worst days of slavery. This evidence goes to prove that wholesale advantage has been taken of the ignorance of the average plantation negroes in Alabama and that many of them have been enslaved in a bondage more terrible than that of legal slavery. Acts of inhuman and brutal cruelty have been cited that are in themselves enough to call for rigid investigation, apart from the more difficult determination of the constitutional law on peonage. Fortunately, the best citizens of Alabama are aroused on the subject, and it was through prominent residents of the state, in most instances well-known ex-confederate and ex-slave-holding citizens, that the abuses were first called to the attention of the federal authorities.

Graduates' Politics and Careers.

Another year's college commencements are passing into the records and the members of the graduating classes are quite unanimously of the opinion that they have entered upon real life. They will meet many surprises before they have been very long at work. Despite a great deal of argument against the real utility of the higher education, however, nothing in their business or professional careers is likely to make them sorry they went to college.

As usual, an interesting feature of the various class-day exercises has been the stated choice of politics and occupations by numbers of graduates. At Columbia 56 men out of 90 who expressed themselves declared that they were Republicans. Presumably, then, at this stage of their education, before theory has bowed to practice, they believe that the way to promote international trade is to "protect" it by means of arbitrary taxation, says the New York World. Twenty-eight students out of 80 insisted that they would be lawyers, while 17 stated that they would enter business. Nine intending teachers, four coming doctors and one preacher of the future revealed themselves.

To any who feel that there should be better divisions as to parties and professions there is comfort in the case of West Point. Out of a hundred years' graduates of that strictly military institute more than 2,000 are known to have drifted into civil occupations. It is not always possible to tell from the way the college boy looks and talks how he is going to "pan out" as a mature man.

Pittsburgh Furnishes a Warning.

The statement that 11 deaths have occurred from lockjaw in Pittsburgh in the past fortnight, and that they were caused in nearly every instance by the use of the deadly toy pistol, should not go unheeded by the officials of Philadelphia. The regulations prohibiting the sale of these nuisances to minors are pretty sure to be disregarded in the period shortly preceding the Fourth unless the police are vigilant. Watchfulness in this regard, combined with exemplary sentences whenever the law is wilfully violated by storekeepers, will unquestionably save a good many juvenile lives.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Wrong Assumption.

The assumption that the United States government can build the Panama canal without the consent of Colombia is not well founded. The explanation given is that if the United States buys out the rights of the Panama Canal Company it can go on under their charter. But that charter is forfeited by its own terms if any attempt is made to transfer it without the consent of the Colombian government, and that consent will not be given until an arrangement has been made with the United States that is satisfactory to Colombia. The outlook may not be so bad as reported.—Philadelphia Press.

Those Chicago Professors.

You may turn where you will—you may wander until You've circled the globe two times over;
You may tarry awhile on J. Bull's desert isle
Or in African wilds play the rover,
But wherever you roam, though 'tis far, far from home,
If you hear of some witless transgressor
That has made a fool break, quite a roll you can take It's another
Chicago
professor!

If somebody says that Shakespearian plays
Are very much Lincoln J. Carter,
And claims his blank verse is, if anything, worse
Than the work of some blankety-blank starter;
If Avon's great bard gets a cudgeling hard
At the hands of some owl-eyed oppressor,
You can bet your last cent that the critical gent
Is another
Chicago
professor!

All over the earth most extravagant mirth
They've caused by their wondrous opinions;
After leaving this vale they'll perhaps get their mail
In Satan's sulphuric dominions,
And if His Royal Nibs hears some fantastic fibs,
He will know, if he's much of a guesser,
That back of each deal—each nonsensical spiel, is another
Chicago
professor!

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

"Yes, the old songs are best—best for me, and they seem to be good enough for all," writes a neighbor up in Vandergrift. "That old song, 'Darling Nelly Gray,' carried me back to my courtship days, and who could ask anything better than that?

"I read The Quiet Observer to my wife, and it recalled those good old days to her mind, and together we sat and sang the old song we had, as lovers, sung so often. It seemed like living it all over again. And then we were joined by the children, who are at home, and we sang to the accompanyment of the piano, played by our daughter, who is nearly as old as her mother was when she and I were lovers.

"We are all very thankful for your kindness in reviving the old song with its cluster of sweet memories."

"Thank you for your 'Nellie Gray' article. It was all right, and the story particularly touching," whispers a friend from Crafton.

"Glad you gave us the history of 'Nellie Gray,' for I had always thought it one of Stephen C. Foster's productions. Mother says she heard it sung first on the evening of her wedding, says a note from Canonsburg.

There are many old scraps of poetry, bits of prose, tender and sweet songs, and bright stories, which were once popular that ought to be revived, or at least resurrected, just for old acquaintance sake. These not only make good reading, but they are helpful. It is the good that is in them that has kept them alive in heart and memory.

Here and there we find some one who kept a scrapbook, and another who only kept scraps. It is to such collections as these that we must look for the good things that have been forgotten, save by the few.

Any of our readers who may have some of these choice bits may send them in, and if not used they will be returned.

It was one of William Cullen Bryant's peculiar customs to republish standard bits of poetry and prose, and various popular selections about every 10 years. He argued that during that time there had grown up many new readers, while the older ones would be glad to read them again.

Whatsoever is true, and good, and helpful never will grow so old as to lose its popularity with good people.

Recently a Scottish friend asked for some account of "Annie Laurie," one of the songs that will never die. It is not because of any personal interest in the writer that people cling to it, but because it is so full of human interest. Having been written from the heart of one who happened to have the ability to portray feelings in words, it must necessarily appeal to everyone who has like feelings.

The story of "Annie Laurie" is in itself both entertaining and interesting, and the fact that the author of the melody died only a few years ago, and only a short time before her kinsman, Gen. Wauchope, was killed in the Boer war, freshens the interest.

Not only the words of the song, but the melody also, have so much of the genuine folk song ring and lilt that one felt they must have grown up among the Scottish people in the long ago. Besides, there are none of us so old as to remember the time when "Annie Laurie" was any less a household word than it is now, and when we stop for a moment to think of the time when the British soldiers refreshed themselves with it in the weary siege of Sebastopol we recall that that was nearly half a century ago.

"They sang of love, and not of fame;
Forgot was Britain's glory:
Each heart recalled a different name,
But all sang "Annie Laurie."

There has been some controversy about the melody, of course (there generally is a quarrel about every song taken up in the inmost heart of the people), but there seems to be no good reason for questioning the statement of the lady, whose maiden name was Alicia Anne Spottiswoode, who married Lord John Douglass Scott, son of the duke of Buccleuch, in 1834. But, though the music of "Annie Laurie" belongs to the early decades of this century (Lady John Scott was 91 years old when she died), the words are nearly 200 years old. Says Mrs. Helen Kendrick Johnson in her admirable book, "Our Familiar Songs:"

Then follow two of the familiar stanzas. Annie Laurie was born on December 16, 1682, and was 28 years old when she married Mr. Ferguson, instead of the poet to whom she gave her "promise true." By the way, Lady Scott, or some other editor, changed the first stanza, which we think more winsome in the form in which it was repeated by the granddaughter of Douglas of Fingland in the very years that the soldiers were singing the song and thinking of their sweethearts in Russia. Here is the record, as set down by Mr. Fitz-Gerald's "Stories of Famous Songs:"

"In 1854 there lived an old lady who, hearing 'Annie Laurie' sung, declared the words were not the ones her grandfather had written. She stated afterward that her grandfather, Douglas of Fingland, was desperately in love with Annie Laurie when he wrote the song. 'But,' she added, 'he did na get her, after all.' Asked as to the authenticity of the lines, she said: 'Oh, I mind them fine. I have remembered them a my life. My father often repeated them to me.' And here is the stanza, signed with her name:

"Maxwelton's banks are bonnie,
They're a' clad owre wi' dew,
Where I an' Annie Laurie
Made up the bargin true.
Made up the bargain true,
Which ne'er forget s'all be,
An' for bonnie Annie Laurie
I'd lay me down and dee.'

"I mind na muir.
"(Signed) Clark Douglas.
"August 30, 1854."

* * * * *

As sung at present the first four lines of the second stanza were taken from an old version of "John Anderson, my Jo, John;" originally, however, they ran:

"She's backit like the peacock,
She's breistit like the swan,
She's jimp around the middle,
Her waist ye weel micht span."

Lady Scott, though she wrote the tune, which is now likely to live as long as the words of "Annie Laurie," never seems to have troubled herself about the authorship of the latter; she declared they were written by Allan Cunningham, author of "A Wet Sheet and a Flowing Sea."

* * * * *

It may seem strange to you that there should ever be any doubt as to the authorship of a popular song, or poem, or story. But there is nearly always a question or two of this nature before the public.

One reason for losing track of authors is the carelessness of exchange editors in not always giving the writer's names when they clip their "stuff." In this way good things become vagrant and may be taken up, like stray sheep, branded and sent out under a new name.

Once in a while two writers seem to have an impulse to write on the same theme, and in the same vein. One of these may be able to get his work widely scattered and extensively read. Then some careless editor uses it without due credit, and it becomes vagrant. The author of the less popular piece, or some of his friends, may pick up the other, and on account of its strong resemblance to his production, claim it and attach his name to it.

While it is probably true that poems and songs have been deliberately and intentionally stolen, it is also true that this is not a frequent occurrence.

There were three bold claimants for the authorship of "The Beautiful Snow," and two or three others were given as its authors. The fight between two of the claimants came near ending in a court trial some dozen years ago. Even to this day the point at issue has not been settled.

And who hasn't read that homely, heartsome poem beginning:

"Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep and you weep alone."

It appears among Ella Wheeler Wilcox's poems, and she claims its authorship, but one Joyce, a writer of verse and other things, avers that he wrote it himself, and that it was originally published over his signature.

Up to date the verdict stands strongly in favor of the sweet little singer, and from the facts submitted to the public she is fully entitled to full credit for this clever bit of work, which may outlive any of her other productions, fine and sensible as they are.

Never quote poetry without giving due credit to the one who wrote it.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Four shoe stores occupy one short block in Broadway uptown. There are only six stores altogether and the two that are not shoe stores are devoted to jewelry and a cafe. It is becoming the custom of retail dealers in certain lines to flock together. Why they should do so is not clear except that the proprietors think it better to get customers to their neighborhood, even if a rival store gets their trade, than to have them scatter themselves at a distance. When a man wants a pair of shoes he knows that he is pretty sure to find what he wants at one of these stores and he comes to the block to look them over. After that his selection of a place from among the four depends on the inducements offered or possibly on the caprice of the buyer. At all events one of the four merchants is likely to get him, which might not be the case if there were only one store in the block, and they may be in hundreds of others in Greater New York. It is a curious speculation, whichever way one looks at it.

Sellers of "Phony" Jewels Are Prospering.

Imitation jewelry is becoming an important branch of trade in the theater and hotel portion of Broadway. Near Thirtieth street there are two stores devoted to the sale of this kind of thing and both appear to be doing a roaring trade. Brooches, scarf pins, earrings, finger rings and other ornaments are offered, usually at 50 cents each, or a pair in the case of ear rings. Dozens of incandescent lamps and a cunning arrangement of mirrors in the show windows make the stores dazzlingly brilliant and every article in the windows looks as if it were desirable.

Divorced Husband's Coup Successful.

When the divorced husband of a society woman took their little daughter from her just as she was going up the gangplank of a French line steamer with her new husband today it was remarked by some of the men who are familiar with the doings on ocean steamer piers that it was not an unusual occurrence. "That fellow was wise like most of them," commented a longshoreman; "he waited till the bell was just going to ring 'all aboard,' so that there would be no time to get the child away from him, and then he held on so that the others had to sail without her. I have seen lots of such games as that. Gee, but its funny."

Raid on U. S. Steel.

Wall street's excitement today was the raid on United States Steel early in the forenoon which sent it down to 28⅝, but it was soon over, for there was a fair rally from those figures before noon. The explanation given was that the traders had discovered a heavy selling order. The decline at the beginning of the day gave the people something to do and that was about all there was of it.

Loyal "Fans" Greet the Giants.

There was a wild and noisy welcome for the Giants as they stepped into view on the Polo grounds this afternoon to take another fall out of their worthiest foes—except Pittsburg's—the Chicago team. The "fans" were in such good humor with the home team that nothing they could do or leave undone would be likely to lose them the favor of the thousands of bleacherites who were there to see the game. It makes all the difference in the world what a baseball team has done on the road so far as its reception at home is concerned. The New Yorks smiled cheerily as they began their work today and it was a smile that wouldn't come off, too.

Actors Affect Milk As a Beverage.

It has become a fad among the actors in Broadway to drink milk when they need a bracer instead of resorting to the Seldan beer saloons of old. There are two dairies much favored by actor folk. One is in Fortieth street, hard by the Actors' society rooms, and the other is in Eighth avenue, a few doors from the Manhattan theater. At any hour of the day after 10 or 11 o'clock you may see groups of actors slowly imbibing milk or buttermilk in these two places. It cannot be said that they seem to enjoy it. Truth compels the assertion that in most instances the actor appears to "worry it down" for hygienic reasons rather than for pleasure. It may be that the tearing down of the little saloon in Broadway, which used to be known among the theatrical fraternity as "Little Delmonico's," has something to do with this patronage of dairies. At "Little Delmonico's" one could actually get a hot lunch with a plate, knife and fork and full size man water, all for 5 cents, although it was expected that each customer would purchase at least one glass of beer. The milk dealers sell crackers with the milk so that the price of a snack is the same as it used to be at the old place.

Two Disasters Mark the Day.

This has been a day of disaster in New York. There was the collapse of a building in the Bowery in the morning with a number of persons injured, and later in the day an elevator fell in a livery stable in Harlem, killing one man and seriously hurting another. The usual list of trifling accidents all over the city causes little comment but the two big ones made New Yorkers look grave—for an hour or two.

Another Nuisance on Broadway.

After being relieved of the annoyance of building operations along the two blocks on the west side of Broadway, between Thirty-third and Thirty-fifth streets, which continued for more than a year and made life wretched for pedestrians in that part of the city, the Broadwayite has enjoyed comparative peace and comfort the last few months. Now the corner at Thirty-fourth street, adjoining Macy's, which the firm would not buy at the price asked, is in the hands of builders, and you have to climb over a lot of scaffolding to get along at all, with the probability of the nuisance lasting for another year at least. Building operations in New York are a continual source of distress, although perhaps not more so than in other cities. It is the penalty the people pay for living in a progressive community.

Africander a Surprise.

As was expected the favorites were nowhere in the Suburban handicap. The mud made all predictions useless and when Africander, at 12 to 1, came in, with Hermis, Hemo and other stars out of the running, there was a general expression that it might have been supposed that Africander would win. He had the same chance as a dozen other horses who would not have had a look-in on a dry, good track. Anyway, the race is over, and now people who try to pick winners can turn their attention to what will follow at Sheepshead for some time to come.

Mystery of Long Ago.

In the Pittsburgh Potter's Field lies the dust of "John E. Edwards." Unknown and unmourned he died in the St. James Hotel a quarter of a century or more ago—a suicide. The last man to whom he talked was Albert Cain, now clerk of the bureau of detectives.

Fifteen years ago I knew Mr. Cain as a hotel clerk, and yesterday I met him at the Safety Palace for the first time in many years. His name was forgotten, but one thing I remembered, that as long ago as he was clerk at the old Central Hotel his first and whose going on duty each day was to register "John E. Edwards, Philadelphia." The first time I visited the hotel as a reporter the clerk told me a good news story of the cause of the visit of "Mr. Edwards" to the city, but thinking better of his spect of "arranging" a pyrotechnic fourth from the verdant hills of Ohio, Cain told me that "Edwards" was a myth, so far as stopping at the Central was concerned. But he didn't tell me the story, and it was not until yesterday at the Safety Palace that I heard it.

Billiards With a Stranger.

"It was back in '76 or '77," said Mr. Cain, "I was then keeping books for a company down near the Union Station, and much of my time in the evenings was spent in the billiard room of the old St. James hotel. One evening I saw a well-dressed person playing billiards. On the chair next to me sat a stranger, a big, well-groomed, fine-looking fellow well along toward middle age. It is a very natural thing for two men to enter into conversation under such circumstances, and we did. Finally, one or the other suggested a game of billiards.

"I won the first game, and after paying for it, he invited me out into the office to have a cigar.

"'I prefer a good toby,' I told him.

"'No, you are going to smoke the best cigar in the case,' he replied. I demurred, but he insisted, and finally I accepted a Havana. Then he took a nickel's worth of robies, and lighted one.

"After a little conversation, we went back to the billiard room and played another game. This time he won, and I forced him to smoke the same sort of a cigar he had forced upon me, while I smoked a toby. We played several games after that, and finally tiring of the game, we sat down and talked until midnight.

A Man of Travels.

"The fellow proved to be good company. He had traveled all over America, had visited Cuba, had visited Europe, and better still, he knew how to tell the things he had seen. He told me he had no particular business, that his mother lived in Philadelphia, was wealthy, and he had all the money he needed.

"Thus the evening passed rapidly, and I decided he was a mighty good companion for a quiet evening. I did not ask his name, for I had seen that 'John E. Edwards, Philadelphia,' was registered and assigned to room 47, and I knew my companion was Edwards.

"When we parted at midnight Edwards was in a jolly good humor, and said he hoped he would see me again, which hope I sincerely reciprocated. He was evidently not a man who drank over much, and he was apparently an all-around good fellow and a gentleman, such an acquaintance as one often picks up in the boat-seam and pitman around American hotels.

Death Visits 47.

"The following morning Edwards was found lying dead on the floor in room 47, with a bullet hole in his breast. A smile of the deepest serenity o'erspread his face, and but for the gaping wound in his breast one might have thought he was having a pleasant dream.

"Billy McCallin was coroner, and he at once took charge of the case. Every atom by which the dead man might have been identified had been carefully destroyed. In his pockets was found but a few cents. By his side lay an old-fashioned dueling pistol, and its mate lay in a box on the dresser. On one of the rings worn by Mr. P. F. V. V. V. was engraved on the inside. His coat had the mark of a Philadelphia tailor, and he his trousers was the mark of a tailor in New York.

"Telegrams and letters were sent to New York and Philadelphia, but neither tailor could throw any light on the mystery. For a week the body was kept at the morgue, then buried in the Potter's Field.

"When I told Coroner McCallin of my experience with the stranger he gave me the ring. I wrote to Philadelphia, to the police, and tried to learn something of the family of the suicide, but never could find a trace, and at last I gave it up. Still for years I wore the ring, hoping that some one might see it and remember the man to whom it belonged, but while it attracted some attention because of its peculiar appearance, no one was ever able to identify it. And the mystery of John E. Edwards seems destined to remain forever unsolved."

The Name on the Register.

"But how does that explain the name always on the hotel register when you were clerk?" I asked.

"It was along in '83 when I went to work at the Central," he replied. "The first morning I went on duty I registered that name, for no particular reason, at the head of the page. Why I did it is as much of a mystery to me as to you. But as it happened, we had a long list of guests that day, and Mr. Scott, one of the proprietors of the house, while looking over the register happened to inquire who 'Mr. Edwards' was.

"'The name is fictitious,' I replied, but did not tell him the story of the suicide.

"'It looks like good luck,' he said. 'Register him every morning when you come on duty.'

"That explains why 'John E. Edwards, Philadelphia,' was the first arrival every morning at 7 o'clock at the Hotel Central from 1883 to 1891, as long as I was behind the desk."

The Other Eye.

"I was traveling in the west not long ago," said W. H. Rebuck, traveling auditor for the United States Rolcott Company last evening, "when a party of doctors boarded the train, and came into the smoking apartment of the sleeper. I was very much interested in their talk. Sometimes it was scientific, and they would occasionally lose me with their scientific terms, but generally their talk was in the nature of jokes on each other.

"Have you fellows heard the eye story on Thompson?" one asked finally, and I was glad that all admitted that they had not heard it." This is the story:

WIDENING OF VIRGIN ALLEY

Board of Viewers Heard Testimony Yesterday—Will Hold Another Meeting Today.

BENEFITS NOT CONSIDERED

Question of Damages Will Be Settled First—Anybody Who Desires May Appear at Today's Session—Weekly Meetings Arranged.

The board of viewers to award benefits and assess damages resulting from the widening of Virgin alley held a meeting yesterday afternoon and testimony was taken as to the value of the property affected. Another meeting will be held this afternoon. The board is made up of W. T. Bradberry, M. C. Acheson and Robert Thompson. T. D. Carnahan, first assistant city solicitor, appeared for the city.

Twenty-four feet are to be taken from the property along the north side of the street, making the thoroughfare a total width of 44 feet. Henry W. Oliver is the owner of the largest amount of property along the line of improvement. He appeared at the hearing and made a statement of his claims.

On the north side, from which the strip for the wider street will be taken, Mr. Oliver either owns or controls 833 feet. The First Presbyterian church and Trinity Episcopal church own 200 feet. On the opposite side Mr. Oliver owns 229 feet, making his total holdings 1,042 feet, or five-eighths of the entire frontage on both sides of the alley.

Attorney Asked for Delay.

The First church was represented by Attorney S. H. Shannon, but Trinity church had no representative present. Attorney Shannon said he was not ready to present his case, as he had not received any notice of the meeting of the board of viewers until last Saturday and that it had been impossible to prepare a statement for damages in that time. He asked for a delay of a week or 10 days until some action could be taken by the board of trustees of the church. Mr. Oliver, in his statement of his claims, said:

"For the building at Smithfield street and Virgin alley, the building now occupied by The Gazette and the Chronicle Telegraph, and the old Third National bank building at Wood street and Virgin alley, I will not ask any damages. For the buildings below Wood street I will put in a claim only for the amount that will be necessary to put in new fronts where this is practicable, and where it is not the damages claimed will be the value placed on the buildings by a practical builder. For the property taken the claim will be the amount which I paid for it. Some of this property I secured two years ago and since then its value as indicated by sales in the neighborhood has increased to three or four times the price that was paid, but I am willing to take just what it cost."

To Pay on Value of Holdings.

Mr. Oliver said that so far as the assessments or benefits were concerned he was willing to pay on the extent and value of his holdings on both sides of the street. He told the board that at the next meeting he would be ready to submit a detailed statement of the property owned and controlled by him and the amounts he would ask for each piece. He said that a number of important projects depended on the outcome of this plan to widen Virgin alley, and for that reason he wanted the hearing before the viewers to be finished as soon as possible, so that there would be no delay in making the report.

The question of benefits was not taken up at the meeting, as this cannot be discussed until the amount of damages to be awarded is settled. When the board adjourned it was announced that another meeting would be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when any person who desires to be heard can appear before the board. A second meeting was fixed for Tuesday, June 30, at 2 p. m., and after that meetings will be held daily until all the testimony is taken.

LITTLE REPAVING IS LIKELY THIS SEASON

Councilmanic Committee Is Completed, but Not Much Money Is Available.

President John S. Lamble yesterday named the select council committee in charge of apportioning the appropriations for repaving streets. The common council members were appointed Monday night. The committee consists of George S. Wilson and W. J. Zahniser of select, and Gebhart Sahner, D. J. Bole and Thomas O'Brien of common. This committee will decide upon the streets that are to be paved with the $200,000 allowed for this purpose in the appropriations for 1903.

The finance committee appropriated less than one-fifth of the amount asked for by the director of public works, and of the appropriation of $200,000 only $95,000 is available for new work. The rest, representing the balance of the appropriation from last year, must go for work on streets the contracts for which were let last year but not completed.

Under the present circumstances it is hardly likely that much repaving can be done during the present year. After the committee reports it will be necessary to put through councils ordinances for letting contracts for every street to be repaved under the schedule, and at the rate at which business is now being done by the city legislators this will require a long time.

Director E. M. Bigelow favors the use of the entire appropriation for the repaving of the principal streets, such as Fifth avenue and Forbes street. He says that the amount of money allowed this year will not be sufficient to take care of all the repaving necessary and that more can be accomplished by putting the main thoroughfares in good condition and letting the other streets go for another year.

Respite for Sanders.

Buck Sanders, the negro convicted of the murder of John Markhoff, a storekeeper in the Carnegie valley, and sentenced to be hanged on June 25, was respited yesterday by Gov. Pennypacker until September 25. Sanders has always asserted that he is innocent.

Markhoff was killed in a Bridgeville speakeasy a year ago. Five witnesses have since sworn that the man who shot Markhoff escaped.

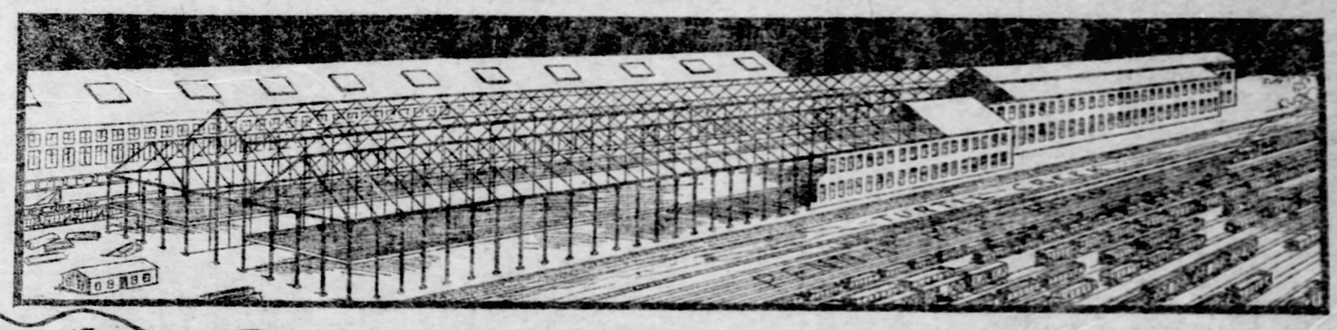
ELECTRIC PLAN OF LOTS AT TURTLE CREEK

Has Not Only Put the Fire of Enthusiasm Into the People of the Entire Westinghouse Valley, But Is Drawing Crowd After Crowd From All Parts of Pittsburgh and the Towns Around.



Westinghouse genius continues to plant its flag of industry in all parts of the world.

Trafford City's marvelous record of a year ago will be crowned by another mighty real estate triumph, demonstrating beyond all question that there is no faith like the faith which wide-awake investors have in property adjoining the Westinghouse industries.

You can talk about other real estate propositions! But where is there any other real estate that has grown in value like the real estate which has been built up by the expansion of Westinghouse industries? Only downtown Pittsburgh property will match up with the almost miraculous showing of property next to and close to the Westinghouse plants.

Take these facts as a criterion and let nothing keep you from joining the multitudes who are going out to see the half-mile of new Westinghouse Electric industries and the grand street-improvement work now going on in the ELECTRIC PLAN OF LOTS.

The great new two-story Westinghouse steel structure, (more than a third of a mile long), with the other new buildings, will make room for 5,000 more electric workers and raise the present monthly payroll of $536,000 to at least $750,000. Think of this. Come out today to study the opportunity. Take traction cars or accommodation trains at Union Depot. You can get either at most any time.

Don't wait for opening sale tomorrow, but come get posted on the choice spots in the property before the opening sale begins.

THE MONEY THAT'S BEEN MADE:

You get an idea of what your opportunity is when we name a few of the Turtle Creek citizens who were quick to act during the boom previous to and following the establishment of the first Westinghouse electric works. Seven years ago J. W. Johnston bought at $6,000 one hundred and twenty-nine feet of frontage on Penn Avenue, three squares from our Plan. Today this frontage is worth $400 a foot or $51,800.

W. H. Semmens is another far-sighted investor who has grown wealthy largely through his investments in Turtle Creek real estate. People in a position to know, say that Mr. Semmens has earned more than $200,000 through the enterprise and good judgment he displayed in picking up Turtle Creek real estate while others were hesitating. The Snyder brothers, (George and Chris), are others who did not sleep when real estate opportunities came. Only five years ago they paid but $6,000 for seventy-five feet of frontage on Penn avenue. Today the value of this frontage is $350 a front foot or $26,250 for the entire piece.

LOTS $25, $50, $100 $150 to $950

All the lots are 25x100 feet and deeper, except on Maple avenue, where they are 30x100. Most of these have alleys back of them. On the best streets there are building restrictions.

Some of the lots are 200 feet deep. You will be able to build on both ends of these, as they front on two streets.

TERMS:

FIVE PER CENT DOWN, BALANCE TWO PER CENT PER MONTH; NO INTEREST, NO TAXES; FIFTEEN PER CENT DISCOUNT FOR CASH WHEN PAID WITHIN SIXTY DAYS.

Property Only Eight Minutes' Walk From New Electric Industries.

Our property is but eight minutes' walk from the works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, where the half-mile of new Westinghouse industries are now being built. It is 12 minutes' walk from the Westinghouse Airbrake Company, and 15 minutes' walk from the Westinghouse Machine Company. The Pittsburgh Railways Company's Second avenue traction cars, marked Wilmerding, run within two squares of the property. The East Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg Yellow Car Line, which runs out Fifth avenue and Forbes street, will be extended close to the property in about August or September. This will give the property two street car lines to Pittsburgh, in addition to an excellent suburban passenger service on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Fifty-six trains stop daily at Turtle Creek station and make the journey to the Union Depot, Pittsburgh, in 26 minutes to 37 minutes. The schedule time to Pittsburgh on the traction cars is 55 minutes, only 15 minutes longer than it takes to run from many parts of the East End to Pittsburgh. The distance from Turtle Creek Borough to Pittsburgh is just 12 miles, the same distance that Sewickley is from Allegheny.

The town has a population of 6,500, having doubled itself in three years, and would be 30,000 today had it been possible to purchase this property years ago.

In going from Pittsburgh to ELECTRIC PLAN property take the Second Avenue Traction Cars, marked Wilmerding, anywhere on Fourth Avenue, between Market and Grant Streets, or Pennsylvania Railroad trains at Union Depot and get off at Turtle Creek. Trains during the day leave Union Depot for Turtle Creek, as follows: 7:48 a. m., 9:00 a. m., 9:55 a. m., 12:10 p. m., 12:40 p. m., 1:50 p. m, 3:00 p. m., 3:30 p. m., 4:05 p. m., 4:20 p. m., 4:55 p. m., 5:20 p. m., 5:30 p. m., 5:40 p. m., 5:50 p. m., 6:00 p. m., 6:20 p. m., 6:40 p. m.

You can secure further information, free car tickets, free train tickets, etc., by applying on the property to the Turtle Creek Land and Improvement Company, or the Company's regular authorized Agents, as follows:

SCHWAB ENGAGES GUESTS' ROOMS

Will Entertain Homestead Graduates at Atlantic City Hostelry.

WILL TRAVEL IN PRIVATE CAR

Industrial School Pupils Will Remain at the Seashore from June 25 to July 1—Steel Officials Banquet at the Marlborough.

SPECIAL TO THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 18.

President Charles M. Schwab of the steel corporation has engaged handsome apartments at the Seaside for the graduating class of 1903 of the Homestead Industrial school, Homestead, for the 20 girl graduates who will come to Atlantic City in the steel magnate's private car, the "Loretto," on June 25 and will be the guests of President Schwab until July 1.

Camden Postmaster Didn't Arrive.

The police have been on the lookout for the body of Postmaster Louis Derousse of Camden, who being found $2,000 short in his accounts intimated that he was coming here to commit suicide. He was a frequent visitor here and it was thought he might have accomplished his purpose. Tonight, however, the department received a telegram from Baltimore calling the search off as the postmaster was found in Baltimore alive and well, but badly worried.

Banquet of Steel Officials.

A number of officers of the United States Steel Corporation held a banquet at the Hotel Marlborough last night. The occasion was more of a social affair than anything else. It was expected Charles M. Schwab would be present, but a telegram was received from him at 8 o'clock regretting his inability to appear.

Governor Sends Good Wishes.

The National League of Press clubs invited Governor Pennypacker to attend the opening and banquet on the 23rd of this month. Last night the committee received a carefully worded wire from the governor conveying his regrets that he was so harrassed by affairs political that he will be unable to put in an appearance. He sent his best wishes, however, and hoped that the Press clubs would have an enjoyable convention.

STEEL PRICES WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED

NEW YORK, June 18.—(Special.) Prices of finished steel products for 1904 delivery will not be reduced as a result of the meetings that are being held this week to determine the new schedule, according to an official of the United States Steel Corporation. "Prices will not be lowered," he said, "and it is safe to say that there will be no changes whatever. The price of steel rails will continue at $28 a ton."

M'KLVEEN FAMILY REUNION AT GREENSBURG, PA.

Rev. W. H. McKiveen. | J. L. McKiveen. | J. Cramer McKleeven. | Samuel L. McKleeven.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—At the home of J. Cramer McKiveen, West Third street, today the members of one of the best known families in Westmoreland county met in reunion. Two of the brothers have made their residence in the west since the early 60's, and the breaking out of the civil war still further tended to keep the members of th family separated, the gathering today being the first time they have all been together for over 40 years. In the first half of the last century Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKleeven were among the most prominent residents of Donegal township. Eight children were born to them—J. A., J. L., Samuel L., Robert, J. Cramer, Mary and Isabella. Robert died several years ago. J. A. and Samuel L. moved to Sharlton, Ia., where both prospered and are wealthy farmers. W. H. McKiveen studied for the ministry and is pastor of the Wylie Avenue Baptist church, Pittsburgh. J. L. McKiveen is also a resident of Pittsburgh, and the youngest of the family, J. Cramer McKiveen, is a prominent merchant of Greensburg.

The sisters are Mrs. Mary Kells of Youngstown and Mrs. Isabella Bitner of Jones Mills. The guests today included the children and grandchildren of the survivors of the family. A big dinner was served at noon, all of the brothers and sisters making speeches. There were two guests not members of the family, Capt. J. J. Wirsing of Greensburg, in whose company Robert McKiveen served in the civil war, and the Rev. William J. Coulston, pastor of the First Baptist church of Greensburg. The members of the family will all visit together the old home in the Ligonier valley before the Iowa brothers return home.

NINE MEN ARRESTED FOR CAUSING A RIOT

Unsuccessful Attempt to Cause a Strike on Railroad Construction.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANA, PA., June 18.—A riot occurred near Parkwood, on the new West Lebanon extension of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway, early this morning. At this point King, Clements & Shoemaker, contractors, have a large force of men, principally Italians, at work on construction. Several days ago a negro and an Italian gang boss were discharged, and they disappeared. Yesterday afternoon they appeared, it is said, and gathering a crowd of 25 sympathizers, started to make trouble, and to organize a strike.

This morning, when the drivers went to the stables to get their teams, they were met by a fusilade of stones and clubs, and one Italian was struck on the head and badly wounded.

A message was sent to this place and this afternoon Constable Wertling and a posse of deputies went to the scene. News of their coming preceded them, and they were able to capture but nine of the rioters. The negro, who was the instigator of the trouble escaped. The others, who were lodged in jail here tonight, have given no names.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION TO MEET IN COSHOCTON

AKRON, O., June 18.—The state convention of the Young People's Christian union of the United Brethren church closed a three days' sessions here this afternoon. The next convention will be held in Coshocton. The following officers were elected: President, Claude H. Eckart, Akron; vice president, George D. Weimer, Beech City; recording secretary, H. B. Slusser, Akron; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clara P. Kersch, Montrose; mission superintendent, the Rev. J. S. Kendall, Columbus.

The Pennsylvania railroad will sell round trip tickets, Pittsburgh to Boston, on June 25 to 28, inclusive, at rate of thirteen ($13.00) dollars for the round trip, and good to stop off at New York and Philadelphia on the return trip. These tickets are available for passage either by boat or rail between New York and Boston. Full information and parlor or sleeping car accommodations can be procured on application at company offices, No. 599 Fifth avenue, or Union station, this city.

TREAT IN STORE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL FOLKS

School of Methods for Sunday School Teachers to Be Held Here Next Week.

"A School of Methods for Sunday School Teachers," is to be held from June 22 to June 26 at the Pennsylvania College for Women, in the Woodlawn road, East End. It is an unique departure in religious instruction, backed by some of the most competent Sabbath school instructors in the state. The plan of work for the four days reveals exhaustive preparation. It is under the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association board of management, of which John Wanamaker is president.

Among the officials were the following Pittsburghers: W. P. Herbert, one of the vice-presidents; H. J. Heinz, chairman of the executive committee; A. P. Burchfield and Samuel Young, members of this committee. Maj. Gen. Charles Miller of Franklin, is also a member of this committee.

Monday afternoon J. Campbell White, M. A., of India, will lecture on "Foreign Missions." Monday evening the visitors will be given a trolley ride around Pittsburgh and its nearby points of interest. Dr. William Byron Forbush of Boston will lecture Tuesday afternoon on "How to Teach a Boys' Class." That evening Dr. Jesse L. Huriburt of Morristown, N. J., will lecture on "The Bible Study for the Twentieth Century." Dr. Forbush will continue his lectures Thursday, also Dr. Hurlburt, and that evening will be devoted to a social entertainment.

Two Men Are Missing.

David Norris, 29 years old, of Bigelow street, Twenty-third ward, has been missing from his home for the last 16 days. Michael Houck, aged 65 years, is missing from his home, in the rear of No. 2028 Penn avenue.

PERSONALS

Miss Etta M. Riley of Galesburg, Ill., is in Pittsburgh, conferring with local labor leaders relative to the formation of branches of the Women's Union Label League of America. The object of the association is to have all the women purchase nothing unless it has a union label attached. It has over 3,700 members.

Thomas J. Williams and George Shephard, representing the slate roofers, returned here yesterday from attending the annual convention at Philadelphia.

Five Indians and a squaw were passengers on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last night. They have just returned from Europe and are on their way home at Palm Ridge, Dak. They were with Buffalo Bill's wild west show, but becoming tired of show life and decided to return. Oliver Livinie, husband of the squaw, said that traveling was hard. They had to give two and three performances a day and had little chance for rest. He is of opinion that the present tour is a failure. Seldom, he claims, were the tents full, and often only half as many were present as could be accommodated.

W. B. Wilson, secretary of the United Mine Workers, accompanied by Edward McKay, national organizer, were passengers on the Pennsylvania Limited. They have been on an organizing tour of the coal fields of central Pennsylvania. Mr. Wilson claims that they met with good results and the indications are that the district will become as large as any belonging to the union within a short time. Mr. Wilson went to the headquarters of the union at Indianapolis, while Mr. McKay remained in Pittsburgh.

J. Edgar Halsted has just returned from a trip to Kansas City. He says the extent of the flood at Armourville, a suburb of Topeka, will never be known. It is impossible to locate the streets for debris and the asphalt pavements have been washed away.

Thomas E. Watt, western district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, left last night for Philadelphia. Before leaving he said that the passenger traffic has increased more in proportion than freight. It required eight more coaches yesterday to accommodate the Pittsburgh passengers east.

James Kountz, Jr., and James Kountz and wife, of Washington, D. C., left last night for New York, where they will board the Celtic for Europe. They will be absent until September. John W. Dohner and family of Pittsburgh also left last night for a European trip.

The Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D., pastor of the Jefferson Park Presbyterian church, Chicago, formerly pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, will come to Pittsburgh today to baptize the the infant son of Professor Edward Young, of the Second Presbyterian church. The ceremony will take place in the Second Presbyterian church at 5 o'clock, and friends of Dr. Talmage and the church will be freely admitted to the ceremony. An informal reception will be given Dr. Talmage after the service. Dr. Talmage has taken up largely the great work which his late father carried on for many years. He is well known to entire Western Pennsylvania through his remarkable work in the Second Presbyterian church.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

The residents of nearby towns registered at the local hotels last night were as follows:

NEW CASTLE POTTERS ARE TO BE DEPORTED

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—United States Immigrant Inspector V. P. Jankovski left here tonight for Ellis Island, New York, with five English pottery workers he arrested here for violating the alien contract labor laws through coming here from England to work for the New Castle Pottery Company. They are William P. Hall, Arthur Jackson, John Hall, Alfred Banks and Joseph Walkleie. They were not unwilling to return home, as they said they made higher wages there.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

ERIE, PA.—F. B. Page, 75 years of age, a retired commercial traveler, was killed by a train at Union station.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—Thomas Tucker, colored, who murdered Mary Bell, a white woman to whom he loved her, was sentenced to be hanged at the penitentiary on July 24.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—William J. Powers of Lordstburg, who was injured on the Erie railroad, and S. S. Cunninghame, a Baltimore & Ohio fireman, injured at Akron, died at the City hospital.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—George West, accused of the murder of Civil Engineer Ralph Silver, of Millvale, Allegheny county, was acquitted. West pleaded self-defense, although the commonwealth was unable to prove that he stabbed Silver.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Joseph Della, aged 12, an Italian, was the victim of a fatal trolley accident. The boy was sitting a little on the rear of a buckboard wagon. The wagon collided with a motor car and the boy was thrown under the wheels.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—William H. Crehen, superintendent of the tube department of the Youngstown Iron Sheet Tube Company, has resigned his position. He will be succeeded by Henry Doyle, formerly of the Spang-Chalfant Company of Pittsburgh.

MERCER, PA.—The grand jury returned an indictment of Manslaughter against Harry Washington and Cora Bolton of Sharpsville, charged with inflicting injuries which resulted in the death of Washington's 6-year-old son. The case will be tried next week.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Mrs. Ellen Black of Brownsville, Pa., came here and identified the young woman who committed suicide here as her niece, Ida Berry of Brownsville, who was married to James Othello, a Cuban trainer for the W. & J. football team, who deserted his wife.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Little progress was made in the wage conference between the Youngstown Iron Sheet and Tube Company and the Amalgamated Association. The controversy is on the heating rates of the sheip scale. The Amalgamated rate is 71-4 per ton, but the company claims to have an improved method which should lessen the cost.

Never Without the Goods.

A prominent broker of New York, who is called upon to make a number of trips to Europe every year, always includes in his traveling paraphernalia a case of Red Raven Splits. When jested with upon this fact by his friends he took the matter quite seriously, and said: "Watie you young men may take Red Raven Splits before breakfast for too much eating and drinking the night before and to get rid of that dark-brown taste. I have always found the water an excellent alleviative for seasickness, and that feeling of fullness and lassitude that so often accompanies long journeys. I have never among the foreign bitter waters found an asperient that acts so surely and gently upon the liver, it being absolutely painless. I, therefore, take no chances, and carry Red Raven Splits with me wherever I go."

THE DEATH ROLL

Maj. Nathan M. McDowell.

Maj. Nathan Marshall McDowell, a former resident of Pittsburgh, died at Atlantic City at an early hour yesterday morning. He had been ill but a short time, at which time he moved from Pittsburgh to Atlantic City with the hope that his health might be benefited. He was the son of Nathan McDowell, one of the best known civil engineers in this part of the country half a century ago. He was born at Brownsville, August 18, 1837. When Maj. McDowell first came to Pittsburgh he was connected with the firm of Singer, Nimick & Co., as superintendent, filling the position for several years. For a number of years he was city engineer of Allegheny and was one of the members who built the Seventh street bridge. Later he was connected with the Pittsburgh Tube Company and the Keystone Rolling mills in an official capacity. The deceased is survived by his widow and two daughters, Miss Richard Lowrie of Pittsburgh and Miss Mary McDowell of Atlantic City, and three sons, Edward S. of New York and F. M. and W. H. of this city. The remains were shipped from Atlantic City last night, Sunday, and will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning at 8:30. Funeral services will be held at Snyder's chapel, Sixth avenue, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Interment will be in the Charters cemetery.

Mrs. Annie Miller.

Mrs. Annie E. Miller, wife of the Rev. Frederick S. Miller, both of this city, but engaged for some years in missionary work in Korea, is dead at Seoul of septicemia, according to advices received in this city from the Presbyterian board of missions at New York. Frederick Miller is a son of Dr. W. N. Miller of the South Side and Mrs. Miller was a daughter of Lincoln Robertson, who is living with another daughter, Ida, in the old Reid residence. The couple had been engaged in missionary work in Korea since their marriage 15 years ago, and had returned on a visit here three years ago. Mrs. Miller was a graduate of the Pittsburgh ward and high schools. She was well known here, especially among active workers in the Presbyterian church. Besides her mother and sister two brothers survive. They are Dr. H. L. Reinecke of the South Side and John Reinecke of Crafton.

Joseph B. Evans.

Joseph B. Evans, 55 years old, died at his residence, No. 107 Fry street, Edgewood, yesterday at 1:15 p. m. Mr. Evans was ill but a short time. BERNARD M'KENNA, FORMER MAYOR, PASSED AWAY

Long Struggle Against Death Ended Peacefully While Surrounded by His Family.

THE END CAME AT NOON

Life Was Spent in Pittsburgh, Where He Served With Distinction in Many High Public Offices—Was Known to Thousands.

Bernard McKenna, former mayor of Pittsburgh, and one of the most prominent Democratic politicians in this section, died yesterday morning at 11:55 o'clock at his residence, No. 6525 Marchand street, East End. His death had been expected by his physician and family for over a week, and when the end came his wife and two sons, and his brother, P. A. McKenna, and his sister, Miss Catherine McKenna, were at his bedside. Attorney Charles F. McKenna, another brother, went downtown on business shortly before his brother died.

Judge McKenna's remains were on a couch, which was surrounded by many palms and beautiful flowers, last night at his residence in Marchand street. During the evening hundreds of friends of the former mayor and of the family visited the home.

Among the callers were men prominent in political, professional and business life in Pittsburgh in which Judge McKenna had friends by the hundreds. From among this large number of friends his closest associates in business and political life have been selected to act as pall-bearers.

Funeral Services.

Funeral services will be held at the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, in Center avenue, East End, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated by the Rev. Father E. M. McKeever, assisted by the Rev. Francis H. Keane, the rector, and the Rev. Father Callery. Interment will take place after the services in the family lot in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery, Lawrenceville.

The honorary pall-bearers will be: The Hon. Henry P. Ford, the Hon. William J. Diehl, the Hon. William McCallin, each a former mayor of Pittsburgh, and Capt. B. W. Morgan, Anthony F. Keating, John C. Reilly, R. H. Lindsay, Roger O'Mara, B. J. Call, James Durning, D. J. Boyle, E. G. Mooney and Michael Feeney.

The active pall-bearers will be: William J. Brennen, John S. Flannery, Thomas B. Foley, Charles E. Flinn, Joseph F. Joyce, the Hon. John Kearns, Alderman Stephen J. Toole and the Hon. John J. Sweeney.

FORMER MAYOR BERNARD M'KENNA.

Life of Bernard McKenna.

Mr. McKenna had been in ill health for over a year with an affection of the stomach. Shortly before he retired as police magistrate, a position held for many years at Central station, he was compelled to relinquish his duties for several weeks on account of his health. He had been in a critical condition for over a week, and his death was expected by his family and friends.

Judge McKenna, as he was familiarly known, was for many years one of the leaders of the Democratic party in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. Judge McKenna took an active interest in Democratic politics in this city from his youth, having inherited his liking for politics from his father, who was prominent in the councils of his party more than 60 years ago.

Bernard McKenna was born on February 6, 1842, in a house in Penn avenue, near Ninth street. On the same premises he afterward established his office as alderman of the ward and served for 20 years, through four successive terms, of office. His grandfather, Hugh McKenna, emigrated from County Tyrone, Ireland, in 1820, and settled in the old Fourth ward. The pioneer family landed at Quebec, and, being unable in those days to secure transportation by railroad or canal, was obliged to walk the entire distance to Pittsburgh, where other relatives had preceded them.

Thomas, the father of Judge McKenna, entered the contracting business and became active in Democratic politics, being elected overseer of the poor in 1842 in the face of a large Whig majority, which had up to that time held the office. Bernard received only a primary education. He attended the public schools in his native ward and later was a member of night classes conducted in the Cathedral school by the Christian brothers. In his 15th year he was apprenticed as a stove molder with John C. Parry & Co. and afterward worked as a journeyman with A. Beatty & Co., Bissell's foundry and in Mitchell's foundry.

Organized Ironmolders' Union.

During this time he took an active interest in labor circles and organized the Ironmolders' union, serving for several years as its first treasurer, continuing in the office until elected alderman. In his 20th year he was elected captain of the Allegheny volunteer fire company of the Fourth ward and led his band of fire fighters until the creation of the paid fire department by the city. For some years he continued in the city's service as an employe of the fire bureau and did not relinquish the position until after his election to the office of alderman.

Judge McKenna had by this time become one of the popular young men of the Fourth ward, and his friends ran him for alderman, the first office to which he had aspired. He was elected by a great majority in 1875 and was the successor of the late Squire James Donaldson. Judge McKenna held the office of alderman of the Fourth ward for 20 years, having been re-elected to succeed himself for three successive terms. In the railroad riots of 1877 Mr. McKenna assisted the firemen in their efforts to prevent the strikers burning and looting buildings, and, with the assistance of firemen, he fought off the rioters in their attempt to burn the old Rush house in Liberty avenue, near Union station.

In 1887 Judge McKenna was nominated for mayor of Pittsburgh by the Democrats and led for his opponent former Mayor William McCallin, who was the Republican nominee. Mayor McCallin was elected, and one of his first official acts was to appoint Judge McKenna the minority police magistrate. He held the position of police magistrate till 1903, when he again became a candidate for mayor of the city. He defeated John S. Lamble, the Republican candidate, by a majority of 1,200. During his administration he was active in looking after the interests and improvements in Pittsburgh. It was during his term as mayor that the bridges to the South Side were made free to the public.

Zoo Completed During His Term.

Mayor McKenna was chairman of the committee which had the building of the zoo in Highland park, and it was to him that the late Senator Christopher L. Magee made the offer to build the Highland park zoological gardens at a cost of $125,000. He was still chief executive of Pittsburgh when the zoo was completed and he received it for the people. He was also an active member of several committees which had in charge the Grand Army of the Republic national encampment, held in Pittsburgh in 1884. Mayor McKenna was also active in having the big improvements made to Schenley park during his term and was always the head of committees having the Fourth of July demonstrations in the park in charge.

When he was succeeded by Mayor H. P. Ford he was appointed police magistrate at Central station. He was reappointed by Mayor William J. Diehl. When the new city charter went into effect and Mayor Adam M. Brown succeeded Mayor Diehl, Mr. McKenna was one of the first men to be retained by the new city recorder. Judge McKenna was retained when City Recorder Joseph O. Brown was appointed, and he continued to preside as magistrate at Central station for Mayor William P. Hays, who succeeded Mr. Brown. Judge McKenna supported District Attorney John C. Haymaker against Mayor Hays, and on the latter's election Judge McKenna was forced to resign to succeed himself. Judge McKenna made a splendid record as police magistrate, and arresting officers and prisoners were always assured of receiving fair treatment at his hands. Judge McKenna never missed an opportunity during sessions of his court to find amusement in stories told by witnesses and policemen.

Judge McKenna during his political career frequently represented his district in state conventions and national Democratic gatherings. He was a personal friend of Pittsburgh's most prominent citizens and numbered his friends by the hundreds.

In 1872 he married Miss Mary McShane of the Fourth ward, who survives him. He leaves three children: Mrs. Kirby, wife of E. T. McNulty, a tin plate manufacturer of Washington, Pa.; J. Frank McKenna, an attorney of the Pittsburgh bar, and William B. McKenna, a medical student; also two brothers, Attorney Charles F. McKenna and P. A. McKenna. The McKenna family has for years attended the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church in Center avenue, East End.

MONEY FOR PLAYGROUNDS.

Allegheny Common Council Appropriates $1,000 for Children of the North Side.

Allegheny common council last night passed by a vote of 21 to 13 the ordinance appropriating $1,000 for summer playgrounds for school children. The measure was fought by a number of the members, who were of the opinion that it was not legal. Resolutions providing for the payment of back salary to several policemen for time lost on account of injuries received while on duty were referred back to the committee on public safety for more definite information.

A number of ordinances establishing grades of alleys and providing for lateral sewers in several thoroughfares passed finally. The ordinance licensing mercy 20-pounds was amended so that owners of such machines be charged $50 per month or any part of a month for their operation in the city.

MADE THIEVES BY EDUCATION

Delegate to Children's Home Convention Says Book-Learning Injures Negroes.

BECOME TOO GOOD TO WORK

The decision to raise a national fund, a warm discussion on the negro, in which one speaker claimed that education is injurious to many of the colored race, and the election of officers were the principal features of the closing session of the convention of the National Children's Home society yesterday. The negro question was brought up at the afternoon session, when George S. Sehon of Louisville, Ky., spoke of the race problem in the south.

Mr. Sehon said that originally the trafic of slavery could be traced to the north. He said that the problem, as it stood today, is not a southern, but a national one. He said the public school system of the south is the ruination of the negro. By statistics, he said that 90 per cent of the criminals of the south are negroes and 75 per cent of these are young men educated in the schools.

Gets Too Good to Work.

"When a southern negro is taken away from work and sent to school and educated," said Mr. Sehon, "he imagines himself too good for work, and as they all cannot have clerical work, he makes a living mostly by stealing." He thought that industrial schools are the things for them, or any other place where they can be taught to work. As a suggestion, he said the society might get some of the children and put them in families in the north.

At the conclusion of his address, W. B. Sharrord of Sioux Falls, S. D., said he is not in favor of bringing any of the negroes north, as they are well enough off where they are. He said he did not favor having them put in families of white people, as they would be brought up as servants, and he thought all men should be equal.

Chairman D. R. Lucas also made a short address on the subject, and said he did not think it was right to bring the slavery days up again, and much less, put them in the north.

A short address was made by the Rev. J. P. Dysart on a book he has just written, entitled, "Personality in the Redemption of a Boy." The book tells of the faults of parents in the rearing of children and suggests many good points that could be applied.

Large Fund to Be Raised.

For the purpose of carrying out the objects of the association it was decided to appoint a committee of 15 to raise an endowment fund of several million dollars. J. W. Marsh of this city will be a member of the committee and Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury, will be treasurer of the fund.

E. H. Darby of Columbus made an address on "Unofficial Interference With the Placed-Out Child," in which he told of what the organization had to contend with from people who meddled with the affairs of their work, much of which is prompted by jealousy.

Other addresses were: "Notes from the Field," C. V. Williams, Trenton, N. J.; "What to Do With the Older Children Who are Returned for Replacement," the Rev. C. C. Stahman, St. Louis, Mo.; "The Supervision of the Placed-Out Child," the Rev. E. P. Savage, St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Savage was not present but his wife presented the paper.

The following officers were elected: President, Charles H. Henderson, Chicago, Ill.; vice president, A. O. Wright, Madison, Wis.; secretary, H. H. Hart, Chicago, Ill.; treasurer, J. P. Dysart, Milwaukee, Wis.; field secretary, G. C. Knobls, Chicago, Ill. The board of directors consists of Dr. F. H. Darby, Columbus, O.; the Rev. Dr. N. D. Antell, Freeport, Ill.; Frank B. Toby, Chicago; Joseph P. Byers, Jefferson, Ind.; W. B. Sharrord, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Henry Augustine, Normal, Ill.; O. S. Morrow, Topeka, Kan.; I. Z. T. Morris, Fort Worth, Tex.; M. T. Lamb, Trenton, N. J.; C. N. Adams, Indianapolis; C. R. Henderson, Chicago; C. J. Marsh, Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH TO WHEELING.

Application for New Cumberland Traction Franchise Part of Plan to Link Two Cities.

By application for franchises for a trolley line in New Cumberland, the Pittsburgh capitalists who propose to link Pittsburgh with Wheeling by an electric railroad have made another advance in their plans. The New Cumberland company proposes to connect with the Panhandle Traction Company, which recently opened up its line from Wheeling to Wellsburg.

It is believed the lines which have been recently chartered along the Ohio river are part of this plan to connect the two cities. The river course is to be followed practically the entire way, as it touches the largest number of towns and offers the best grades.

NAPLES—The North German Lloyd steamer Hohenzollern from New York, June 4, has been slightly damaged in a collision with the Dutch steamer Konig. The latter sustained no damage.

MANILA—A court martial has been ordered for the trial of Lieut. Hamilton Foley of the Fifth cavalry on the charge of embezzling soldiers' pay, improperly contracting debts and deceiving his superiors.

SOFIA, BULGARIA—Former Premier Ivantchoff, former Minister of Public Works Tontchoff and former Minister of the Interior Radoslavoff, who were indicted on the charge of malfeasance in office, were sentenced to eight months imprisonment at hard labor.

LIMA, PERU—There is considerable excitement in political circles here regarding the choice of a successor of Dr. Lino Alarco, the vice president of Peru who died June 13. It is reported that Senor De Peirola may be selected which might result in calming the stormy state of political affairs here.

BERLIN—The trial of a so-called "female bluebeard," Frau Przygodda, began at Allenstein, East Prussia. Her fifth husband, Przygodda, a hotel keeper, caught her putting arsenic in his coffee and remembered that her other husbands, all prosperous peasants, died suddenly. The authorities exhumed their remains and found arsenic in each of them.

THIS IS SOMEBODY'S WEDDING DAY.

For Many Others It Is a Great Bargain Day.

Mr. Campbell is passing the summer in Scotland.

But, if anyone imagines for a moment that things are going slow at "The People's Store" in his absence, let them read the advertisement in yesterday's papers—or the digest of it in The Gazette this morning.

Sixty superlative features combine their forces to attract customers to "The People's Store"—not a brisk trade—not a holiday crowd—but such a throng that any smaller store would have to close the doors against a multitude so overwhelming.

The show window today is an index of the special features.

TWENTY-FIVE GOT THEIR DIPLOMAS

Brilliant Gathering at the Commencement Exercises of Shadyside Academy.

ADVICE BY DR. DORCHESTER

Twenty-five young men, members of the senior class of 1903 of Shadyside academy, received the farewells of their alma mater last night at the commencement exercises in Carnegie Music hall.

A brilliant gathering of 2,000 persons showered their applause as each favorite rose to receive his diploma. Every member of the class was presented with a huge armful of flowers by some admirer in the crowd. The back of the stage was draped with the school colors, blue and orange, and displayed the class numerals. The program of the exercises was as follows:

Prayer; music, "Marathon Race," by the Glee club; oration, "The Regulation of Trusts," William Morton Clair Daggette; oration, "Popular Election of United States Senators," Charles A. Gable; music, "Anchored," by the Glee club; oration, "A Plea for Macedonia," Richard R. Townsend; oration, "The Man Who Defied Napoleon," Stephen Dows Thaw; music, "School Song," by the Glee club; address to class of 1903, by the Rev. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., Ph. D.; presentation of diplomas, by Principal W. R. Crabbe; benediction.

In his address to the class Dr. Dorchester used as his text the lines of Milton, "To make of hell a heaven, and of heaven a hell," and said:

"Your world is what your mind makes it, and you will get out of it what you take in. Will you make of your college an Athens or a Coney Island, and will you see your later life as Dr. Johnson saw Scotland, or as Scott saw it glowing with romance?"

Although in his college days himself an athlete of prominence, Dr. Dorchester warned the students against the danger of athletics absorbing their entire interest. Principal Crabbe, on the other hand, commented on the prowess on the baseball and football fields of each member of the class in turn as he handed him his diploma.

The graduating class was as follows: Theodore Perry Black, John Renshaw Chisletb, Marshall Hilbert Cochran, William Morton Clair Daggette, Frank Augustus Dean, Alan George Donnelly, Stuart Dravo, Charles A. Gable, Ralph Gustav Kann, Edgar Jones Kaufmann, Paul Christian Lappe, James Willliam Macfarlane, William Fulton Melhuish, Jr., Stewart McKee Morgan, Horace McDowell, William John McKee, Edwin Mifflin Ong, Joseph Newton Pew, Jr., Clarence Schmertz, Carl Donaldson Schultz, George Putnam Scritchfield, Alexander Kilgore Sloan, Francis Laird Snowden, Stephen Dows Thaw and Richard R. Townsend.

Oetting's Hats

Smooth straws or rough straws.

Select either kind, they are both fashionable.

Be sure, though, that you select the proper shape.

Or, better, let us select it for you.

We know how.

Flat brim Yachts are the best. The widest brims are 3¼, 3 and 2¾ inches, the narrow brims are 2½ and 2¼ inches.

Finest grades at $3, $2.50, $2 and $1.50.

Good ones as low as $1.75c and 50c.

Soft roll brim straws in the nobby broad brim and the sedate narrow brim effects are especially good now. Prices $1 to $4.

Black and White mixed Sennett straw sailors are the novelties this season.

Linen crash and duck outing hats and caps in white, drab and fancy mixtures, 25c, 50c and $1.

Many Kinds Are Here.

OIL COMPANY PROMOTERS HAVE BECOME BANKRUPTS

Bad Venture Send a Cleveland Concern With Pittsburgh Office to the Wall.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 18.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States court today by the Adams & Sarber Oil Company and Bankruptcy Referee Remington named Charles Zucker as receiver. The assets are placed at $171,000; liabilities $331,000. The company operated extensively in oil wells and property in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania and unsuccessful ventures are said to have created dissatisfaction among the stockholders.

The insolvent concern promoted the Cleveland Lima Oil Company, the Cleveland-Parkersburg Oil Company, the Cleveland-Hancock Oil Company, the Cash Dollar Oil Company, the Trenton Oil & Gas Company, the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg Oil Company, the Chicago & Lima Oil Company, and a half dozen others. It had an extensive chain of offices which embraced Chicago, Indianapolis, Columbus, Toledo, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Denver, Boston, Philadelphia, New York and other smaller places.

Attorneys connected with the case state that the losses do not involve stockholders of companies nor the companies themselves which the partnership promoted.

SCHOLARS' PICNICS.

Arrangements in Allegheny for the Jubilee and Other Outings.

Jubilee day is to be observed this year by the children of the Allegheny schools, as has been the custom for years past. Next Friday is the day set for the closing of the school term, and in the afternoon the children will march to the West park, where each ward attending is to have a tent raised. The Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Tenth wards have already arranged to take part in the jubilee exercises, the other wards taking their annual outing at other places. The Third and Fifth wards will hold a picnic in Riverview park next Friday. The First ward will have a field day on the Phipps playground in Rebecca street, on Thursday of next week.

On Wednesday the children of the Fourth ward will go to Olympia by steamboat. The Seventh ward goes to Calhoun park on Monday, and the Ninth ward will have a picnic at the same place on Wednesday. An excursion up the Allegheny to Ross Grove on the steamer Beauty has been arranged for the children of the Eighth ward on Friday, and the Eleventh ward goes to Calhoun park on Thursday. At the big picnic at Riverview park Friday there will be a balloon ascension, fireworks and free lunches.

Firemen Give a Carnival.

A street carnival and fair was opened last evening by the North Braddock fire department in the streets surrounding the new municipal building. The carnival will continue this and tomorrow evenings. The proceeds are to be used in furnishing the companies from the First and Second wards with new uniforms.

PRESIDENT IS MOVING TO SUMMER CAPITOL

Executive Offices Will Be Located Over a Grocery Store at Oyster Bay.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Roosevelt has begun moving to the summer capital at Oyster Bay on Long Island. The presidential offices will be located this summer in the Morse block, at the corner of South and Main streets, instead of in the Oyster Bay bank building, which was last year's official home. A grocery store is on the ground floor, another grocery occupies the diagonally opposite lot, and a meat shop and the dry goods store are upon the corners.

When the president goes to Oyster Bay he will be accompanied by Secretary Loeb, Stenographer Latta, and Messengers Hall, Lightfoot and Dulaney. Later in the summer Assistant Barnes and Stenographers McGrew and Webster will probably go to Oyster Bay to relieve their brother toilers, who will take their vacations. The president expects to leave for Oyster Bay June 27, to remain until September 1 or thereabouts.

Wyoming, the saddle horse presented to the president, is becoming accustomed to Washington sights. In the street between the White House and navy department this morning he stood stock still right alongside of an automobile. He didn't even turn up his ears when a messenger boy skimmed along on a bicycle.

FOURTEEN LYDDITE WORKERS ARE BLOWN TO FRAGMENTS

LONDON, June 18.—Fourteen men were killed and 13 injured by an explosion in the lyddite factory at the Woolwich arsenal this morning. Six other men are missing. The building was completely wrecked and the interior collapsed. The explosion is attributed to the bursting of a shell. There were many pathetic scenes about the gates of the great arsenal where thousands of relatives of the employes besieged the officials for information.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING.

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sale of this preparation since first introduced in Pittsburgh and the remarkable results following its use, have made Schilling Bros. Co., Frankstown and Penn avenues, such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Mi-o-na that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na will not make thin people fat, cure indigestion and restore health.

This is a strong guarantee, but Druggists Schilling Bros. Co. have seen so many of their customers, who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons, become plump and well, solely through the use of Mi-o-na that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good, rich blood, tones up the weakened digestive organs, helps the food to digest, and makes permanent cures in the worst cases of indigestion.

As Business Bringers Gazette Classified Ads Have No Equal.

TODAY, Friday (Hour Sale Day), this store will most emphatically demonstrate its usefulness to the buying public. June is house cleaning time with most manufacturers and importers, and consequently our most profitable time for buying—and that means YOURS. From the many manufacturers' remainder stocks and importers' excess lots which have lately passed into our possession, we have culled the best bargains for today's Hour Sale, and added to them our own "too-manys." The list of special items printed below is the result. In some instances a third has been taken off the regular prices; in others, half price is the rule. Unquestionably, these are

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Pittsburgh at Boston.
Chicago at New York.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Brooklyn.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, MASS., June 19.—By defeating Boston 7 to 2 today the Champion Pirates, by reason of New York's defeat at the hands of Chicago, are within one point of the Giants for first place in the pennant race.

Pitcher Doheny was the bright particular star of the game. He gave a performance that was absolutely gilt edged. Three measley scattered hits was the best the Bostons could do with his delivery and only a little careless fielding prevented another shutout. The Bostons scored one in the third on a two-bagger by Bonner, passed ball by Phelps, which rolled under the players' bench and on which Bonner scored.

Pittsburgh had men on bases in the fourth, but lost an opportunity to score when Sebring was caught at the plate by an accurate throw by Carney. Then in the fifth came Mr. Malarkey's finish. With one out Phelps and Doheny drew passes to first. Beaumont scored the first named by a fast single. Stanley at short made a bad mess of Clarke's grounder and Phelps trotted home. Wagner stashed a fairly easy one for a single and Doheny, in Sebring's out brought Beaumont into port by good sprinting, Wagner going to third. Stanley, who, to do him justice, was not playing the regular position, let Bransfield's slow one go through him and Big Hans counted one. Leach ended the agony by going out at first. Five runs.

In Boston's half with one out Moran worked around to third. But Doheny put on steam. Bonner popped up a foul and Malarkey thrice swatted the unresisting air. Both sides scored in the ninth. For Boston Dexter was safe on an error, stole second and scored on Cooley's out at first. He took desperate chances and shot under Phelps by a spectacular slide. He should by rights have been out.

The visitors got the ball back in a jiffy. Phelps, Doheny and Beaumont cracked out successive hits, and Clarke's out allowed the Pittsburgh catcher to cross the plate. Sebring fanned, making the third out with two Pirates left on bases. Boston made a bid for something on the seventh and got a man to second. Then Wagner, Ritchey and Bransfield combined in a lightning double play, which sent all prospects glimmering. The champions did not really need that run in the ninth, but they took it just for luck. Wagner scored it on a fine hit and errors after two outs were out and the grand stand was emptying. Score:

THE GIANTS SHUT OUT.

Mathewson Forced the Only Run Over the Plate.

NEW YORK, June 18.—In a pitchers' battle this afternoon the defeat of the home club was due entirely to Mathewson's wildness in the fifth inning, when he forced Hurley over the plate by giving Slagle a base on balls. Weimer, although he was hit hard at times pulled himself together when men were on bases. The score:

WEST VIRGINIA WON.

Pittsburgh All-Interscholastic Team Was Beaten.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 18.—(Special.)—The All-Interscholastic team of Pittsburgh was beaten by the West Virginia university here this afternoon 6 to 1. The main obstacle in the way of the Pittsburgh team's success was James Smith, the former Pittsburgh academy pitcher. He held the opposing heavy hitters to three safeties, all distributed where they could not count.

Ray Burns pitched an article of ball for the interscholastics that would win nine out of ten games. The infield did not perform well. Smith had the best of support. The collegians did not get a hit off Burns tmil the third inning. In the seventh the Pittsburghers got Smith into a talking match from the side line and soon had the bases full, forcing in the only run. Kenney, the former Pittsburgh high school player, made a sensational one-hand catch.

M'KEESPORT TEAM WON TROPHY EVENT

Trap Experts Made Fine Scores. Elliott Again Carried Off the Shooting Honors.

The two day's tournament of the Western Pennsylvania Trapshooters' league at McKeesport closed yesterday afternoon. The attendance was smaller than on the day preceding, but the shooting was better. The McKeesport team carried off the honors in competition with the North Side and Millvale teams for the gold trophy to be given at the close of the series, making a total of 168 out of a possible 175.

J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City again carried off the honors for individual shooting, increasing his Wednesday score 1 to 85, with a total of 168. He was closely seconded by Atkinson, who made 166. Elliott's best record for straights was 50. Atkinson took the high gun prize of $50, while Kessemer and Jeff took low gun prizes of $5 each. The next tournament will be held at New Castle June 24-25. THE AMERICAN DERBY.

Entry List is Increasing—Dark Horse Is Entered.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Nineteen horses are now regarded as certain starters in the American derby Saturday afternoon at Washington park. Instead of diminishing as the day for the race approaches, the probable field is increasing. The race was never so open in its history, despite the fact that Savable is still a 2 to 1 favorite.

The annual "dark horse" for the derby came to light this afternoon. He is Bonnie Burr, a 236 to 1 shot, owned by W. H. Sayre. This owner sent a message that the colt had been shipped from Cincinnati and announced him as a certain starter. Nothing is known of Bonnie Burr here. He won a race as a 2-year-old.

Fore and Aft, the winner of the Cumberland derby, who is regarded as a dangerous candidate, received his derby work out today over the Washington park track. He covered the mile and a half in 2:36 1-5, and did it handily with about 115 pounds up. His time was: Eighth, :13; quarter, :24 2-5; half, :50; five-eighths, 1:03; six furlongs, 1:16; seven furlongs, 1:28; mile, 1:41 3-5; mile and a quarter, 2:10 1-5; mile and a half, 2:36 1-5.

YALE'S FAST TIME.

GALES FERRY, CONN., June 18.—(Special.)—Yale's 'varsity eight rowed under the watch over the four-mile course on the Thames this evening, covering it in about 23 minutes 35 seconds. Capt. Waterman protested after the spin that Yale was not trying to make fast time. He said: "We simply rowed the four miles tonight to get accustomed to the course. The only period of the row when we tried to make low time was the last half mile."

Coach John Kennedy, of the Yale crew, said that the time made was 24 minutes 4 seconds, but the reporters' watches at the start and finish agreed with 23 and 35. The last half mile was rowed in 2:57. The stroke the last half mile averaged 33. For the first miles it was 28 and 29 to the minute. Two nights ago the Yale eight rowed the four miles in 19:53.

Coxswain Muzzey of the freshmen was today deposed for poor steering and Carlisle Winslow of Hartford took his place. Dick Leevering and Redmand Cross, former oarsmen, arrived today to assist in the coaching.

The Freight Clerks Won.

The baseball teams representing the freight and passenger auditing departments of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, journeyed to Sewickley and settled a question of superiority on the diamond, the freight clerks finally winning out after a hair-raising contest, 9 to 8. The game was fast from the start, and it was impossible to pick the winner until the last man was out. The special features were the work done by Young, Hunter and Sharpe of the freight department, and Frew, Metz and Hanna of the passenger office.

SUBURBAN WON BY AFRICANDER

Herbert's Jockey Made a Claim of Foul, but It Was Not Allowed by Judges.

THIRTY THOUSAND SAW RACE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—For the first time in the score of years of its history the Suburban handicap, greatest of American turf events, was won by a three-year-old today. Africander, swift and game, son of Star Ruby-Afric Queen finished first in a splendid field of fifteen, to thirteen of which he was giving weight. His victory was marred by a claim of foul made by George Odom, rider of Herbert, the second horse, but the judges decided that the winner had earned his prize and let the race stand as run.

Charles Dwyer and Simeon Delmel, proprietors of the Hampton stable, in whose colors Africander ran, won $16,680 in the stake and made a generous present to little Fuller, the New Orleans graduated jockey, who piloted their horse to a stirring victory. They had also backed the horse at 100 to 1 in the winter betting, driving his odds to 50 to 1.

Thirty thousand people saw the race, and few bet on the winner. Shrieks for old Herbert who seemed sure to win in the stretch, shrilled loud from every point, and cries of encouragement greeted Odom when he mounted the stairs of the judges' stand to lodge his claim of foul.

Little Fuller meanwhile was enjoying the first fruits of victory, and, seated in the floral horseshoe was being borne across the lawn. He paled a bit when suddenly summoned from that height of jockey pride to face the judges, but sat forth his case well and Odom's claim was not allowed. Five minutes of intense anxiety, in which even the women were quiet, passed before the red board went up.

Horsemen, although agreeing that Africander and Herbert bumped in the stretch, were of the unanimous belief that the best horse won and that Herbert would also have been first with clear sailing.

Thirteen hours of rain had turned the track into a quagmire and the time 2:10 2-5, was the slowest in the history of the Charles.

First race, 6 furlongs, on main track—Shot Gun, 120, Odom, 16 to 5 and even, won; Black Stock, 133, Burns, 3 to 1 and 9 to 10, second; Dublin, 133, Shaack, 7 to 5 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:14 4-5.

Second race, one mile, selling—Ink, 111, Haack, 3 to 5 and 1 to 4, won; Orloff, 105, F. Walsh, 30 to 1 and 6 to 1, second; Black Hussar, 126, Martin, 15 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:45.

Third race, double event, last 5½ furlongs of futurity course—Aristocracy, 117, Connell, 20 to 1 and 6 to 1, won; Shimmie, 114, Bullman, 7 to 2 and 6 to 5, second; Toledo, 122, Waterbury, 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:07 4-5.

BIG SHELL IS HERE.

Columbia Club's Eight Arrived and Was Used for First Time Last Night.

The first eight-oared shell that ever appeared on the local rivers was launched last night by the members of the Columbia club, who not only launched the big boat, but took their first spin. This new addition to the club's craft arrived over the Baltimore & Ohio Wednesday night and was taken over to the boathouse yesterday.

Not being able to secure a wagon large enough to haul the shell, the Columbia members shouldered the huge shell and carried it across the river. They attracted great attention, the people along the streets thinking the boat was an air ship. The eight will be seen on the river every night that the weather permits rowing.

Played a Fast Game.

At Friendship park last evening P. A. C. defeated the Wolffs of the County league in the fastest game ever played at the park, consuming only one hour and 15 minutes. Douglas, Matthews, old standby, was on the rubber and pitched one of his always fine games and had the visitors at his mercy all the way. Score:

BOWMAN WAS BATTED OUT OF PITCHER'S BOX

Ten Thousand People Watched Crimson Team Win from Yale.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 18.—In a game replete with brilliant plays, Harvard won from Yale this afternoon on Soldiers' field, five to two, in the presence of 10,000 spectators.

During the first inning Harvard batted out three runs, adding another in the second on batting Bowman of Yale out of the box. Patton was substituted for Bowman in the third inning, and after that Harvard secured but one run. Clarkson kept Yale's hits few and scattered. He was also backed up in fine style by the Harvard fielders.

With the score 5 to 2 in the ninth inning, there looked to be a chance for a Yale victory, when Clarkson gave a base on balls, which was followed by two base hits. This was with two men out. Yale supporters rose in a body and cheered their team, but Clarkson steadied down and struck the third man out. The score:

GAPEN'S FINE WORK.

Shut St. Francis College Team Out With Two Hits.

The Pittsburgh college team traveled to Loretto yesterday and defeated St. Francis' college team 6 to 0. Gapen, the old standby, was on the rubber for the Pittsburgh collegians and was almost invincible. He allowed only two hits, gave one free pass to first and struck out 12 men. McCrea, for S. F. C., pitched well while he was in the box, but he retired in the seventh in favor of Dinegan. The score:

GOLF TOURNEY GETS FINE START

R. P. Nevin, Jr., of Edgeworth Club Won Cup Offered for the Lowest Score.

MATCH PLAY STARTS TODAY

In the 36 hole qualifying play of one of the most successful open tournaments ever held in the local golf district, R. P. Nevin, Jr., of the Edgeworth club, Sewickley, won the cup offered for the lowest scores on the Allegheny Country club course at Sewickley Heights yesterday with 154 strokes, one better than George Ormiston of Highland, and three better than E. M. Byers, the local champion, who was runner-up in the national championships last season. Dr. D. P. Fredericks of Oil City, who lost to Byers in the semi-finals of the national events, and W. C. Downes, Jr., of Highland, were tied with the home club champion for third honors.

The 16 lowest scores in the all-day play yesterday qualified for the match play starting this morning and concluding Saturday, for the gold medal offered for the winner of the open tournament. The second 16 continue in match play on the same schedule for the consolation cup, and those who missed yesterday will have another chance in the 18-hole handicap of Saturday, open to all but the finalists of the match play. Ormiston led Nevin by one stroke in the morning. The course was in fine condition and Nevin played a steady game, being sure in his putting. Scores:

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY — WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE Country club was one of the gayest of places yesterday. With private entertainments earlier in the afternoon and the Thursday evening on the lawn, there were a great many people at the club in the Beechwood boulevard throughout the day.

In the afternoon Mrs. William Blackstock Rodgers and Mrs. John G. Bennett entertained at bridge whist. There was no special guest of honor. Thirteen tables were surrounded by the women during the afternoon and at the close of the game handsome prizes were awarded Mrs. George W. Elkins, Mrs. George Pearson, Mrs. Elliott Rodgers, Mrs. William Boyd, Mrs. Oscar H. Babcock and Mrs. William Reston Crabbe. The club house was prettily decorated, and at 4 o'clock tea was served. Mrs. John Dalzell and Mrs. George L. McCoy presiding at the tea table, tea being served in the dining room.

Because of the rain which came about 6 o'clock, dinner was not served last evening on the lawn as arranged, but in the dining room, which was filled with the members of the club and their wives. Many people were at the club house during the evening, having driven out after the rain for the concert, which was given by the American Military band. These club concerts will be continued throughout the summer on alternating Thursday evenings, and in pleasant weather dinner will be served out of doors under the trees.

There was a good deal of interest displayed at the Allegheny Country club yesterday in the qualifying round for the open tournament, the first big golf event on the new club links. The speedi play of Robert P. Nevin, Jr., of Sewickley, with the close following made by George Ormiston and Eben M. Byers, caused excitement among the many people who followed the players over the course. Later they gathered on the club house porches and many stayed over night at the handsome club house in order to follow to the end the contest for the cup, which will continue throughout the week. Nevin won the cup offered yesterday for the lowest score. Friday is women's day and tea will be served as usual on the porches.

United Presbyterian Lawn Fete.

The annual lawn fete and supper of the United Presbyterian Woman's association was held yesterday on the grounds surrounding the Home for Aged People in Wilkinsburg, and although the afternoon was cloudy and the evening rainy, the affair was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. Owing to the chilliness of the air ice cream was served in the basement of the home. Supper was also served in the dining room for the few late arrivals who came after the rain had spoiled the supper tables on the lawn. With these exceptions everything was conducted out of doors and the various booths and tables, as well as the porches of the home, were gayly decorated with flags, Chinese lanterns and bunting.

In addition to the booths for the sale of candies, cakes and fancy and domestic needlework there was a Punch and Judy show for the amusement of the little people, and a fish pond for both young and old. Mrs. Mattie Patterson was general chairman of the affair in the absence of Mrs. H. C. Campbell. Mrs. Samuel Long supervised the decorations; Miss Elizabeth Davidson, printing; Mrs. Henry Clay Blair, amusement; Mrs. Margaret Bulger, supper; Mrs. Edward McElroy, supplies; Mrs. I. M. Scott, finances; Mrs. R. W. Smith, candy, and Mrs. Josephine McGinnis, lemonade.

The lawn fete was given for the benefit of the three institutions maintained by the United Presbyterian Women's association, the Orphans Home, the Memorial hospital and the Home for the Aged.

Successful Playground in Homestead.

The Woman's club of Homestead has been experimenting with its first summer playground. So successful has this been during the one week it has been conducted, that the club women now propose to have a summer playground in each of the five wards of Homestead as soon as hot weather arrives, or early in July.

The first summer playground in Homestead was opened in the grounds surrounding the Second ward school a little over a week ago. The Second ward is the most thickly populated in the town and the average daily attendance has been 200 children. The experiment has been watched with a great deal of interest by the general public, and the benches about the grounds have been filled with interested spectators, while the school ground fence has been lined with men and women looking on, while the club women and the volunteer teachers have played with the children. The expense of conducting the playgrounds consists only in securing supplies with which to amuse the children. There is an immense sand pile in which as many of the 200 children as possible try to get at the same time. Small shovels and pails have been provided, together with bean bags and other supplies for playing the games, of the kindergarten and playground. There are no salaried teachers, the services of the women and school teachers being voluntary. Homestead closes its public schools a month ahead of Pittsburgh and thus the experiment was possible in advance of the usual opening of summer playgrounds, which is the first week in July.

Tally-Ho Ride and Supper.

Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw and Henry L. Collins, who are to be married Saturday afternoon, and the members of the bridal party enjoyed a tally-ho ride to the old Shields Golf club last night, with a picnic supper there. In the party were Miss Thaw, Miss Mabel Paine of Baltimore, Miss Mary Metcalf of Erie, Miss Elsie Curtis and Miss Carrol Brown of Washington, D. C.; Miss Isabel Pontefract, Miss Gertrude Irwin, Mary Thompson and Elizabeth Thompson of Allegheny. The men of the party were Henry L. Collins, George E. Collins, Joseph McKnight Speer, Dallas Byers, Eben Byers, Victor Houston, Arthur Bell, George M. Laughlin, Jr., and Fletcher and Palmer Collins, all of Pittsburgh. This evening the same party will be entertained at the Allegheny Country club at dinner by George E. Collins, the best man. William Thaw gave a dinner on Wednesday evening at the Allegheny Country club.

Thornton—West.

One of the most notable weddings of the season in Fayette county was that of George Highbotham West and Miss Sallie Barnett Thornton, which took place at noon Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Hon. and Mrs. John Russell Thornton, of near Brownsville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kittell of Pittsburgh. The attendants were Mr. West, a brother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. A. C. Hagan, a sister of the bride. A wedding breakfast was served, followed by dancing. A large number of guests were present from Pittsburgh, Uniontown, Brownsville and other places.

Southside Hospital Benefit.

All arrangements have been completed for the annual lawn fete and supper to be given this afternoon and evening in Southern Avenue park under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the South Side hospital. The hours will be from 2 until 10 o'clock and supper will be served from 5 until 8. There will be orchestral music during the evening for the dancing, which includes a long program. There will be a children's booth, as well as attractive booths for the sale of ice cream, candy, lemonade and needlework.

Dibert—Baumer.

One of the most notable social events of the season in Johnstown was the wedding last night of Miss Anna Rosensteel Dibert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Dibert, of Moxham, and Herman E. Baumer, which was solemnized in the Franklin Street Methodist Episcopal church by the Rev. Thomas H. Woodring. Guests from all sections of the country witnessed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of one of the best families in Johnstown, while the bridegroom is a prominent attorney.

The maid of honor was Miss Marian Dibert, and the bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Dibert, Johnstown; Miss Lucia Comer of Burlington, Ia.; Miss Louise Gore of Benton Harbor, Mich.; Miss Lou Hartman of Pittsburgh, and Miss Emma Baumer of Johnstown. Theodore Stensland of Chicago was the best man, while the groomsmen were E. S. Malone of New York, David Reamer, Dr. John Lowman, Frank S. Love and Harry G. Fleck of Johnstown. The ushers were Grant Dibert of Pittsburgh, John B. Hoefgen of New York, Harry Rosensteel, James P. Greene, the Hon. T. J. O'Connor and Dr. George W. Wagoner of Johnstown.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Francis J. Torrance, and among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Torrance and Miss Jane Torrance of Allegheny.

Manning—Brainerd.

In Christ church, Andover, Mass., last night Miss Arline Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Manning, and James J. Brainerd of Pittsburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira P. Brainerd of the East End, were married by the Rev. Frederick Palmer, rector of the church.

Miss Marie Cable of Chicago, the bride's roommate at Bradford academy, was the maid of honor. The four bridesmaids were Miss Edith King of Buffalo, Miss Dorothy Branch of Manchester, N. H., Miss Helen Lee Bosquet, of Haverhill, and Miss Mary L. Brainerd of this city. Richard M. Lovering of Chicago, a chum of the bridegroom at Phillips academy and Yale university, was the best man. The flower girls were Miss Frances and Miss Adele Brainerd, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Brainerd of Pittsburgh, and the ushers were Harold Manning, Chicago; Edward P. Townsend, New York; F. R. Upstill, Pittsburgh, and Edward E. Spalding, Lynn, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd will reside at 301 North Highland avenue, Pittsburgh, on the conclusion of their wedding trip.

Sailed for Europe.

Miss Mary Guffey sailed for Europe on Tuesday on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Mr. and Mrs. James M. Guffey went east to see their daughter embark, returning to Pittsburgh on Wednesday. Miss Guffey is accompanied by Miss Church of the fashionable school in Cambridge, Mass., which she attended. They are going directly to Paris and their plan after leaving the French capital is liable to constant change. The only country they are determined not to eliminate from their itinerary is Italy. They will be abroad until October.

Mr. and Mrs. Guffey expect to spend July and August at Sapphire Springs in North Carolina. Their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Guffey of Canton, O., have been in Pittsburgh the last two weeks and may spend the summer here, with occasional trips to different resorts.

Late June Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William James Farrell have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ida Mary Farrell, to John Michael Haverty, a well-known member of the Allegheny county bar. The marriage will take place at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, June 30, in the Church of the Epiphany, the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin officiating. The bride will be attended by her sisters, Miss Blanche Farrell, who will be maid of honor, and the Misses Marie and Stella Farrell as bridesmaids. James J. Horan will be the best man and Dr. Edward A. Weiss and Dr. J. C. McGrath will be the ushers.

The services at the church will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the bride's home, No. 2322 South Highland avenue, after which the couple will leave for a honeymoon trip in the east.

Austin—Day.

A pretty home wedding last night was that of Miss Jessie S. Austin, the daughter of Mrs. S. F. Austin of Edgewood, and Edward B. Day, also of Edgewood. The wedding took place at the home of the bride at 8 o'clock, the Rev. J. H. McIlvaine of the Calvary Episcopal church of Penn avenue, officiating. The only attendants were Miss Bessie S. Brady, maid of honor, and W. H. Emory of Edgewood, best man. The ushers were Sidney S. Austin, F. S. Austin, G. B. Colburn, Louis Falen and T. L. Moise. The house was beautifully decorated, and after the wedding the bridal couple left on a wedding tour through the east.

Charlton—Kensinger.

Miss Emma Charlton of Braddock and and Charles Kensinger, a young business man of Braddock, were married last evening at 8:30 at the home of the bridegroom's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kensinger, by the Rev. Titus Lowe, pastor of the Fourth street Methodist church of North Braddock. The bride was gowned in white mousseline over white taffeta. There were no attendants. The couple left late in the evening for Old Point Comfort, Va., and the eastern cities. They will reside in Braddock on their return.

Etheridge—Dodd.

Miss Sara Etheridge and Mr. George L. Dodd were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Etheridge, Bellevernon, Pa., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Perrin Baker of the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of only immediate friends of the couple. After an eastern wedding trip the couple will reside in Bellevernon.

In the Catskills.

Miss Acheson went east last week to open her cottage at Starlight park in the Catskills. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Gordon of Brookville, and her family, who will spend the rest of June and July with her. The remainder of the summer Judge Acheson and his sons, including Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Acheson, Jr., will complete the family party.

Petrowsky—Lewis.

Melvin L. Lewis of Smithfield, and Miss Bertha Anna Petrowsky of Pittsburgh were married in Steubenville, O., yesterday. After an eastern wedding trip, they will return to Smithfield, where a reception will be tendered them.

McCormick—Baker.

Wednesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCormick of Mercer was the scene of a pleasant wedding, when their daughter, Miss Ella Brandon McCormick, was married to Hunter F. Baker, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. W. Baker. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur McCormick, pastor of the Presbyterian church of North Warren, a step-brother of the bride. The couple left for a trip to the lakes.

There Were Two Hostesses.

Mrs. Alfred William Duff and her sister, Miss Boyd, gave a large at home yesterday afternoon at their residence, North avenue and Center street, Wilkinsburg. The hours were from 3 o'clock until 5, and they received about 200 friends. The two hostesses received together in the drawing room, which was exquisitely decorated with ferns and trailing vines. The mantels were banked and the flowers, which were artistically arranged, were large white lilies. The group of assistants included Mrs. Lydia Boyd, Mrs. Alexander Hunter, Mrs. J. W. Duff, Mrs. Joseph Duff, Mrs. Thomas Parry, Mrs. F. H. Jackson, Mrs. B. C. Wylie, Miss E. J. Jackson, Mrs. Harry Carmack, Mrs. H. C. Clevenger, Mrs. Frank Gordon, Miss Pierce, Miss Wagner, Miss Matilda Hocner and Miss Myra Boyd.

Mrs. Duff wore a beautiful gown of white mousseline, hand embroidered and trimmed with duchess lace, and her sister, Miss Boyd, appeared in a dainty white gown of embroidered Swiss. The assistants were all handsomely gowned, the majority appearing in sheer white. Elaborate decorations appeared throughout the house. In the library were small tropical plants and brilliant red Jacqueminot roses; the dining room was in blue and yellow, being combined with maiden hair ferns. In the halls were tall palms and ferns, and upon the porches were palms and gay flowers.

An Interesting Marital Event.

The marriage of Miss Helen Clare McElhaney Witherspoon, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. James W. Witherspoon, and John Presley Barr will be an interesting event of Thursday evening, June 25, at the home of the bride's parents, No. 5 Dunseith avenue, Allegheny. Dr. Witherspoon will perform the marriage ceremony, assisted by the Rev. R. J. Miller, D. D.

The attendants will include Miss Myrtle Leonard of Beaver as maid of honor and Mrs. Dallas Lockey Boyle of Allegheny, a cousin of the bride-elect, as matron of honor. Miss Leonard was also maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Arnold and Edward V. Babcock in Reading, Pa., early this month. Little Janet Barr, the bridegroom's sister, will be the flower girl. Raymond Orey Barr will be the best man.

A number of entertainments are being given in honor of Miss Witherspoon. Last evening Mrs. George Miller of Sprague avenue, Bellevue, gave a dinner in her honor, and tomorrow Miss Cora Livingston of South Highland avenue will give a luncheon. Next week, on Tuesday, Mrs. Walter Witherspoon will entertain at cards and Mrs. Boyle, who is to be the matron of honor, will entertain on Wednesday.

Rain Spoiled the Decorations.

The rain did not fall in Allegheny yesterday afternoon until the booths were erected and the decorations completed for the garden party on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Cook's residence in Western avenue. Then it fell and soaked everything through and through. Though Mrs. Cook, who left last evening for New York, kindly offered her piazzas for the lawn fete, it was decided to postpone it until this afternoon and evening, when, if the weather again interferes, the entertainment will be conducted in the parish house of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church in Allegheny avenue. The garden party is to be given for the benefit of the auxiliary choir of Emmanuel church, and a number of the young women of the North Side are interested in it, including Miss Willa Forsyth and Miss Anna McCandless.

Lawrenceville Lawn Fete.

The first entertainment of the Aid society of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian church will be held this evening and will consist of a lawn fete and strawberry festival on the church lawn. Should the weather be unpleasant the affair will be conducted in the church parlors. Mrs. Willis Whitehead and Mrs. George A. Moke are general chairmen, the former having charge of the social and the latter of the reception committees. The sub-chairmen include Miss Edna D. Selp and F. J. Kress, decoration; G. G. Barber, printing; Miss Cornelia Naser, candy; Miss Carrie Goehring, lemonade; Mrs. Selp, ice cream; William Klemm, cake, and Miss Abbe Hoerr, domestic work. Each of the chairmen will have large and efficient committees to aid them.

Calhoun—Bryce.

The wedding of Miss Mary Hays Calhoun, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Calhoun, of West Homestead, and Joseph Foth Bryce, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Bryce of Homestead, took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride. The Rev. Cyrus B. Hatch of Crafton performed the ceremony. The bride was unattended and was gowned in white French muslin, trimmed with lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The decorations of the home consisted of tropical plants and white roses. Because of illness in the family of the bridegroom the wedding was quietly conducted. Mr. and Mrs. Bryce will leave July 1 to travel through the western states to the Pacific coast.

Wedding in August.

Miss Elizabeth Rigby, a niece of H. L. Stevenson, the artist, and George Pyle Jones of Wilmington, Del., will be married in August at the home of the bride's mother. It is expected that it will be a double wedding and that Miss Rigby's twin sister will be married at the same time. After the wedding Mr. Jones and his bride will leave for a time in Youngstown. Miss Rigby has a large number of friends in Pittsburgh, having come here several years ago for a course of training in the Kindergarten college, and the last two years she has been teaching in the kindergarten schools. She announced her engagement last fall at the home of her uncle, H. L. Stevenson, in Castle Shannon.

Hawley—West.

An early-morning wedding took place yesterday in New Kensington, the bride being Miss Jessie V. Hawley and the bridegroom Emerson A. West of Parnassus. The marriage was solemnized at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride. Miss Agnes Lubbers of Allegheny was the maid of honor and O. J. Tope, also of Allegheny, was the best man. The bride wore a gown of cream crepe de Paris over white silk and carried a bouquet of bridal roses tied with chiffon. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. West started away for a short trip through Ohio and later will occupy their new home in Parnassus.

Courtney—Dalzell.

A pretty home wedding occurred last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Courtney in Sheffield street, Allegheny, the bride being their daughter, Miss Retta Augusta Courtney, and the bridegroom Ross A. Dalzell. The Rev. S. Edward Young officiated. Only the immediate families were present and after the wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Dalzell left for the east. They will make their future home in Arch street, Allegheny.

Dinner at the Golf Club.

Mrs. Wynn R. Sewell gave a handsome dinner last evening at the Pittsburgh Golf club. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin. Covers were laid for 20 and the dinner was served at one large round table, whose decorations consisted of marguerites. Mrs. Sewell is entertaining very informally this season, though she has returned to a slight degree to society after her long period of mourning.

Peden—Ashtalder.

Miss Alice Peden of East Greensburg and Mr. Henry B. Ashtalder of Pittsburgh were married last evening at the home of the bride by Rev. J. A. Eby, pastor of the First United Brethren in Christ church. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom being present. After a wedding trip in the east Mr. and Mrs. Ashtalder will make their home in the East End, Pittsburgh.

Graham—Lary.

William Lary of Mercer and Mrs. Christine Graham were married Wednesday morning by the Rev. John S. Duncan. The bridal party left on a trip to the lakes. After their arrival home a reception will be held at the bridegroom's home in the East End.

Haddon—Richards.

Miss Lucy Haddon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haddon of Hays borough, was united in marriage to John Richards of Homestead last evening by the Rev. Emmett Morris, pastor of the Hays Methodist Episcopal church.

Wedding Cards.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Retta, daughter of ex-Burgess A. K. McCandless and C. W. Monroe on Wednesday, June 30. Both young people are well known and popular in social circles.

TRIED TO KISS HER; CUT HIS MUSTACHE

Justice of the Peace W. R. Nicholson of Esplen divided the costs in the case of Joseph Sullivan and Mrs. Sophia Kosowski of Schoenville. The pair attended a wedding Sunday and Mrs. Kosowski alleges that Sullivan attempted to kiss her, and Sullivan charged the woman with cutting his mustache with a pair of scissors. The magistrate divided the costs.

School of Methods.

A "School of Methods for Sunday School Teachers" will be held from June 22 to June 26 in the Pennsylvania College for Women, Woodland road, East End. This unique departure in religious instruction has back of it some of the most competent Sunday school instructors in the state, and the plan of work for the four days reveals exhaustive preparation.

Woman's Quarterly Meeting.

The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary society of Pittsburgh and surrounding towns was held yesterday morning and afternoon in the Shady Avenue Baptist church, East End. Mrs. M. F. Hotchins presided over both sessions. The morning session opened with devotional exercises, lead by Mrs. Jane A. Hall. Mrs. J. C. Hormer gave a report of the state meeting held recently in Waynesburg. Mrs. D. C. Williams made a report concerning the annual meetings held in Buffalo, in connection with the Baptist anniversaries.

At the afternoon session Mrs. C. W. Fletcher of Washington, Pa., made an interesting address on Africa and the missionary work going on there. Miss Gregg, Miss Orpha Moore spoke on young people's work. Special music was provided by Mrs. C. C. Law, soprano, and Miss Maud Harris, contralto. The quarterly meeting the third Thursday in September will be held in the Baptist church of West Newton, Pa.

For the Factory Girls.

Miss Lulu Marianna Genet is arranging a program for a concert to be given at the Central Young Women's Christian association rooms June 23. It will be held for the benefit of the Choral club, composed of six girls from the American Union cigar factory, and the proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of these girls at the Young Women's Christian association conference July 10 at Silver Bay, assisting Miss Genet will be Mrs. Franklin V. Beard, pianist and violinist; Mrs. James Longdon, soprano; Miss Eleanor Hamilton, contralto; Stanley Eckert, tenor; Richard Knolte, baritone. A piano trio will be played by Miss Jean Hunter, Miss Carrie Lirtch and Miss Margaret McCandless. The Choral club will sing three numbers under the direction of Miss Genet.

Auxiliary Ex-Prisoners of War Meet.

A meeting of the auxiliary to the Union Ex-Prisoners of War will be held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Paul in Linden street, Allegheny, at 2 o'clock.

Conservatory Commencement Music.

Miss Martha Groff is to appear in a program of great beauty and difficulty this evening at the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music commencement exercises. From the Beethoven sonata to the brilliant St. Saens concerto is a hard task. Miss Groff has been a pupil of Beveridge Webster and a teacher in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music for several years.

This afternoon's program is to be given by some of Mr. Webster's and two of Mr. Fremi's pupils.

Those who will take part are Miss Olive Berger, Miss Naomi Schlinger, Miss Anna Slaymaker, Mrs. Froehlich, Miss Frances Green, Robert Cannon, Miss Rena Milne, Miss Olive Bulger and Miss Claudia Hax.

Rain Spoiled Firemen's Lawn Fete.

The second annual lawn fete of the Bellevue and Avalon fire companies was opened last night with a parade which included William M. Kicker, who was chief marshal, and 50 mounted aids; hose company carts drawn by 50 boys dressed in blue and white; Avalon fire company; Bellevue fire company, and Bellevue and Allegheny business men in carriages. Rain spoiled the fete, but it will be held tonight after the parade is repeated.

McKees Rocks Firemen Victors.

The Merchants Association of McKees Rocks and vicinity held its annual picnic at Cascade park yesterday. A special train was chartered for the occasion. In the 100-yard dash for the volunteer fire departments of McKees Rocks, Esplen, Carnegie and other neighboring boroughs, McKees Rocks team finished first, winning the prize of $25. The Esplen department finished second.

Elks Laid Corner Stone.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—Johnstown lodge No. 178, P. O. E., tonight laid the corner stone of its large and handsome home here. Previously a reception was held in the rooms of the Elks. The orator of the evening was Meade D. Detweiler of Harrisburg. Elks from all sections of the state were present.

STEP TAKEN TO END TROUBLE

Contractor D. A. Daly Issued a Call for 50 Independent Bricklayers.

NEW UNION SEEMS ASSURED

As Soon As Men Are Obtained They Will Unite in a League Which Will Receive Full Recognition from the Building Trades Council.

The initiative step to end the dispute between the stone masons and bricklayers was taken yesterday when D. A. Daly, contractor of the Bessemer building, Duquesne way and Sixth street, issued a call for 50 bricklayers. Daly's action practically means that the contractors have accepted the proposition of the Building Trades council that, should the contractors secure men who will become members of an independent bricklayers' union and affiliate with the trades council, all other crafts would work with them.

The Builders' league met yesterday afternoon. It stated that all the contractors will support Mr. Daly in his attempt to have the dispute brought to an end at the price of the B. M. I. U. having a competitive organization. Mr. Daly also likely will have the support of all crafts in the Building Trades council, the Brotherhood of Carpenters, the plasterers and probably the hoisting engineers. Before the other contractors commence work they will assist Mr. Daly in securing sufficient competent bricklayers to work under the conditions mapped out by the Building Trades.

Learning of the decision of the contractors, the plumbers' organization had nine men at work yesterday on the building. This morning all the independent stone masons and several other crafts will return, making a total of about 100 men. The working force will be increased as bricklayers are secured and the building progresses. When Mr. Daly has sufficient bricklayers to assure the erection of the building the other contractors will resume work on buildings that have been tied up.

The Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, who voted to withdraw from the Building Trades council, rescinded their action and will remain affiliated with that body. This action adds another craft to the support of the contractors in ignoring the E. M. I. U. James Culp, business agent of the plasterers, said yesterday that his men would commence work on the Bessemer building in a few days. Mr. Daly yesterday said:

"A report circulated a few days ago that 10,000 men had returned to work and that the trouble was over, resulted in several bricklayers from other cities coming here and seeking work. It will not be necessary to employ non-union men. We will be able to get all the journeymen we need without resorting to any unfair means."

NOTES OF LABOR.

A meeting of the executive committees of the International Association of Machinists and the Manufacturers Association was held yesterday to consider the scale for the coming year. The Manufacturers' association employ about 75 per cent of the machinists in this district. The present scale expires July 1.

The new scale prepared by the machinists calls for a 15 per cent advance and stipulates that all machinists employed must be agreeable to the association. The scale was discussed yesterday, but as the manufacturers had not their scale prepared nothing definite could be done. The manufacturers will present a scale to the machinists next Thursday, which they say will be final. The machinists will hold a mass meeting in Old City hall on Sunday, June 28, to consider the proposition.

POPE CONTINUES ACTIVE.

His Holiness Is Remarkably Well for His Years—Gives Private Audience.

ROME, June 18.—Dr. Lapponi has given a long interview, contradicting the alarmist reports circulated concerning the pope's health. The physician says the pontiff is wonderfully well for a man of 94 and that his presence at the consistory to be held Monday next will be the best answer to the pessimists.

The pope today received in private audience the Rt. Rev. F. Z. Rooker, bishop of Jaro, Philippine islands, and the Rt. Rev. Dennis J. Dougherty, bishop of Nueva Segovia, Philippine islands, who were recently appointed to these dioceses. The pope was most cordial in his manner towards them, promising them the fullest support of the holy see. The pontiff presented the two bishops with gold pectoral crosses set with jewels, and a set of pontifical books, richly bound.

Bishop Rooker remarked that he had not seen his holiness for 10 years and did not find him changed, at which remark Pope Leo smiled and showed evident pleasure.

FOURTH FUND GREW.

Traction Company Gave $2,000, the Total Sum Now Being $8,050.

Mayor W. B. Hays yesterday afternoon let the contract for the fire works for the Fourth of July celebration at Schenley park at $3,000 to the Pain Manufacturing Company. He also secured the services of four brass bands, one for the band stand, one for the race track, where the sports take place, one for the old log house and a fourth for the electric fountain.

The Pittsburgh Street Railways Company made good its promise yesterday and made a contribution of $2,000. The contributions yesterday amounted to over $3,000. The following is a list of moneys received at the mayor's office yesterday:

ARIZONA'S WEALTH

The Greatest Ore Producing Center of the World.

Fabulous Fortunes Made in Mining Properties in a Few Years.

Interesting Facts Concerning the Massive Copper and Gold Field of the United States.

Many years ago Arizona was labeled "The treasure vault of the United States" by an explorer, and later, Prof. Cox, an eminent geologist of Indiana, after making a thorough investigation of the territory stated that there was enough mineral wealth in the southern part of that wonderfully rich territory to supply the world.

Recent developments in Cochise county in the Warren mining district at Bisbee, have proven the truth of these assertions and in the last two years the value of that district alone has been developed and increased hundreds of millions of dollars, until it now is known to be the richest mining district in the world.

The Pittsburgh Times of May 30 quotes Governor Brodie of Arizona as follows: "The town of Bisbee, with 9,000 people is supported by the Copper Queen mine alone. Just now copper men from Michigan are buying claims around there and opening up mines which will be as large as the Copper Queen. The copper deposits in that section have been traced for six miles underground, and are the most extensive in the world."

The public generally in the vicinity of Pittsburgh is ignorant of the immense resources of Arizona and of the Warren mining district particularly, but a few of our wealthy people have in the last two years made large fortunes in the mines at Bisbee, and it is known that one of our citizens owns stock in the Calumet and Arizona mine at Bisbee which cost him a mere trifle two years ago and which is now worth the enormous sum of $800,000, another owns even a larger amount in this company and many have smaller amounts in this and the Calumet and Pittsburgh mine, the Lake Superior and Pittsburgh and many other properties in and around Bisbee, and continually Pittsburgh capital is being invested in that locality, the latest being the purchase of a group of claims by Messrs. Temple, Darley and Gardener of this city.

An illustration of the rapid increase in the value of mining stocks in mines of the Warren district is given in the experience of a Bisbee miner, who invested $500.00 in the stock of the Calumet & Arizona Development Company, obtaining 100 shares of said stock. When the company was reorganized into the Calumet & Arizona Mining Company he was given five shares for one of development stock or 500 shares of Calumet & Arizona mining stock for which is now offered $200.00 per share. His $500.00 investment, therefore, in three years has made him $99,500.00, and he is now worth including his original capital of $500.00, the magnificent sum of $200,000.00. Parties who have invested in the Calumet & Pittsburgh have experienced a profit in the last year of eighteen hundred per cent (1,800 per cent), and in the other new companies of that district returns equally as great, in fact, the experiences are simply dazzling and are not at all overdrawn, as can be ascertained by any one who will take the time and trouble to investigate.

Another company that now bids fair to repeat these great advances in its stock and make its stockholders independent, is the Bisbee-Arizona Gold & Copper Mining Company, which owns free from all encumbrances 12 claims or about 250 acres of rich mineral land at the base of the same two mountains that the other rich mines are located, and not only have the same surroundings as they have, but are actually taking out rich copper, silver and gold ore from the shaft which is now about 65 feet deep. This property is surrounded on all sides by properties in various stages of development and all now have ore and one has opened up near this company's line some of the richest ore found in the district.

The officers are M. D. Scribner, president; Judge C. T. Clark, V. P. and Gen. Mgr.; Frank H. Bopp, secretary, and Jake Schmid, treasurer. Directors, the above officers and Capt. George B. Wilcox, Dr. C. L. Caven and F. W. Howard. The president of the company is also county treasurer and is president of the First National bank of Tombstone, the county seat. The treasurer is also a director in the Miners and Merchants bank of Bisbee. Capt. Wilcox is clerk of the district court of that (Cochise) county, and Dr. C. L. Craven is city physician of Bisbee. All are men of years' experience in mining and none stand higher than they in Arizona.

As has been the case with all the now rich mines of that and other districts, there is a time when funds are sought to complete the work of developing and make them productive of wealth, and at this stage, when the value is demonstrated and the price is still low, is the time when the wise come forward with their money and take advantage of the opportunity and get in "on the ground floor" with those who realized the possibilities and risked their money at the beginning.

This company has proven the value of its property and have deeds to the land, does not owe a dollar and is prosecuting the work as fast as brain and brawn can accomplish it, and now offers the public an opportunity to share with them in the unquestioned wealth that underlies these claims.

The capitalization is 1,000,000 shares, par value $1.00 each, FULLY PAID AND NON-ASSESSABLE, and its charter provides that THE PRIVATE PROPERTY OF ITS STOCKHOLDERS IS EXEMPT FROM ITS CORPORATE DEBTS.

The stock is now on sale and some of the Pittsburgh investors have already subscribed for nice blocks. A small lot is offered at 50 cents per share and when taken, it will be advanced to a much higher figure, then withdrawn from sale altogether.

This is an unprecedented opportunity to get stock in a company that has as bright an outlook as any of its predecessors, and, in fact, the surface indications are bolder and greater than any in the district. Only the first applicants can get the stock at 50 cents, but it would be a bargain at five or even 10 times this figure.

Don't delay, but investigate at once. Samples of ore, experts' reports, indorsement of state officials, descriptive matter and general information given by Mr. F. W. Howard, fiscal agent of the company, at the office of Investors Brokerage Company, 907-908 Keystone building, Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Call or write; take time to investigate this proposition. We can satisfy you on every point of argument by the most conclusive proof.

Investments.

We NEED MORE MONEY.
But we don't propose to put our company in the hands of capitalists, as we have gone into the coal business to stay and want no "one man" power.
Profits are large and future bright, and if you have from $100 to $10,000 to invest near home in a mine now paying 17 per cent on an output of 300 tons daily (clear). We want to instal machinery to increase to 1,000 tons with larger margin of profit.
1,458 acres, four seams, 60 miles from Pittsburgh, on direct line to lakes, 1½ miles railroad frontage.
Can demonstrate in half day's time—if you know anything about coal—by showing the property, that we have an exceptionally profitable and safe investment to offer for a limited time. For further information inquire of

STEEL STOCKS WERE WEAK AND LOWER

The General Market Opened Strong, but the Tone Soon Changed—Bank of England Rate of Discount Reduced.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The change which took place in the eastern stock market soon after the opening yesterday was attributed to the selling of the steel stocks, which declined to the lowest prices of the year. The opening quotations on the leading railroad stocks were higher, influenced by a moderate amount of buying for foreign account, and continued covering and investment buying of Pennsylvania Railroad. The London market had opened lower, but has quickly responded to the reduction in the rate of discount by the Bank of England from 3½ to 3 per cent. By the end of the first half hour Pennsylvania had advanced to 127¼, and was having a strengthening effect upon the remainder of the list, but more particularly on stocks affiliated with the Pennsylvania. Baltimore & Ohio advanced to 85¾, Reading to 48⅝ and Norfolk & Western to 63½. The Gould stocks also opened strong, Missouri Pacific advancing to 103½, Wabash common to 24⅝ and the preferred to 44. The movement in these two groups was in response to the reports that the friction existing between the two had been removed. An advance ranging from ½ to 1 per cent took place in the remainder of the list, and as a rule the feeling among the professional traders was bullish. This was the situation of affairs about the end of the first hour. Then the selling began in U. S. Steel, which forced the common down to 28⅜, and the preferred to 78¼, the latter the lowest of the year. The preferred stock was relatively weaker than the common and naturally had an effect in depressing the price of the new bonds, which declined to 81¼@81¾. The minor iron and steel stocks declined 1@2 per cent. Another weak spot was Metropolitan Street Railway, which broke from 124¾ to 121¼, and Metropolitan Securities, which broke to 80. The latter sold above 128 last January. The weakness in these stocks was based upon the testimony of President Vreeland in a suit now being heard in New York, relative to the earnings of the property in 1901 and 1902. Amalgamated Copper declined a point on the weakness in the metal in the foreign market. The general list could not withstand the influence of the leaders, and in the late dealings steadily declined, closing near the lowest. The transactions were light, aggregating only 511,000 shares.

The weakness in the steel stocks was responsible for many and various rumors. It was very broadly hinted that some of the selling was connected with the affairs of the U. S. Shipbuilding Company, no names being mentioned, but the impression being conveyed that U. S. Steel common and preferred were being sold by some one for the purpose of taking care of obligations connected with the unfortunate enterprise. There was also much talk as to the state of the iron and steel trade and rumors of a further cut of 50 cents a ton on pig iron, which, it was said, would tend to affect prices for finished products. Another story was to the effect that some of the heads of the larger railroad systems were holding a conference to decide upon probable requirements in the way of steel rails, equipment and structural material for the coming six months. The fluctuations in U. S. Steel stocks have been so narrow, compared with the general list, that professional traders have been ignoring it and turning to stocks which hold out the promise of greater "action." The dealings in the steel stocks, therefore, partake more of the nature of operations by the public, and for that reason are regarded as of more significance than transactions in more speculative stocks. It is also true that the iron and steel trade is still looked upon as a barometer of general business, and the fluctuations in the steel stocks derive some importance from that fact. So far as can be learned from reliable sources, the only decided change that has taken place in the iron trade is the disappearance of the feverish anxiety which prevailed last year over the placing of orders and securing deliveries. Taking the trade as a whole, it is probable that the total tonnage booked ahead is smaller than it was three or six months ago, but the business in sight is still of sufficient volume to maintain a healthy degree of activity. For about two years the iron market was in the abnormal condition of overwhelming orders and high premiums for prompt delivery. A normal condition of affairs is taking place, but no slump in prices or business is feared.

The Bank of England's weekly return yesterday made a very strong showing, and fully justified the reduction in the discount rate. There was an increase of $5,800,000 in reserve and an increase of more than $18,000,000 in public deposits. The proportion of reserve to liability is now 53.14 per cent, the highest reported this year, and within about 1 per cent of the highest held last year. Tomorrow's New York bank statement is expected to make a favorable showing, inasmuch as the reduction in foreign bank rate stopped the arrangements that were being made to export gold, and the receipts of currency from the interior are expected to add to the cash reserves of the banks. If, at the same time there is another large reduction in loans, the effect should be to increase surplus reserves. The market, however, will be called upon next week to furnish between $45,000,000 and $50,000,000 for the Pennsylvania Railroad subscriptions, and preparations will also be made for semi-annual settlements.

In the local stock market yesterday transactions were light, and what little activity occurred was confined to a few specialties. U. S. Steel contributed more than a third of the total business, and the price closely followed the course of the market in the east. The common declined to 29 and closed at that price, a net decline of a dollar a share. The preferred sold down to 78¾, but recovered to 79¼, the net loss being ¾ per cent. Crucible Steel was less active and comparatively steady, declining from 15 to 14⅝ and recovering to 14⅞ bid at the close. The preferred stock sold to the extent of only 65 shares at 80¼ to 80½. The Westinghouse group of stocks opened steady, but later declined and closed at the lowest. Electric sold down from 97 to 94½, and Air Brake to 136½. The coal stocks were dull and nominally unchanged. Window Glass preferred rallied a fraction to 80½.

The features of the banking group were the decline of 20 points in Colonial Trust, 118 shares selling at 605, and the advance in Farmers Deposit National to 1,570 bid, the highest price ever quoted for regular lots. First National of Allegheny advanced to 170 bid, a record price, and Federal National was firmer. Commonwealth Trust declined 5 points to 235. The bond list was dull and nominally unchanged.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $10,754,203, an increase of $3,390,000.

Stock market dull and lower, sales reaching only 6,107 shares.

United States Steel common declined to 29 and the preferred to 78¾.

Westinghouse Airbrake weak and lower, declining to 156½.

Westinghouse Electric advanced to 97, but later sold off to 94½.

Colonial Trust declined 20 points, 118 shares selling at 605.

Farmers Deposit National Bank advanced to 1,570 bid, a record price.

IN WALL STREET.

Pennsylvania was bought in large blocks.

United States Steel was very active, 57,380 shares common and 33,827 preferred shares changing hands.

Selling was especially acute in Metropolitan Street Railway, 11,745 shares being dealt in.

Colorado Fuel dropped 2¾ points, but recovered much of that loss, closing at 61½.

United States Steel preferred made a new low record of 78¾.

Bonds were weak. Total sales (par value) $1,610,000. United States bonds remained unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Farmers Deposit National bank advanced to $1,570 bid, and 10 shares were offered at $1,800, but no stock changed hands on the open board. For small lots $1,610 was bid, the highest price ever quoted, and there were rumors that private transactions had occurred at $1,600, but there was no confirmation of this. The other members of the big consolidation were lower. Colonial Trust declining 20 points to 605 on the sale of 118 shares. There were no transactions in American Trust and the stock was nominally quoted at 512 bid, 517 asked.

The advance in First National of Allegheny to 170 bid, the highest price ever quoted, was based upon the knowledge that a deal was on for the acquisition of control of the bank by interests identified with the Federal National. This deal was closed late in the day, as reported in another column. Federal National was firmer at 160 bid, and there were no offerings of the stock under 168.

Pittsburgh Oil and Gas sold at 75 just before the close of the market, a decline of 3½ points. Manufacturers Light and Heat advanced to 39¾, but later reacted to 39. Philadelphia Company, therefore, the reaction was all the more welcome.

BERLIN, June 18.—Business on the boerse today was generally unchanged.

PARIS, June 18.—Prices on the bourse today opened and remained very firm, with the exception of Rio Tintos.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market continues firm, and there is little prospect of an early change from this condition. New call and time loans quoted at 6 per cent. Clearing house comparisons:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$10,754,203 93	$1,481,697 05

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, June 18.—Money, 2½@2¾ per cent. The rate for short bills is 2 11-16@2¾ per cent. The rate for three months' bills is 2¾ per cent. Consols for money, 91¼ per cent. Consols for account, 91¼ per cent. Money was fairly plentiful and in moderate request in the market today. Discounts were easy. The reduction of the bank rate was generally expected, though there was much speculation on the subject beforehand, unfavorable foreign exchanges and the diversion of gold making the market intensely dull; therefore, the reduction was all the more welcome.

TWO PENN AVE. SALES REPORTED

Nos. 1014-1020 Bring $250,000, and Ninth Street Corner Sells for $85,000.

HARRY DAVIS INVESTS $40,000

A $50,000 Sale in Perrysville—Allegheny Residence Sold for $20,000 and East End Mansion for $140,000—Big Sale Imminent in Fifth Avenue.

Two big deals in Penn avenue property came out yesterday, showing that there is still an increasing interest in good business locations along this street. The Union Realty Company sold for James Getham the property at Nos. 1014-1020 for $250,000. The lots have a total frontage of 80 feet on the south side of the avenue, just east of Tenth street, and run back 110 feet to Exchange alley. A three-story brick building used as a warehouse and of comparatively little value, is the only improvement. This property adjoins a lot 120x110 feet, which the same company recently sold for the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Protestant Orphan asylum for $400,000. Although it was not announced it is currently reported that the purchase yesterday was made in the interest of the same buyer who secured the hospital property, viz., a syndicate of local capitalists who propose to build warehouses and store buildings on the site. The two purchases give them 200x110 feet, at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and Tenth street, for which they paid an average price of $3,250 a front foot, or $29.54 a square foot. The growing demand for good store rooms in this part of Penn avenue and the nearness of the property to the Union station should make this site a very advantageous one either for business or hotel purposes.

Corner Sold for $85,000.

The other deal was the sale by Leopold Vilsack of the property at the northwest corner of Penn avenue and Ninth street for $85,000, the buyer being ex-Representative John Kearns. The lot is directly across from the Westinghouse building and is improved with a two-story brick building occupied as a saloon. It has a Penn avenue frontage of 20 feet by a depth of 80 feet, making the price $4,250 a front foot, or $53.12 a square foot, the top price thus far for property in this neighborhood.

Through the agency of Burns & Reilly, Attorneys Dalzell, Scott & Gordon have sold to Harry Davis a property 30x84.3 feet, on the north side of Third avenue, below Grant street, for $40,000. A three-story brick house stands on the lot. This property adjoins the plot recently bought by Mr. Davis from the Kaufmanns and gives him a frontage of 60 feet in Third avenue and extending through 160 feet to Ferry street. The property is 62 feet wide. The site thus formed adjoins the St. Nicholas building at the corner of Fourth avenue and Grant street, and is the only similar plot of ground in the city between two streets, as below this the two frontages are separated by a narrow alley. For an office building for attorneys the site is probably the most advantageous in the city, and it is said to have been bought for this purpose.

Perrysville Farm Bought for $50,000.

The Real Estate Savings & Trust Company of Allegheny, which has just moved into its new offices near South Diamond street, has sold for George H. Rodenbaugh 25 acres in the Perrysville district for $50,000 or $2,000 an acre. The property is just over the Allegheny city line in Ross township and within 40 rods of the Bell house in Perrysville avenue. It comes down almost to the Perrysville plank road and will front on the new Perrysville extension street car line, which will be running by July 1. Across the road from the farm is the Henry Phipps property, and the Peter Ivory holdings adjoin it. At the price paid the farm is considered a rare bargain, as the remainder of the Rodenbaugh estate adjoining is held at $4,000 an acre. The new town of Perrysville beyond it and the thrifty settled suburbs that are springing up all around it evidence that it will come into favor soon for drastic-use home sites. The buyer is an Allegheny investor who will plot the farm in large lots and place it on the market at once.

Two Residence Transactions.

The property of Dr. E. C. Husselton at the northeast corner of Stockton avenue and West Diamond street, Allegheny, has been sold for $20,000. It was formerly known as the Leslie Simpson property and consists of a lot 191 feet front on an alley. The residence is a three-story brick house, one of the best in Stockton avenue, and is now occupied by Dr. Husselton for his home and offices. The reputed buyer of the property is Frank McCann and his adventuring into Stockton avenue with the inquiries of other investors who are watching with much interest the upward trend of realty values resulting from the railroad improvements, is likely to start a boom all along the street.

The elegant residence of Mrs. John McKelvey on the west side of North Negley avenue, opposite Wellesley avenue, has been sold for $140,000. The deal is generally credited to Samuel W. Black & Co., although no information concerning it could be obtained from the office. The property has a street along North Negley avenue from the King property to Wellesley avenue, which is not yet opened. It has a depth of 700 feet to King avenue, which is also unopened. A large area of ground it was listed at $100,000, so that the present price is evidence of the growing demand for fine homes in this part of the Nineteenth ward. The McKelvey house is a very fine one, having every modern convenience and being finished in solid mahogany.

Sale Near the Market.

T. C. Allison sold for C. L. Walther to Ernest C. Ludwig the property at No. 710 Diamond street, near Ohio street, Allegheny, for $10,750. The lot measures 18x99 feet and has erected on it a three-story brick building used as a produce warehouse. The purchase was made for an investment.

John Murton, through Thomas Killeen a 17-room frame house on lot 26x260 feet, on the north side of Kirkpatrick street, near Ann street, North Braddock, for $13,000.

A four-day option on the penultimate Fifth avenue property is likely to result in a sale today or tomorrow. The option price is $504,000 and the lot measures 99x240 feet. An offer of $350,000 has also been made and refused for the Hamilton building in Fifth avenue within a few days.

The Arenson Realty Company sold for Attorney L. L. Aronson to S. H. Sydd a three-story brick house, lot 120x70 feet, at the corner of Amelia street and Denniston avenue, for $10,000.

Sales Around the Suburbs.

Allegheny: H. W. Klein of the North Side branch of the Consolidated Real Estate Company, sold for Hattie E. Evans and J. R. Gillander to A. R. Hamilton two lots, 50x245 feet each, in Ottawa street, Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, for $4,500. The buyer will build.

Braddock: A. A. Schilling of Braddock sold for George Berosky to Nathan Rubenstein a property 11x50 feet on the corner of Hawkins avenue and Fourth street, Braddock. Also for Alexander Dempster to Michael Espock, a property 72x110 feet, in Third avenue, Rankin, for $2,900; for John W. Griffith to J. M. Semple a seven-room frame house, lot 40x200 feet, in Hostetter street, Braddock, for $6,000; for George Bargo to Julian Hostetter, a lot 20x110 feet, in Eleventh street, Braddock, for $2,500.

Edgeworth: W. L. Scott & Co. sold for S. J. Sexton to Harry Reno a lot 50x150 feet, in Pine street, Edgeworth, for $1,800.

Swissvale: C. F. Marsh sold for the Swissvale Improvement Company to William Menzel of Braddock, No. 7322 Schley avenue, Swissvale, an improved lot 25x110 feet, for $2,500; to E. H. Stepp No. 7320 Schley avenue, for $2,500; to Fred Jamison No. 7316 Schley avenue, for $2,500, and to Feraday Bros. a vacant lot 40x110 feet, in Monongahela avenue, near Carey street, for $1,000.

Colonial: Black & Baird sold for the Colonial Land Company to Frederick Bechtel lots Nos. 175 and 176, for $1,350 cash.

The bureau of building inspection yesterday issued the following permits: Diebold Lumber Manufacturing Company, frame two-story storage house, in Brushton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $800; H. E. Olmhauser, frame two-story dwelling at West street and Trevor, Oakland, Thirty-fourth ward, to cost $1,200; John McCabe, frame two-story and attic dwelling, in Walter avenue, Thirty-first ward, to cost $3,800; C. B. Lane, five two-story frame dwellings in Minerva avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, to cost, all told, $5,000.

STEADY ADVANCES IN CEREAL FOODS

New Cabbage Rules Higher. Green Peas Very Scarce. New Apples Lower.

40 LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS

There is a decidedly firmer market for cereal goods, and wholesale grocers are advancing prices for rolled oats, oat meal and kindred lines. This is due to western reports on oats, which are not favorable, and to the fact that stocks of oats throughout the country are limited, especially of the select grades which go into the manufacture of breakfast foods. A number of jobbers put operations forward yesterday, and say the outlook favors further advances. In other lines groceries are unchanged. Flour is firm, sugar is steady at the recent advance, and coffee is quiet.

Very strong conditions continue to prevail in the hay market. In New York dealers are offering prices for timothy hay $2 a ton above a parity with Pittsburgh quotations. Grain is also very firm, and dealers are advising their customers to buy, believing that all departments will show higher ruling figures during the coming months.

New cabbage, the first movement yesterday, and went to $3 a crate. Green peas are very scarce, on account of the continued cool weather, the market being almost bare of supplies yesterday, with buyers hunting stock. Spinach has advanced and is scarce. New beets are lower, as they have come along fairly well, and the supply is plentiful. String beans are in liberal supply and are lower. Home grown asparagus is coming forward slowly and is much higher. Florida celery is slow of sale and has declined. New apples are offering at lower figures. Strawberries have been in very light supply for a couple of days and quotations are firmly held. Raspberries are coming forward more plentifully, but are in good demand, with prices steady.

Poultry is unchanged, the supply of spring chickens being more abundant, but the chickens are small in size. Butter, eggs and cheese are unchanged.

EXCITEMENT IN CORN O'ERSHADOWS MARKET

Heavy Liquidation Marked the Day's Extensive Operations. Wheat and Oats Higher.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 18.—The corn pit was again the center of interest on the board of trade today and prices showed good advances. July closing 1@c higher and September ½@¾c higher; September wheat up ¾c; oats a shade higher, while provisions were unchanged, 7½@10 higher.

Trading in wheat was fairly active and the market was strong the entire session. Opening prices were steady at cables. July being a shade to ¼c higher at 76¾@76¾c, and September a shade lower to ¼c higher at 74⅝@74¾c. A rather easy feeling prevailed shortly after the opening, due to free selling by commission houses, the favorable weather being chief factor. Under the influence July sold off to 76¼c and September to 74c, but the weakness was short lived, the strength in corn bringing about a rally. Bullish crop reports from the southwest and northwest, and reported buying from France aided the up turn and the market became strong, July advancing to 77⅝c and September to 75¾c. Liquidation was quite general on account of the size of the day's gain was just before the end of the session, and prices declined sharply, but were somewhat unsettled during the market finally closing strong, July 76¾@77c, closed 76¾c; September, 74 13-16@74½c, closed 74¾c; December, 75 13-16@76c, closed 76c. Receipts, 44,100 bushels; exports, 6,667 bushels; spot firm; No. 2 hard winter or spring, 77½c; No. 3 wheat, No. 2 yellow, 76c; No. 2 white, 77½c.

Primary receipts were 298,000 bushels, against 561,000 bushels a year ago. Shipments and Saturday's clearances were 238,000 bushels, with total receipts of 26 cars, none of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 264 cars, against 205 cars last week and 2774 cars a year ago.

The price of corn continued to soar and advances of over a cent were made in both the July and September deliveries, although much of the gain was lost before the end of the session. The market was strong from the start, heavy buying orders being received from practically large and although there was heavy liquidation going on the greater part of the time the offerings were readily absorbed and not until within the last hour did the prices show any weakening. Sentiment also was responsible for the continuance of the Armour operations, as the weather conditions were most favorable, with prospects of a continuance of the favorable weather. Offerings were light and the cash demand was good. After selling between 59½c and 61½c July closed 60¾c higher at 61c; September between 59½c and 60¾c. Local receipts were 407 cars, with 29 of contract grade.

The excitement in corn commenced all over the country in oats and caused a strong market throughout the day. The trading was active and general, with shorts covering freely on the upturn. The market weakened late in the day on liquidation brought out by the realizing on corn, and closed ¼@½c above yesterday's close after selling between 58¾c and 60¾c. September was a shade higher at 33⅛@33⅜c after ranging between 32¾c and 34¼c. Local receipts were 176 cars.

There was little disposition to trade one way or the other in provisions and prices showed no variations of consequence. The early market was easier on selling of lard by packers, but gradually firmed up later on the strength in grains. September pork closed 7½@10c higher at $16.50. September lard was unchanged at $8.97½ and ribs up 7½c at $9.36.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 350 cars; oats, 170 cars; hogs, 24,000 head.

PITTSBURGHERS PLACED IN FRONT

Signal Honor Accorded Local Singers at the St. Louis Saengerfest.

WERE HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED

Composition of the Great Composer, Stephen C. Foster, "My Old Kentucky Home," Is Encored Repeatedly—Planning Fest for Duquesne Garden.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—When Pittsburghers go abroad their hosts promptly buy maps, look up a spot in the southwestern part of Pennsylvania, and study it long and earnestly. They decide that the Greater Pittsburgh is the one feature of the globe, and take off their hats and do reverence to the people who come from there.

Perhaps that is why this evening the Pittsburgh singing societies were accorded the remarkable recognition of being massed at the front of the stage, almost under the conductor's baton, and they did well. It was largely due to their work that the audience was fairly lifted off its seat when 5,000 voices rendered that famous song of Stephen C. Foster, the Great Pittsburgh composer, "My Old Kentucky Home." Once was not enough for the audience, and again and again the last verse and chorus were given.

At the morning rehearsal Fest Directors Richard, Sterns and Lange warmly complimented the Pittsburghers on the character of their work. At Saturday's meeting of the national executive committee the Pittsburgh delegates will present a new proposition. Heretofore the national saengerfests have been held every three years. This occasionally precipitated them into the midst of a presidential campaign, which meant a poor attendance. Pittsburgh proposes that these feasts of songs shall hereafter be held every four years, thus avoiding political complications.

The Pittsburgh bezirk (or district), now embraces about 20 societies. The new plan is to get busy all over the country and hold annual state saengerfests. If the plan goes through one will be held next year in Duquesne garden, Pittsburgh. After that the fests will rotate between other Pennsylvania cities where the German singers are strong. It is believed that this will add to the local interest, increase the number of societies, and in this way make the quadrennial saengerfests more successful even than they have been in the past.

Ferguson's Confession Not Believed.

The confession of Alexander Ferguson of Turtle Creek that he killed the Turtle Creek chief of police, James McKeag, has raised doubts in the minds of Ferguson's friends and of the district attorney whether Ferguson is sane. This afternoon a delegation of Turtle Creek citizens will call upon District Attorney Haymaker to talk about Ferguson's confession. Ferguson's relatives believe he is insane, while the district attorney is inclined to think he is in search of notoriety.

BIGELOW WILL HAVE TO EXPLAIN

Republicans Will Fight His Salary Revision Ordiance on the Ground of Illegality.

GIVES HIM MUCH POWER

Director Can Appoint as Many Men to Office as He Desires—Former Controllers Never Countenanced Such Freedom—Many New Jobs.

In common council Monday night a fight will be made against the passage of the department of public works' salary revision ordinance in its present shape. M. G. Leslie says that the bill is illegal.

After working for a year a committee of Citizens revised the salaries of the various city employes and had an ordinance embodying its conclusions adopted on April 9. The committeemen announced that the Republicans had kept many people on the payroll who were not needed. In less than two months the Citizens officials asked councils to restore most of the abolished positions and create a number of new ones. In the department of public works the salary increase amounts to $26,277, and 27 new jobs are made. Twenty-two places are created in the department of public safety, increasing the salary of that division $16,860.

Mr. Leslie says that he has no complaint to make about the department of safety increases. In each case the number of men needed, their duties and salaries, is specified. This is in accordance with the charter provision.

"The ordinance for Bigelow's department will have to be explained," said Mr. Leslie. "He has drawn his bill so that councils can have no idea as to how many men he will employ. He simply fixes salaries, but does not state how many men are to be employed. It permits him to employ any number of oilers, water carriers, bricklayers, mechanics, florists, painters, greenhouse men, foremen of street hands, assistant foremen and stable foremen.

"There is also a blanket permission given to name any one from a scrub woman to an expert that he may desire to appoint. No previous controller would permit the employment of men with this freedom. There is a provision for the appointment of four chemists to make an analysis of the city water. Controller John B. Larkin has already refused to pay like salaries.

"To secure money to pay for the additional men an attempt will be made to have money transferred from other appropriations. This method will be objected to."

HARRISBURG, PA., June 18.—(Special.)—The contract to supply the state for the next two years with paper for the printing of public documents, has been awarded to Milton H. Plank of Gettysburg. The state uses about $15,000 worth of paper annually and the bidders protested against Plank, on the ground that he is not a dealer. Plank furnished affidavits denying the charges, and it was decided to give him the contract.

WHAT CAN BE DONE WITH GOOSEBERRIES.

The gooseberry is one of our best-known garden fruits, having been extensively cultivated since the middle ages, when it was favored by emperors as a table dainty, its virtues extolled by such writers as Theocritus and Pliny, and esteemed by all for its agreeable flavor.

Found growing wild as a prickly shrub on the hillsides of Europe, Asia and America, it has, under careful cultivation, been brought to a state of high perfection in flavor as well as size. It thrives best in countries of temperate climate, as it requires cool, moist atmosphere to produce the best fruit; for this reason the English gooseberry is the finest, the berries growing as large as plums.

From the two original varieties have been produced the two kinds known as the hairy and the smooth-skinned. When the berries are green, they are exceedingly tart and only fit to use for jelly or a sauce to serve as a very appetizing relish with cold meats.

When they are fully ripe they contain a large per cent of sugar, more, in fact, than most any other fruit. They are wholesome, and because of the amount of sugar contained when mature, they may be classed with the food-fruits, rather than with the flavor-fruits, as they stand—like grapes—intermediate between the two groups. The acids of gooseberry—citric and malic—are both modified in the ripe berry, by the sugar which is contained to the amount of 6 or 8 per cent, while there is about 1½ per cent of the acids present. Our grandmothers used to preserve a large amount of these berries, as they found them a delightful accompaniment to the roast pork, game and poultry in the winter, and during the season for the ripe fruit many were the ways of serving them fresh-seen form. Unfortunately the recipes for some of these tasty dishes have not been handed down, even in manuscript, and only the memory of their goodness remains at all distinct in our minds.

Gooseberry Souffle.

Put the gooseberries in a double boiler with just enough water to start them, and cook them until well done; sweeten to taste, and press through a sieve. To a pint of the pulp add three well-beaten eggs and when the mixture is cool fold in the whites beaten to a stiff froth; turn into a buttered souffle dish, sprinkle over the top with powdered sugar; place in a moderately hot oven and bake until it cracks open or about three-quarters of an hour. Serve at once from same dish.

Compote of Gooseberries.

Remove stems and blossoms from a quart of large ripe gooseberries, wash well in cold water, drain and put them in a preserving kettle, cover with boiling water and boil a few minutes, then drain off the water. Make a syrup with half a pound of granulated sugar and three-quarters of a cup of water, when it boils clear put in the gooseberries and let boil up once, then take out the berries and put them in a glass dish. Boil the syrup 10 minutes longer, add a little wine and pour over the berries and set away to cool.

Gooseberry Cream.

Clean and wash a quart of ripe gooseberries and put them on to cook with a little white wine, the peel of half a lemon and a small piece of stick cinnamon. When tender press through a sieve. Beat the yolks of six eggs very light with one and one-half cups of sugar, add a gill of orange and lemon juice, mixed, and a pint of the gooseberry pulp. Put into a double boiler and stir and cook until it thickens, remove from the fire and stir in the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Heap in stemmed glasses and set away to cool.

Gooseberry Pudding.

Use green gooseberries for this. First make a suet paste as follows: Chop quarter of a pound of best beef suet very fine, and stir into three cups of flour, which has been sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Mix to a soft paste with cold water—handle as little as possible; roll out like pie paste and line the sides of a pudding dish with it. Put in a quart of green gooseberries topped and stemmed, sprinkling in plenty of sugar and a little chopped, candied ginger root. Add a very little water, put a cover of the paste over it, folding the edges well together, tie the basin up in a cloth and place in a steamer or boiler of water and cook for two or two and a half hours. Serve without sauce.

Gooseberry Fool.

Pick blossoms and stems from a quart of ripe gooseberries; wash and stew them with a little more than a cup of water. When soft enough rub them through a sieve to remove the skins. Add to the pulp a heaping tablespoonful of butter, a cup of sugar and the beaten yolks of three eggs. Cook just a moment to remove raw taste from the eggs, then turn into a glass dish; make a meringue with the whites of the eggs and three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Heap on top and serve very cold.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

Mrs. R. C. H. writes: When convenient, will you please publish a recipe for making lobster bashaw?

Lobster Bashaw.

Cut the boiled lobster meat into dice and put into a saucepan, squeeze the juice of a lemon over it, add a dash of cayenne, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, half a tablespoonful of mushroom catsup and two ounces of butter. Shake the saucepan over the fire until the butter is melted, let get very hot and then serve.

Brown Soup.

Mrs. T. would like a recipe for brown soup. Take a slice of bread five inches square and half an inch thick. Fry a delicate brown in hot fat or butter, drain and then break into small bits. Place in a bowl, add two well-beaten eggs, mix thoroughly, then add gradually a cup of boiling water to which has been added a teaspoonful of beef extract. Season with salt and pepper and serve at once.

A Feast for the Eye the Palate and the Reason

There is No More Natural and Charming Combination than

SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT

AND THE FRUITS OF THE SEASON

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit contains all the nutritive elements necessary to perfectly nourish man, and combined with any fruit, fresh or canned, is a delightful and healthful combination.

Only the most luxuriant kernels of the finest wheat are used in the making of Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit. The wheat is first thoroughly cleaned and all the light kernels are removed, then it is washed in sterilized water and thoroughly cooked, after which it is spun into thousands of little shreds, each shred containing thousands of little pores which make it light and porous without the use of yeast, baking powder or chemicals of any kind, and naturally short without the use of fats. The shreds are then cut into biscuit and twice cooked, making them deliciously crisp, which compels thorough mastication and insures perfect digestion and a sweet, clean stomach.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is the natural food because it IS THE MOST POROUS OF ALL FOODS and presents greatest surface for the action of digestive fluids. These fluids are drawn by absorption into every part of the shreds, rendering the food immediately assimilable.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit contains a food property to upbuild each and every element of the depleted body. Foods made of part of the wheat, such as white flour bread, cannot do this and the ferment contained in them results in a sour mass upon the stomach.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit purifies the digestive tract. Constipation is unknown to those who use it properly and regularly. It can be prepared in so many tempting ways that the fickle appetite is always tempted by its goodness and the body quickly responds to its all-nourishing force.

CUT OUT THIS RECIPE.

1 quart of washed and picked berries; crush ⅗ of them; add ¾ of a cup of sugar and ½ cup of ice-water; chill for half an hour. With sharp pointed knife cut centers from 6 Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit, making oblong baskets. Fill with the crushed berries and let the syrup saturate biscuit. Cover top with remaining whole berries and sprinkle with sugar. Serve with sweet cream. Any fresh fruit may be used in same way.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is made in the only hygienic and scientific food laboratory in the world. Sun-flooded through 30,000 lights of glass, finished in white enamel, marble and mosaic, and ventilated with filtered and tempered air, this laboratory is the veritable home of purity—a place where contamination cannot occur.

The above facts make Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit the most perfect food known to man.
